7,000 Gasp In Horror At Detroit

2 Of Great Circus Troupe Killed In Fall During Act

DETROIT (AP) — Two members of the famed Wallendas family troupe were killed Tuesday night when three of the performers fell while doing their dizzying act on a circus high wire.

A crowd of 7,000 children and adults gasped in horror as the three men plummeted from the slender wire.

Three other male performers saved themselves and the only woman in the act by clinging to the swaying wire about 40 feet above a concrete coliseum floor.

Mario Wallenda, 22 also fell. His condition was described as "very critical" by a physician.

Dieter's sister, Jana, 17, also was injured. Others of the troupe, clinging to the wire, caught her as she fell.

Those who managed to grab the wire and hold on were Herman Wallenda, 60, Karl Wallenda, 57, and Gunther Wallenda, 42, descendants in a family which has kept the troupe's name before the public for nearly 90 years.

They caught Miss Schepp and then dropped her into an improvised net.

The injured were rushed to nearby Highland Park General hospital, where Faughnan was dead of a skull fracture. Schepp died early today.

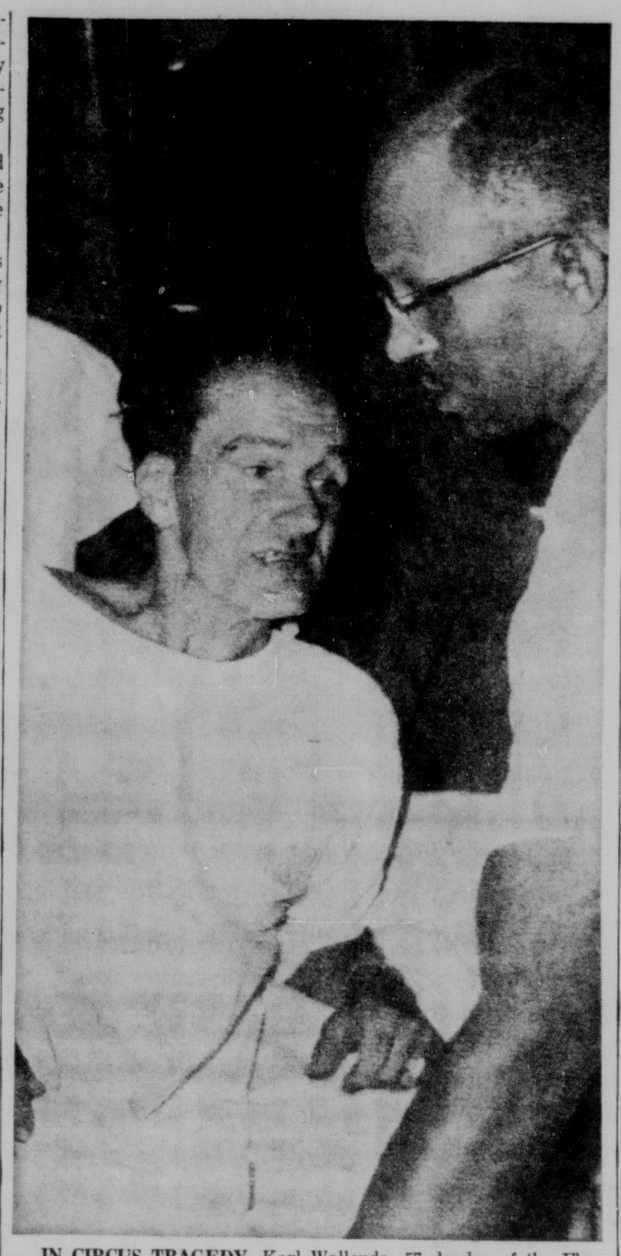

The tragedy which marred a long and illustrious performing history came during the Shrine circus at the Michigan State fairgrounds Coliseum.

Faughnan was making his debut with the Wallendas.

The four younger men formed the base of a pyramid with their feet on the high wire. Karl and Herman Wallenda were standing on long rods which ran along the younger men's shoulders. Miss

Kennedy Sends Tough Farm Plan To Congress

De Gaulle, Rebels Seen Near Accord

Paris Buzzes With Cease-Fire Report, Algeria Freedom

PARIS (AP)— France's capital buzzed today with reports that President Charles de Gaulle's government and the Algerian rebels are near agreement — or have reached one—on a cease-fire and independence in the war-torn North African territory.

The Geneva correspondent of the Belgian radio, quoting an authoritative North African source, said complete agreement on an Algerian settlement had been reached at a secret meeting in Vevey, Switzerland.

Paris newspapers Tuesday night carried prominent stories that an agreement was near, and various sources in Paris had the impression crucial developments on Algeria would come this week.

There was no official confirmation of the various peace agreement reports, and none was expected from French officials before Monday night. If agreement has been reached, President de Gaulle presumably will announce it in a radio-TV speech scheduled then.

The French army rolled strong detachments of troops and armored cars into the center of Algiers Tuesday night "for any eventuality," army sources said. The troop reinforcements were withdrawn this morning, but the show of strength obviously was aimed at the right-wing European settlers in the city and their extremist Secret Army Organization waging a campaign of terrorism to keep Algeria French. Announcement of an accord with the rebel National Liberation Front (NFL) is certain to infuriate Algeria's European population, and a general uprising is a possibility.

To guard against any attempt at a putsch in Paris itself the government announced 30 squadrons of mobile gendarmes totaling more than 4,000 men, had been placed in a police "strategic reserve" in the Paris region.

On the rebel side, Foreign Minister Saad Dalhab left Morocco four days ago and has not yet been reported in Tunis. This could mean that Dalhab, one of the FLN negotiators, had stopped in Switzerland for a decisive meeting with French representatives.

The Belgian radio and the papers said a provisional administration of French and Algerians would be installed for the transitional period and that the French army would remain on the scene, chiefly to prevent an uprising by the right-wing European extremists and their secret army.

Formally Adopt Final Report

Inter-American Ministers Vote To Oust Cuba Regime

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay (AP) — Inter-American foreign ministers formally adopted a final report today on their resolutions against Cuban communism, including a vote for ouster of Fidel Castro's Red regime by the Organization of American States.

Cubans were absent from the plenary meeting and the report was approved 20-0. President Osvaldo Dorticos and his aides were holding a news conference elsewhere as representatives of the rest of the nations in the OAS convened.

Though Secretary of State Dean Rusk's bid for unanimity on the ouster issue failed earlier today, the United States had mustered the necessary two-thirds majority for the vote directing the Castro regime's speedy expulsion from the councils of the inter-American family.

The biggest and most powerful nations in Latin America jarred the United States by refusing to vote for the expulsion "without delay" of the Castro government from the Organization of American States and its various agencies. The vote was 14-1, with Cuba voting no and the go-slow bloc of Brazil, Argentina, Chile, Mexico, Bolivia and Ecuador abstaining.

The consensus at this hemispheric foreign ministers' conference was that the six nations had given the Kennedy administration's Latin-American policy a severe blow. The six contended that there presently exists no legal basis for expulsion of an OAS member and wanted to delay until such a legal basis could be created by amendment of the OAS treaty.

The blow was softened somewhat when the United States' Latin-American allies solidly adopted a ringing declaration that Cuba's Marxist-Leninist government is incompatible with the inter-American system and Cuba's alignment with the Soviet bloc breaks hemispheric unity.

The foreign ministers, with the exception of Cuba, also lined up unanimously with the United States on three other resolutions that provided:

1. The most stinging denunciation of Communist intrusion in the Western world ever adopted by any inter-American body.

2. The expulsion of Cuba from the Inter-American Defense Board. This was little more than a formality since the Castro government has been barred from the board's sensitive deliberations for the last 10 months.

3. A ringing endorsement of President Kennedy's Alliance for Progress program. The Latin Americans called the program the foundation for their nations' economic and social development on a self-help basis and the best weapon with which to combat communism and Castroite influences.

An embargo on arms trade between Cuba and the OAS members was carried 16-1, with Cuba voting no and Brazil, Chile, Ecuador and Bolivia abstaining. The resolution also directs the OAS Council to study the possibility of extending the embargo to other

$5 Billion Cut Slated In Program

Other Aims Are To Hike Income And Cut Surpluses

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy sent a tough new farm program to Congress today which would give the nation's farmers this choice: accept much tighter production controls on surplus products or face a cut-off of most federal price supports and other aid.

Kennedy said in a special message that his proposals are designed to slice an estimated $5 billion off farm programs over the next four years. The programs otherwise would cost more than $12 billion during that period.

Additional aims are to boost farm income and reduce costly farm surpluses now in government hands, he said.

Farmers growing wheat, corn, oats, barley and sorghum grains would lose all price supports if they did not go along with acreage allotments and marketing quotas set under the new program. In addition, the government would reserve the right to dump huge amounts of these surplus grains on the markets. Under most conditions this would depress prices.

Marketing quotas would be set on all dairymen for the first time if the program is approved.

The new Kennedy program is the toughest proposed by a president since federal controls were introduced into agriculture in the 1930s.

In the past farmers were asked to cut production of surplus items or perhaps lose some of their price supports. Now it's a case of cut surplus production or get practically no aid.

The more rigid controls highlighted what Kennedy described as his "A B C D" farm program for the 1960s — abundance, balance, conservation and development.

He said the program is built around maximum use of the nation's food abundance while balancing future production with needs, conserving farm resources and developing low-income rural areas.

The tigher controls would be applied, in the beginning, to the three big surplus products—wheat, feed grains and dairy products. They would require approval by at least two-thirds of the producers voting in three separate referendums.

Briefly, here are the programs proposed for these products:

Wheat — Reduction of possibly as much as 20 per cent in the years immediately ahead in acreage allotments and marketing quotas from the 1961 level. Growers will get a somewhat higher price support for grain used for food in the domestic market and a lower one for wheat sold for export. All wheat now is under the same support level.

Should the program be rejected, the government would withdraw all supports and reserve the right to dump up to 200 million bushels of its surplus grain on markets. The government could, if it saw fit, make payments on

6 At Crucible Hurt In Unit Roof Collapse

One Hospitalized, Others Are Burned But Resume Jobs

One man was hospitalized for observation and five others received slight burns when the roof collapsed on No. 3 open hearth furnace at the Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co. Tuesday at 12:35 p. m., the company reported.

Paul Gray of Beaver R. D. 2, Louis DiCostro and John Ferragotti, both of Industry R. D. 1, Harry Szatowski of Hookstown R. D. 1 and John Speer of Hookstown, all bricklayers, received minor scatter burns. They returned to work following treatment at the plant hospital.

Phillips fell to the floor of the charging machine cab, striking his back on a brace, and the Crucible physician sent him to Rochester General Hospital for observation.

The roof collapse is believed to have been caused by an explosion in the molten metal, which occurred when wet ore was charged.

Midland Man One Of 2 Hurt In Skid Crash

A Midland man and a Pennsylvania woman were injured in a near head-on collision early today on Route 30 near Chester and both are in "fair" condition in City Hospital.

The crash a mile east of Chester involved the east-bound sedan of Robert Cavalier, 20, of Brownsville, and the west-bound Studebaker Lark of John Valenta, 24, of 717 Penn Ave., Midland.

Hancock County sheriff's deputies said a report on the mishap was incomplete, but the investigation determined that Valenta's vehicle slid on ice across the center lane into Cavalier's car and then struck guardrails.

Valenta was thrown from his car and was found 30 feet over an embankment, deputies added.

Mrs. Theresa Fanara, 57, of Brownsville, riding in the front seat of her son's-in-law car, suffered a head injury, chest and left knee injury, and abrasions and contusions of the forehead. The Fayette County driver apparently escaped unhurt.

Deputies reported both vehicles were demolished in the crash at 1:45 a. m. The investigation is continuing.

Moderation's Due Thursday In Cold Wave

But Mercury May Go Near Zero Again By Early Morning

The cold wave will grip the Tri-State area again tonight but there will be some moderation Thursday, according to the Ohio weatherman, who also promised occasional light snow tomorrow.

The mercury, which began falling Tuesday morning as a fast cold front moved into the Ohio Valley, dropped the temperature to 4 above zero in the city early today and way below zero in rural areas.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, recorded an official low of 8 below last night. But he had warming comment: this may be the last cold wave of winter!

Temperatures seemed more cold than the thermometer indicated because yesterday morning the city had a 38 reading. It fell 10 degrees within an hour and had dropped to 17 by 3 p. m., then declined rapidly.

Zero to 8 above had been forecast last night and tonight's range will be zero to 5 above. The day's high may not go above 14 despite a bright sun.

The quick cold yesterday, accompanied by blizzard-like snow squalls, soon created hazardous driving conditions but accidents were few. Only a few flurries were forecast for today.

Queried today on complaints that the ashing work yesterday was not adequate and some streets were missed entirely, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen pointed out that the cinders "are in short supply" for the city "and

Mothers March 'On' Despite Severe Cold

The cold wave may bring near zero weather again tonight but that will not deter district mothers planning the home solicitation in the March of Dimes.

Jack Hales, city chairman, said the Mothers March will go ahead as scheduled. Mrs. Dorothy Crooks is chairman of the house-to-house canvass, slated to begin after 5 p. m.

Glenn Flight Delayed Now Until Feb. 13

Troubles In Atlas Rocket Result In New Postponement

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —John H. Glenn Jr. now must wait at least 13 more days for his historic date with the heavens because of troubles with the Atlas rocket which is to loft him into orbit around the earth.

The problem turned up Tuesday during a fueling test of the Atlas, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the oft-postponed launching was off until Tuesday, Feb. 13 at the earliest.

High-powered kerosene was being poured into the rocket as preparations were under way to start the final two-day countdown aimed at a Thursday morning launching. A leak developed in the fueling system and the kerosene spilled over onto vital parts of the missile.

Glenn, according to a NASA spokesman, accepted the sixth postponement of the launching with a shrug.

Glenn was quoted as saying, "Sure, I'm disappointed, but this is a complicated business. I don't think we should fly until all elements of the mission are ready. When we have completed all our tests satisfactorily then we'll go."

The 40-year-old Marine lieutenant colonel planned to take a few days off to visit his wife Annie and two teen-age children in Arlington, Va.

The Atlas trouble is believed to be the same which caused a four-day postponement last week of the Ranger 3 moon shot.

Cadiz Area Farmer To Ask Senate Post

Boyd Wallace, Cadiz area farmer, has announced he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator for the 20th-22nd District in the May 8 primary.

Wallace has been active in Grange and Farm Bureau programs, and has appeared in state legislative hearings on tax, strip mine and school foundation matters.

Callie Tsapis To Run Again For Delegate

Miss Callie Tsapis, Hancock County's member of the House of Delegates, today entered the May 8 primary as a Democratic candidate seeking her third consecutive two-year term in the legislative body.

She received a rousing reception in the House Monday afternoon when she arrived in time for the final week of the special session of the West Virginia State Legislature.

Miss Tsapis, completing her second term, had gone to Europe last November with her mother for a tour of islands in the Aegean Sea and in Europe. Her mother returned home last month but the delegate went on to Paris with some friends.

She suffered a stomach ailment in Paris and when she recovered she flew to London where she again became ill and required medical treatment for two weeks.

She arrived in Weirton Sunday night and was in Charleston Monday morning. She entered the county primary in sending her affidavit to the Circuit Court clerk's office in New Cumberland.

Miss Tsapis is the first candidate seeking nomination to the House of Delegates post. She has been following developments very closely in a delegate reapportionment bill under study in the House. The new bill would give Hancock and two other counties extra delegates, and three other

Heavy Damage Seen In Tire Plant Blaze

WEST BRIDGEWATER—Damage is expected to run high in the fire that destroyed 6,000 to 7,000 tires at The Cove tire repair shop on Route 51 in West Bridgewater Tuesday evening.

The shop stocked the tires plus equipment for retreading. The fire began about 7:30 p. m. in a heap of cardboard boxes at the rear and spread through the building, authorities said. The cause is not known.

Flames reached as high as 100 feet and West Bridgewater firemen and two trucks were at the scene several hours.

The Cove also operates a restaurant and a tire shop about a half mile away on Route 51.

New Political Fires Stoked By President

Partisan Fight Due In Congress Over His Farm Proposals

Even before Kennedy's farm message formally reached Capitol Hill today there were clear signs that a partisan uproar over his proposals would swell the political clangor surrounding his entire 1962 program.

Republicans were poised to blast what they regard as a something-for-everybody format. Democrats were sharply divided on it and none could forecast the final form in which any legislation would be passed.

If Kennedy was not secretly enjoying the political clatter, he at least was doing nothing to quiet it.

With obvious White House approval, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson aimed at the Senate Finance Committee a demand that it hold

City To Seek Overpass At Deadend

Answering complaints from the Sunnyside area that access was cut off when W. 9th St. was made a deadend at Chestnut St. because of the freeway construction, the city will initiate a plan to construct a ramp over the new highway and ask the state and federal governments to share in the cost.

That promise was given a group of about 30 Sunnyside residents who attended an hour-long meeting at City Hall Tuesday afternoon with municipal and State Highway Department officials to air their complaints arising out of the freeway project, particularly that access to the residential area has been hampered greatly.

MAYOR BERT H. Goodballet told the irate residents the administration will request that Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, the consulting engineering firm that prepared the freeway plan under contract with the city, draft a proposal for construction of a ramp that will connect the two deadend sections of W. 9th St.

The engineering firm's proposal will be presented to the State Highway Department, which will be asked to seek financial aid from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, he said. Although a small percentage of local participation is included in the freeway project, most of the cost is being borne by the state and the federal government.

"I'm not going to say that this is the final answer, but at least it's an approach to the problem," the mayor told the group. "It will show you people that we're trying to help you, instead of sitting quietly and doing nothing."

The stage was set for yesterday's session when a Sunnyside delegation appeared before Council about three weeks ago, complaining of lack of access, inadequate sidewalks through the construction area, lack of street lighting and many other things.

The delegation presented a petition addressed to the State Highway Department, requesting that an overhead ramp or an underpass be built to link up the deadend sections of W. 9th to provide access for pedestrians or vehicles, or both.

AS AN outgrowth of that meeting, McKenna agreed to come to East Liverpool to listen to the citizens' complaints.

The four-lane path of the freeway, traveling through West End, bisects at right angles the course of W. 9th St., which formerly was a through street linking Dresden Ave. and Lisbon St. The fact the freeway cuts a wide swath through West End and Sunnyside led to

Committeeman Seeks New Republican Term

Robert M. Bell of Steubenville, Republican state central committeeman of the 18th Congressional District, today formally announced he will seek re-election in the May 8 primary.

Bell has served as committeeman since 1960, having been elected to the post to succeed Carl A. Weinman, now a federal judge.

Bell is a former member of Steubenville City Council, having served 24 years. He had been listed as a candidate for another term in previous announcements concerning district contests.

Edwin Copeland, U. S. weather observer at Millport, recorded an official low of 8 below last night. But he had warming comment: this may be the last cold wave of winter!

Temperatures seemed more cold than the thermometer indicated because yesterday morning the city had a 38 reading. It fell 10 degrees within an hour and had dropped to 17 by 3 p. m., then declined rapidly.

Zero to 8 above had been forecast last night and tonight's range will be zero to 5 above. The day's high may not go above 14 despite a bright sun.

The quick cold yesterday, accompanied by blizzard-like snow squalls, soon created hazardous driving conditions but accidents were few. Only a few flurries were forecast for today.

Queried today on complaints that the ashing work yesterday was not adequate and some streets were missed entirely, Safety - Service Director Robert Owen pointed out that the cinders "are in short supply" for the city "and

Mothers March 'On' Despite Severe Cold

The cold wave may bring near zero weather again tonight but that will not deter district mothers planning the home solicitation in the March of Dimes.

Jack Hales, city chairman, said the Mothers March will go ahead as scheduled. Mrs. Dorothy Crooks is chairman of the house-to-house canvass, slated to begin after 5 p. m.

Glenn Flight Delayed Now Until Feb. 13

Troubles In Atlas Rocket Result In New Postponement

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —John H. Glenn Jr. now must wait at least 13 more days for his historic date with the heavens because of troubles with the Atlas rocket which is to loft him into orbit around the earth.

The problem turned up Tuesday during a fueling test of the Atlas, and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced the oft-postponed launching was off until Tuesday, Feb. 13 at the earliest.

High-powered kerosene was being poured into the rocket as preparations were under way to start the final two-day countdown aimed at a Thursday morning launching. A leak developed in the fueling system and the kerosene spilled over onto vital parts of the missile.

Glenn, according to a NASA spokesman, accepted the sixth postponement of the launching with a shrug.

Glenn was quoted as saying, "Sure, I'm disappointed, but this is a complicated business. I don't think we should fly until all elements of the mission are ready. When we have completed all our tests satisfactorily then we'll go."

The 40-year-old Marine lieutenant colonel planned to take a few days off to visit his wife Annie and two teen-age children in Arlington, Va.

The Atlas trouble is believed to be the same which caused a four-day postponement last week of the Ranger 3 moon shot.

Cadiz Area Farmer To Ask Senate Post

Boyd Wallace, Cadiz area farmer, has announced he will be a candidate for the Republican nomination for state senator for the 20th-22nd District in the May 8 primary.

Wallace has been active in Grange and Farm Bureau programs, and has appeared in state legislative hearings on tax, strip mine and school foundation matters.

Callie Tsapis To Run Again For Delegate

Miss Callie Tsapis, Hancock County's member of the House of Delegates, today entered the May 8 primary as a Democratic candidate seeking her third consecutive two-year term in the legislative body.

She received a rousing reception in the House Monday afternoon when she arrived in time for the final week of the special session of the West Virginia State Legislature.

Miss Tsapis, completing her second term, had gone to Europe last November with her mother for a tour of islands in the Aegean Sea and in Europe. Her mother returned home last month but the delegate went on to Paris with some friends.

She suffered a stomach ailment in Paris and when she recovered she flew to London where she again became ill and required medical treatment for two weeks.

She arrived in Weirton Sunday night and was in Charleston Monday morning. She entered the county primary in sending her affidavit to the Circuit Court clerk's office in New Cumberland.

Miss Tsapis is the first candidate seeking nomination to the House of Delegates post. She has been following developments very closely in a delegate reapportionment bill under study in the House. The new bill would give Hancock and two other counties extra delegates, and three other

WEST BRIDGEWATER—Damage is expected to run high in the fire that destroyed 6,000 to 7,000 tires at The Cove tire repair shop on Route 51 in West Bridgewater Tuesday evening.

The shop stocked the tires plus equipment for retreading. The fire began about 7:30 p. m. in a heap of cardboard boxes at the rear and spread through the building, authorities said. The cause is not known.

Flames reached as high as 100 feet and West Bridgewater firemen and two trucks were at the scene several hours.

New Political Fires Stoked By President

Even before Kennedy's farm message formally reached Capitol Hill today there were clear signs that a partisan uproar over his proposals would swell the political clangor surrounding his entire 1962 program.

Republicans were poised to blast what they regard as a something-for-everybody format. Democrats were sharply divided on it and none could forecast the final form in which any legislation would be passed.

If Kennedy was not secretly enjoying the political clatter, he at least was doing nothing to quiet it.

With obvious White House approval, Sen. Clinton P. Anderson aimed at the Senate Finance Committee a demand that it hold

City To Seek Overpass At Deadend

Answering complaints from the Sunnyside area that access was cut off when W. 9th St. was made a deadend at Chestnut St. because of the freeway construction, the city will initiate a plan to construct a ramp over the new highway and ask the state and federal governments to share in the cost.

That promise was given a group of about 30 Sunnyside residents who attended an hour-long meeting at City Hall Tuesday afternoon with municipal and State Highway Department officials to air their complaints arising out of the freeway project, particularly that access to the residential area has been hampered greatly.

MAYOR BERT H. Goodballet told the irate residents the administration will request that Michael Baker Jr., Inc., of Rochester, the consulting engineering firm that prepared the freeway plan under contract with the city, draft a proposal for construction of a ramp that will connect the two deadend sections of W. 9th St.

The engineering firm's proposal will be presented to the State Highway Department, which will be asked to seek financial aid from the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, he said. Although a small percentage of local participation is included in the freeway project, most of the cost is being borne by the state and the federal government.

"I'm not going to say that this is the final answer, but at least it's an approach to the problem," the mayor told the group. "It will show you people that we're trying to help you, instead of sitting quietly and doing nothing."

The stage was set for yesterday's session when a Sunnyside delegation appeared before Council about three weeks ago, complaining of lack of access, inadequate sidewalks through the construction area, lack of street lighting and many other things.

The delegation presented a petition addressed to the State Highway Department, requesting that an overhead ramp or an underpass be built to link up the deadend sections of W. 9th to provide access for pedestrians or vehicles, or both.

AS AN outgrowth of that meeting, McKenna agreed to come to East Liverpool to listen to the citizens' complaints.

The four-lane path of the freeway, traveling through West End, bisects at right angles the course of W. 9th St., which formerly was a through street linking Dresden Ave. and Lisbon St. The fact the freeway cuts a wide swath through West End and Sunnyside led to

Committeeman Seeks New Republican Term

Robert M. Bell of Steubenville, Republican state central committeeman of the 18th Congressional District, today formally announced he will seek re-election in the May 8 primary.

Bell has served as committeeman since 1960, having been elected to the post to succeed Carl A. Weinman, now a federal judge.

Bell is a former member of Steubenville City Council, having served 24 years. He had been listed as a candidate for another term in previous announcements concerning district contests.

West Virginia Plans To Junk U.S.-Backed Plan

CHARLESTON (AP) — West Virginia's federally - backed "Work for Your Welfare Check" plan is being junked as a poor answer to the state's economic problems, State Welfare Commissioner W. Bernard Smith said Tuesday.

The state move possibly spells—or coincides with — the end of President Kennedy's federal aid to dependent children of the unemployed.

Smith, in Washington this week to confer with federal welfare officials, said he recommended to Welfare Secretary Ribicoff that Congress substitute expansion of job retraining and job producing programs for the present grants to unemployed family heads.

The present program — which grants up to $165 a month to able-bodied unemployed fathers and assigns them to state work—hasn't solved any long-range problems. It has put money into the state's economy, but some 62,000 West Virginians remained unemployed this month.

"Nobody ever thought ADCU (Aid to Dependent Children of the Unemployed) would solve the unemployment problem," the commissioner said. "But when you can't get industry, you get money from any source you can."

Smith said his main purpose in recommending the program to the Legislature last year was to get money into the economy."

At present, it seems that ADCU may be on the way out, both here and in Washington.

Feeding Talks Set For Sheep Producers

LISBON — Area sheep producers may attend a nutrition meeting to be held Thursday at 1:30 p. m. at the Carrollton livestock auction barn, located north of Carrollton, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

Dr. Jack Cline and Ralph Grimshaw, both of the Animal Science Department at Ohio State University, will discuss new developments in feeding ewes and lambs.

The meeting is being conducted by the Co-operative Extension Service and is open to the public, Myers said.

Hotel Gets Soaking As Tank Valve Snaps

CLEVELAND (AP)—Hotel Westlake in suburban Rocky River got a good soaking Tuesday—5,000 gallons of water.

The hotel still is recuperating from a $500,000 fire a week ago. A valve in a rooftop water tank broke and poured the water over the roof. The flood moved down into the building through an opening left by the blaze last Thursday.

"This just added to an already present problem," said hotel manager Andrew Degerman. High pressure vacuums were used to dry out 14 suites which were doused.

Late Start In Latin America

As recently as the Eisenhower administration, the federal government was being criticized for neglecting Latin America.

The late John Foster Dulles made no secret of his overriding interest in Europe and Asia. He seemed to begrudge the relatively slight attention he paid to Latin Americans.

Even today, despite growing interest, it is only with difficulty that the United States feels a sense of involvement in the problems of Latin America.

Castroism in Cuba has become a bogey. The Organization of American States and the Kennedy administration's multi-billion-dollar Alliance for Progress are becoming familiar talking points. It is possible to start an argument at the drop of a hint that the United States will be as preoccupied with Latin America as Europeans expect to be preoccupied with Africa in the next few generations.

But there is still a good deal of the attitude of Mr. Dulles among us — still a good deal of feeling that the Alliance for Progress is just another scheme for milking U. S. taxpayers of wealth that will be frittered away on ungrateful people who don't love us for ourselves but only for our money.

THERE IS more to it than this.

Latin Americans, however misguided they may be in some instances, are looking for social justice. They are prime prospects for the eager beavers of 20th century revolution, the Communists.

Communists have publicized themselves throughout the world as seekers of social justice, taking ruthless advantage of the fact it rarely was found under the auspices of the old regimes.

Their technique has been demonstrated in the takeover of Cuba, where the search for social justice has been dead-ended by agents of Communism. There is even less social justice under Castro than there was under Fulgencio Batista.

The United States is trying to thwart Communist takeovers in Latin America — a 20th century application of the principles of the Monroe Doctrine of the 19th century. It is trying to make the New World safe from ideological colonization by the Old World.

IT WILL MEET with rebuff and frustraiotn. It will be insulted and betrayed. There will be no lack of grounds for criticism.

But if it is understood that the alternative to an imperfect program could be endless repetition in Latin America of the Cuban Communist coup, the criticism might be constructive.

The hemispheric meeting of foreign ministers in Punta del Este, Uruguay, has been reported as if it were a disappointment to the United States, which didn't get everything it wanted in the way of a strong position against Cuba.

That is the problem — to win more sympathy for the United States in a part of the New World which often has been given reason to feel neglected and sometimes has been given reason to feel hostile.

Facts, Figures

As chairman of the Finance Committee, Councilman George E. Willshaw laid it on the line Monday night in presenting facts and figures on the municipality's financial outlook.

The matter has been called to the people's attention before, but Mr. Willshaw's comprehensive report made it clearer than ever that crippling cutbacks will be necessary unless more operating revenue is forthcoming.

It's no secret that the return of the recently revoked city income tax seems the fairest solution to the problem. With complete reports like those of Mr. Willshaw and with a clearcut accounting of the money yielded from time to time, there is reason to believe that a sound case could be made for the tax were it given the opportunity to function for a reasonable period of time.

It's quite likely Mr. Willshaw had such a step in mind when he outlined the fiscal picture. Regardless, it appears to be the only logical answer to the city's money needs at this time.

No One Did It Better

Don't try to explain Fritz Kreisler to someone too young to have heard him play on the concert stage. Your superlatives will be wasted.

Recordings of his music will confirm that he was a masterful performer. Pictures of him taken in the prime of his life will attest to his manliness and dignity.

But it was the whole man, the whole audience, the setting, the mood, the music, the applause and the feelings evoked that made a Kreisler concert memorable — so memorable that his death at the age of 87 brings back vivid recollections of his showmanship - musicianship for thousands.

The man lived longer than the artist who brought fame to the man. The Kreisler touch was gone. The outgoing spirit had gone too; he is reported to have grown bit ter during his declining years. This happens often. The man goes on living after the reason for his being alive had died. It is just a little more poignant when the man has been glamorous.

What can be remembered, fortunately, is the hushed audience as the master violinist started his concert, his flawless performance and the unstinting applause when it was over. No one did it better than Fritz Kreisler.

All Is Not Lost

A 16- year-old youth involved in burglaries and home entering; two 18-year-olds facing hearings in a store theft and an auto case; another 18-year-old awaiting a hearing on a charge of auto theft; a 19-year-old indicted in connection with malicious destruction of a cigaret machine.

These were among the stories carried in the news columns of Tuesday's Review. They don't make pleasant reading when one stops to consider the heartaches involved.

The best that can be hoped is that the youngsters involved will heed whatever punishment may be theirs, profit by their mistakes and emerge as better citizens as the result. It won't be easy. But with the proper guidance and with a readjusted outlook on life, there's no reason why it can't take place.

Up Above The World So High

Twinkle, twinkle, little star;
How I wonder what you are,
Up above the world so high,
Like a diamond in the sky.

Remember this nursery rhyme from your childhood? How antiquated it sounds as the result of recent scientific developments.

When Ranger 3—the moon-shot—missed its mark, it joined an assortment of junk that will be orbiting in the universe for eternity. Thus the scientists have answered Mother Goose's question: That little "star" is a $7 million dollar experiment that went astray.

While we're on the subject, perhaps another nursery rhyme will need revising one day. . . The one about the cow jumping over the moon.

Maybe in another generation or two, cows not only will be jumping over the moon but stopping there occasionally to graze.

Well, as columnist Earl Wilson said after the Russians lofted the first Sputnik, "There's a new moon out tonight. I hope it's ours."

The Once Over

If Uncle Sam is to charge a nickel for a postage stamp he should give more for the money, perhaps hi-fi music, glamour dolls in stamp-windows and special days when famous Hollywood stars will autograph stamps. Postmasters may have to follow pattern set by experts in salesmanship when combating customer resistance. The "friendly" touch used by banks could boost stamp sales. For instance:

"When you are in the market for a good postage stamp what do you look for? Cheeriness, congeniality and general warmth, of course. As you approach a post office you will want your nickel-stamp from friendly postmasters and genial clerks who make you feel at home, ask you to pull up a chair and invite you to state your correspondence problems. Visit your friendly post office today."

Just now they honor historic events, inventors like Tom Edison and Alexander Bell, pioneers, presidents, commerce and the arts. But at a nickel each, stamps must have wider appeal. Out with Fulton's first steamboat, Sutter's Creek, Mount Rushmore and General Fremont! Let's have the following:

1. The Salute to Liz Taylor Five-Center.
2. Jane Mansfield Torso Series.
3. Marilyn Monroe Birthday Special.
4. The triple Threat Juliet Prowse, Jennifer Jones, Gina Lollabrigida Testimonial Stamp.
5. Commemorative Shubert-Runway Stamp.
6. Gypsy Rose Lee Anniversary.

It may take more to drag in stamp buyers and we repeat our suggestion that every post office have a door prize. Why not a "Lucky Letter-Writer Month" in which a stamp with a certain number on it would win an auto, a mink coat or a trip to Miami, Las Vegas or Hawaii?

Postage stamps were once cheap (who remembers the one-two center and the ten-cent special delivery?) but they have gone up steadily. Letter writing can become adventure in economic courage.

Postmaster general might try airwave commercial featuring photogenic postmasters making appeal "How long since you have written mother?" "Isn't someone awaiting a letter from you?" etc.

HEARSE USED BY UNDERTAKER to take payroll to bank was held up and robbed. This is like florist taking receipts to bank, wrapped in a floral blanket.

Quite A Nut To Crack

Reuther Sets Organizing Drive

By Victor Riesel

That redhead, Walter Reuther, will blow no bugles, beat no drums, release no deluge of barbed statements harpooning mass industry. Nor will he dispatch flying squads across the South.

Victor Riesel

It is 25 years since his march on Detroit's industrial fortress—25 years since the sit-ins, 25 years since an Army major, commanding troops sent in to maintain order, admiringly told him inside a sat-in plant that, with Reuther's sense of strategy, the military could use him.

What Reuther plans these days will be quieter, subtler, more dramatic than melodramatic. He has been named chairman of labor's new national organizing division.

Soon he will launch his organizing drive across the land, mostly in the North, not broadside, but with strategic target areas in mind. He hopes for hundreds of thousands of recruits. He is practical enough to realize he may wind up with a corporal's guard.

HIS MILITANCY has not mellowed. The targets have narrowed. There no longer are millions of unskilled to rally in mass throngs in the steel and auto belts of the land. There are, he has told colleagues in the last few weeks, hundreds of thousands of nonunion white collar workers.

In one auto firm alone, there are some 90,000 unorganized office and technical workers he considers eligible for membership in his United Auto Workers. Elsewhere there are hundreds of thousands more in his industry alone. He will reach for them. But he is not quite certain how.

Uncertainty does not come from lack of practice, but from realism. He has been helping financially and strategically the 40,000 members of the New York City American Federation of Teachers which has just won the right to bargain with the big town. He was there two weeks ago. He will help them fight for an unprecedented contract.

From New York he went on to Washington. There he talked publicly and privately with his colleagues in what the labor people call the Industrial Union Dept. of the AFL-CIO. They met last Tuesday and Wednesday night. They heard him say he and they will launch the drive regardless of what the rest of labor does.

THEY TALKED, not in the bravado challenge of John Lewis' era, of invading the South. They talked of five possible target areas.

They spoke of going into California — especially the big industrial belts around Los Angeles and toward the Mexican line.

They spoke of the "electronic" circle in the suburbs of Boston. They analyzed what they could do successfully in the big electronic and aircraft plants — such as Grumman — in the Long Island suburb of New York City.

They took a good look at the figures and layout of the plants around Chicago's, industrial belt. They analyzed the heavily industrialized state of New Jersey, where their friend Gov. Hughes has just taken office.

They mentioned the "Philadelphia Plan" — something they referred to as a concentration of cooperating unions zeroing in on a plant or several plants.

They will need money and organizers. Reuther thought they could create a pool of skilled organizers. Under his plan the other unions would peel off some of their field men and make them available to the central organizing division.

UNIONS WOULD then peacefully discuss which union eventually would get a newly organized plant, instead of competing among themselves for the membership. The strategy is, first get the membership. They talked of the feud between the former CIO unions and the old craft — construction — unions.

They heard of a private, 4-man peace meeting called by George Meany on Wednesday in his office at the national AFL-CIO headquarters.

The AFL-CIO president was there. So was Neil Haggerty, the man who came out of California to lead the 3.5 million members of the construction and building unions. There was peacemaker Al Hayes, leader of the million-member machinists union, and Walter Reuther, of course. They were cordial. They left believing their lawyers could write a pact, an agreement on goals which would end the feud which many predicted would end the AFL-CIO.

Reuther hasn't mellowed. His militancy now is tempered by realism. He'll go to the mid-winter AFL-CIO high command session in Bal Harbour late in February and urge the other union chiefs to join with him. Some will. Some won't. But Walter Reuther is on the march again.

No bugles this time. He wants results. Time for bugles later.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—An auto owned by W. H. Anderson of Dorothy St. was stolen from his garage.

Elmer E. Conley, Chester councilman and streetcar man, announced he would be a candidate for the Independent nomination for mayor.

W. W. Ingram of Chester, prosecuting attorney of Hancock County addressed members of the East Liverpool Kiwanis Club.

Miss Alta Foutts of W. 4th St. began work as a temporary clerk in the city waterworks office.

Doane R. Gero, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Gero of St. Clair Ave., was awarded a graduate scholarship in aeronautical engineering at Harvard University.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Violet Jean Brand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Brand of Jennings Ave., received her cap during exercises at St. Francis Hospital School of Nursing in Pittsburgh.

Letter To Editor

We think something ought to be done to help the school spirit here at East Liverpool High School.

We believe it's the worst school spirit we have ever seen. After talking to several parents who have children going there, we understand that Coach Harris doesn't think it's right. I don't believe that it would hurt any to have a few pep rallies or even a pep band.

We don't think it's fair to the cheerleaders, who work hard and then hardly can be heard. We don't think it's fair to the school kids either. After all what's the sense to go and watch your team play if you can't cheer because they don't know them. We believe if Coach Harris would take a little time out he'd find that most of the schools here and in other states have them (pep rallies). They don't hurt the boys playing any; in fact, we feel it builds their morale.

We believe if they would check with the students and some of the faculty who were at the Warren game, they would find that we're not the only ones who feel this way. Ask the other fans.

MR. and MRS. ANTHONY
Mulberry St.

(Editor's Note — Questioned as to his position, Coach Harris explained that he is not opposed to pep rallies as such, but does feel that if they are conducted week after week they lose much of their effectiveness and, in some cases, can be carried to the point where they become ridiculous.)

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

". . . A fine bunch of super-patriots in that organization! . . . Practically no one knew words of 'The Star-Spangled Banner'!"

Two Open Letters

By David Lawrence

From Nikita To Ike To Nikita

Somewhere around Gettysburg, Pa., in the office of a former president of the United States, they must be expecting a letter. Presumably they are already drafting a reply. The anticipated missive from a man named Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow might read as follows:

David Lawrence

"Dear Ike: Maybe you've noticed in the papers lately that a Bulgarian plane crashed in Italy. They are foolishly saying that we were engaged in a spy mission like the U2.

"In the first place, as you know, we have absolutely no control over Bulgaria, even though it accepts our advice and our ideology and our troops. Besides, while we are interested in what goes on in any NATO military base, even in Italy, we wouldn't think of using espionage. We usually find out enough by reading the papers, as you Westerners tell everything anyway.

"But, as one member of the top executives' club to another, I call your attention to the fact that we didn't admit any responsibility for it and don't intend to do so, even if you extract a confession from the pilot. We admit nothing.

"Now that it's all over, I don't mind telling you that I really knew long before the U2 came down that you had been conducting these flights and seriously considered mentioning it when I was in Camp David with you in 1959, but I was sure then that you would accept the 'coexistence' idea so I didn't want to muddy the waters. I did say in my press conference in Paris on May 18, 1960, that we knew about the U2 flights long before, but you folks didn't believe me.

"You must realize, however, that we couldn't let you get away with the story that you had been conducting these U2 flights for four years without our knowing it.

"As for 'summit meetings,' they're too important for propaganda purposes to be given up and, of course, when we want to break up an international conference — as we did the other day in Geneva — we don't really need any excuse at all. I expect we will have a lot of 'summit meetings' in the future.

"In closing, let me say I appreciate that your new President proceeded to forget about what I said about you and your country at Paris in 1960 and met with me in Vienna in 1961 anyway.

"I appreciate also that he has just invited my son-in-law, who edits Izvestia, to lunch with him at the White House but I beg of you, confidentially, if you have any influence at all with your successor, don't let him serve milk. It may be your national drink but ours if Vodka."

TO THE FOREGOING, the chief composer of important missives for Mr. Eisenhower probably is preparing already the first draft of the reply as follows:

"Dear Nikita: I suppose I should begin by exclaiming: 'you, too!' I can't tell you how delighted I was to get your letter mentioning the Bulgarian spy plane that crashed in Italy. But do send me a copy of the letter of apology which I assume you soon will be sending to the Italian government.

"It seems to me I recall your asking me to apologize for the U2 incident. I will, of course, keep it secret in the meantime as I know you admit nothing.

"Nor am I going to rub it in by reminding you of all the things you said about the U2 flights, for I know that to you spying is just a routine affair and is 'justified' by the dogma of Marx and Lenin and Stalin in which you believe so wholeheartedly — though lately I notice you seem to have weakened a little on Stalin.

"It's hard over here, you know, to get all the facts about these complicated dogmas so I still don't know why you should feel so badly about Stalin. He was, as I recall, for many years not only a war hero to your people but the high priest of the Communist faith which you still embrace.

"It is a little puzzling to me, however, why you took the U2 thing so seriously and why you cancelled your invitation to me to visit the Soviet Union. It hurts a little bit more now that I see by the papers you have invited Bobby Kennedy, who is only an attorney general. You never invited Herb Brownell or Bill Rogers, both good attorneys general and good fellows.

"By the way, is that job of director of a childrens' home in the Soviet Union that you promised me still open? I'd like to pass the job on to someone in our new peace corps that you doubtless have read about.

"This is very important to us because you said something once about our grandchildren living under communism if you don't 'bury us' before. I'd like, however, to see your grandchildren trained not to be harsh on us. As Bob Newhart would say, 'Same to you, fellah!'"

These Are Dizzy Days

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Dizzy days, these. Things get mixed up, turned around. What wasn't supposed to happen happens. What wasn't in the cards occurs. All in a few weeks or a few months.

In this congressional election year President Kennedy wasn't expected to biff the Republicans yet, but he's biffing. He wasn't expected to push for civil rights in 1962, but he's pushing.

Communism, between screams about Western imperialism, invites the President's brother to Moscow. Kennedy, while building the armed forces against communism, has Premier Khrushchev's daughter and son-in-law to lunch.

Khrushchev set a Dec. 31 deadline for settling Berlin but let it slide. Although he's one of the most talkative men of modern times, he has been practically speechless for months.

Prime Minister Nehru, that self-righteous apostle of sweet reasonableness who deplored violence, invaded tiny Portuguese Goa, just before Indian election time.

The Communist world, which posed as one big happy band of brothers, is split and fighting under its breath like a family that pulled down the shades to keep the neighbors from seeing the dishes flying.

The United States, two years behind the Soviets in putting a rocket on the moon, tried and missed by 25,000 miles. The man who was to be the first American orbited around the earth is still earthbound.

The Communists who got hysterics when the American U2 spy plane was downed over Russia, sent their own U2 over Italy. It, too, came down.

The big wahoo over Pentagon censoring of speeches by the military brass revealed that most of the time subordinates have been censoring speeches written by subordinates for brass which did not see them first.

President Charles de Gaulle, backed by the French army in Algeria, came to power four years ago in high hopes he could stop the Algerian slaughter. He hasn't. Now a secret Algerian army is working against him.

Competition, that symbol of rugged individualism in the American free enterprise system, keeps getting squeezed out of shape as more businesses merge to avoid it.

The Red Chinese, those tireless talkers about the great leap forward, leaped forward on their face by pushing communism too fast. It's a mess inside China now.

This country's Alliance for Progress with Latin America did not progress far enough for the foreign ministers of the alliance, meeting in Uruguay, to give Fidel Castro a full rebuff.

Cigar-chomping Castro, for some reason still a mystery, chomped some more and admitted he bamboozled his own Cubans by making them think he wasn't a Marxist when, he says, he was.

Khrushchev, acting for years like a man with everything under control, has been having trouble with old Stalin types like bulldoggish V M. Molotov.

Communist Albania, smallest of all the Red satrapies, like a pussy cat against a bear is hissing at the Soviets. The United Arab Republic got awfully disunited when Syria cut loose from Egypt.

Late Start In Latin America

As recently as the Eisenhower administration, the federal government was being criticized for neglecting Latin America.

The late John Foster Dulles made no secret of his overriding interest in Europe and Asia. He seemed to begrudge the relatively slight attention he paid to Latin Americans.

Even today, despite growing interest, it is only with difficulty that the United States feels a sense of involvement in the problems of Latin America.

Castroism in Cuba has become a bogey. The Organization of American States and the Kennedy administration's multi-billion-dollar Alliance for Progress are becoming familiar talking points. It is possible to start an argument at the drop of a hint that the United States will be as preoccupied with Latin America as Europeans expect to be preoccupied with Africa in the next few generations.

But there is still a good deal of the attitude of Mr. Dulles among us — still a good deal of feeling that the Alliance for Progress is just another scheme for milking U. S. taxpayers of wealth that will be frittered away on ungrateful people who don't love us for ourselves but only for our money.

THERE IS more to it than this.

Latin Americans, however misguided they may be in some instances, are looking for social justice. They are prime prospects for the eager beavers of 20th century revolution, the Communists.

Communists have publicized themselves throughout the world as seekers of social justice, taking ruthless advantage of the fact it rarely was found under the auspices of the old regimes.

Their technique has been demonstrated in the takeover of Cuba, where the search for social justice has been dead-ended by agents of Communism. There is even less social justice under Castro than there was under Fulgencio Batista.

The United States is trying to thwart Communist takeovers in Latin America — a 20th century application of the principles of the Monroe Doctrine of the 19th century. It is trying to make the New World safe from ideological colonization by the Old World.

IT WILL MEET with rebuff and frustraiotn. It will be insulted and betrayed. There will be no lack of grounds for criticism.

But if it is understood that the alternative to an imperfect program could be endless repetition in Latin America of the Cuban Communist coup, the criticism might be constructive.

The hemispheric meeting of foreign ministers in Punta del Este, Uruguay, has been reported as if it were a disappointment to the United States, which didn't get everything it wanted in the way of a strong position against Cuba.

That is the problem — to win more sympathy for the United States in a part of the New World which often has been given reason to feel neglected and sometimes has been given reason to feel hostile.

They mentioned the "Philadelphia Plan" — something they referred to as a concentration of cooperating unions zeroing in on a plant or several plants.

They will need money and organizers. Reuther thought they could create a pool of skilled organizers. Under his plan the other unions would peel off some of their field men and make them available to the central organizing division.

UNIONS WOULD then peacefully discuss which union eventually would get a newly organized plant, instead of competing among themselves for the membership. The strategy is, first get the membership. They talked of the feud between the former CIO unions and the old craft — construction — unions.

They heard of a private, 4-man peace meeting called by George Meany on Wednesday in his office at the national AFL-CIO headquarters.

The AFL-CIO president was there. So was Neil Haggerty, the man who came out of California to lead the 3.5 million members of the construction and building unions. There was peacemaker Al Hayes, leader of the million-member machinists union, and Walter Reuther, of course. They were cordial. They left believing their lawyers could write a pact, an agreement on goals which would end the feud which many predicted would end the AFL-CIO.

Reuther hasn't mellowed. His militancy now is tempered by realism. He'll go to the mid-winter AFL-CIO high command session in Bal Harbour late in February and urge the other union chiefs to join with him. Some will. Some won't. But Walter Reuther is on the march again.

No bugles this time. He wants results. Time for bugles later.

Down Through The Years

From The Review Files

THIRTY YEARS AGO—An auto owned by W. H. Anderson of Dorothy St. was stolen from his garage.

Elmer E. Conley, Chester councilman and streetcar man, announced he would be a candidate for the Independent nomination for mayor.

W. W. Ingram of Chester, prosecuting attorney of Hancock County addressed members of the East Liverpool Kiwanis Club.

Miss Alta Foutts of W. 4th St. began work as a temporary clerk in the city waterworks office.

Doane R. Gero, son of Mr. and Mrs. K. W. Gero of St. Clair Ave., was awarded a graduate scholarship in aeronautical engineering at Harvard University.

TEN YEARS AGO — Miss Violet Jean Brand, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Brand of Jennings Ave., received her cap during exercises at St. Francis Hospital School of Nursing in Pittsburgh.

Letter To Editor

We think something ought to be done to help the school spirit here at East Liverpool High School.

We believe it's the worst school spirit we have ever seen. After talking to several parents who have children going there, we understand that Coach Harris doesn't think it's right. I don't believe that it would hurt any to have a few pep rallies or even a pep band.

We don't think it's fair to the cheerleaders, who work hard and then hardly can be heard. We don't think it's fair to the school kids either. After all what's the sense to go and watch your team play if you can't cheer because they don't know them. We believe if Coach Harris would take a little time out he'd find that most of the schools here and in other states have them (pep rallies). They don't hurt the boys playing any; in fact, we feel it builds their morale.

We believe if they would check with the students and some of the faculty who were at the Warren game, they would find that we're not the only ones who feel this way. Ask the other fans.

MR. and MRS. ANTHONY
Mulberry St.

(Editor's Note — Questioned as to his position, Coach Harris explained that he is not opposed to pep rallies as such, but does feel that if they are conducted week after week they lose much of their effectiveness and, in some cases, can be carried to the point where they become ridiculous.)

GRIN AND BEAR IT By George Lichty

". . . A fine bunch of super-patriots in that organization! . . . Practically no one knew words of 'The Star-Spangled Banner'!"

Two Open Letters

By David Lawrence

From Nikita To Ike To Nikita

Somewhere around Gettysburg, Pa., in the office of a former president of the United States, they must be expecting a letter. Presumably they are already drafting a reply. The anticipated missive from a man named Nikita Khrushchev in Moscow might read as follows:

David Lawrence

"Dear Ike: Maybe you've noticed in the papers lately that a Bulgarian plane crashed in Italy. They are foolishly saying that we were engaged in a spy mission like the U2.

"In the first place, as you know, we have absolutely no control over Bulgaria, even though it accepts our advice and our ideology and our troops. Besides, while we are interested in what goes on in any NATO military base, even in Italy, we wouldn't think of using espionage. We usually find out enough by reading the papers, as you Westerners tell everything anyway.

"But, as one member of the top executives' club to another, I call your attention to the fact that we didn't admit any responsibility for it and don't intend to do so, even if you extract a confession from the pilot. We admit nothing.

"Now that it's all over, I don't mind telling you that I really knew long before the U2 came down that you had been conducting these flights and seriously considered mentioning it when I was in Camp David with you in 1959, but I was sure then that you would accept the 'coexistence' idea so I didn't want to muddy the waters. I did say in my press conference in Paris on May 18, 1960, that we knew about the U2 flights long before, but you folks didn't believe me.

"You must realize, however, that we couldn't let you get away with the story that you had been conducting these U2 flights for four years without our knowing it.

"As for 'summit meetings,' they're too important for propaganda purposes to be given up and, of course, when we want to break up an international conference — as we did the other day in Geneva — we don't really need any excuse at all. I expect we will have a lot of 'summit meetings' in the future.

"In closing, let me say I appreciate that your new President proceeded to forget about what I said about you and your country at Paris in 1960 and met with me in Vienna in 1961 anyway.

"I appreciate also that he has just invited my son-in-law, who edits Izvestia, to lunch with him at the White House but I beg of you, confidentially, if you have any influence at all with your successor, don't let him serve milk. It may be your national drink but ours if Vodka."

TO THE FOREGOING, the chief composer of important missives for Mr. Eisenhower probably is preparing already the first draft of the reply as follows:

"Dear Nikita: I suppose I should begin by exclaiming: 'you, too!' I can't tell you how delighted I was to get your letter mentioning the Bulgarian spy plane that crashed in Italy. But do send me a copy of the letter of apology which I assume you soon will be sending to the Italian government.

"It seems to me I recall your asking me to apologize for the U2 incident. I will, of course, keep it secret in the meantime as I know you admit nothing.

"Nor am I going to rub it in by reminding you of all the things you said about the U2 flights, for I know that to you spying is just a routine affair and is 'justified' by the dogma of Marx and Lenin and Stalin in which you believe so wholeheartedly — though lately I notice you seem to have weakened a little on Stalin.

"It's hard over here, you know, to get all the facts about these complicated dogmas so I still don't know why you should feel so badly about Stalin. He was, as I recall, for many years not only a war hero to your people but the high priest of the Communist faith which you still embrace.

"It is a little puzzling to me, however, why you took the U2 thing so seriously and why you cancelled your invitation to me to visit the Soviet Union. It hurts a little bit more now that I see by the papers you have invited Bobby Kennedy, who is only an attorney general. You never invited Herb Brownell or Bill Rogers, both good attorneys general and good fellows.

"By the way, is that job of director of a childrens' home in the Soviet Union that you promised me still open? I'd like to pass the job on to someone in our new peace corps that you doubtless have read about.

"This is very important to us because you said something once about our grandchildren living under communism if you don't 'bury us' before. I'd like, however, to see your grandchildren trained not to be harsh on us. As Bob Newhart would say, 'Same to you, fellah!'"

These Are Dizzy Days

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON

Dizzy days, these. Things get mixed up, turned around. What wasn't supposed to happen happens. What wasn't in the cards occurs. All in a few weeks or a few months.

In this congressional election year President Kennedy wasn't expected to biff the Republicans yet, but he's biffing. He wasn't expected to push for civil rights in 1962, but he's pushing.

Communism, between screams about Western imperialism, invites the President's brother to Moscow. Kennedy, while building the armed forces against communism, has Premier Khrushchev's daughter and son-in-law to lunch.

Khrushchev set a Dec. 31 deadline for settling Berlin but let it slide. Although he's one of the most talkative men of modern times, he has been practically speechless for months.

Prime Minister Nehru, that self-righteous apostle of sweet reasonableness who deplored violence, invaded tiny Portuguese Goa, just before Indian election time.

The Communist world, which posed as one big happy band of brothers, is split and fighting under its breath like a family that pulled down the shades to keep the neighbors from seeing the dishes flying.

The United States, two years behind the Soviets in putting a rocket on the moon, tried and missed by 25,000 miles. The man who was to be the first American orbited around the earth is still earthbound.

The Communists who got hysterics when the American U2 spy plane was downed over Russia, sent their own U2 over Italy. It, too, came down.

The big wahoo over Pentagon censoring of speeches by the military brass revealed that most of the time subordinates have been censoring speeches written by subordinates for brass which did not see them first.

President Charles de Gaulle, backed by the French army in Algeria, came to power four years ago in high hopes he could stop the Algerian slaughter. He hasn't. Now a secret Algerian army is working against him.

Competition, that symbol of rugged individualism in the American free enterprise system, keeps getting squeezed out of shape as more businesses merge to avoid it.

The Red Chinese, those tireless talkers about the great leap forward, leaped forward on their face by pushing communism too fast. It's a mess inside China now.

This country's Alliance for Progress with Latin America did not progress far enough for the foreign ministers of the alliance, meeting in Uruguay, to give Fidel Castro a full rebuff.

Cigar-chomping Castro, for some reason still a mystery, chomped some more and admitted he bamboozled his own Cubans by making them think he wasn't a Marxist when, he says, he was.

Khrushchev, acting for years like a man with everything under control, has been having trouble with old Stalin types like bulldoggish V M. Molotov.

Communist Albania, smallest of all the Red satrapies, like a pussy cat against a bear is hissing at the Soviets. The United Arab Republic got awfully disunited when Syria cut loose from Egypt.

Deaths and Funerals

War II Vet Dies At 61

William P. Ward, 649½ St. Clair Ave., a World War II veteran, died this morning at 1:30 at Montefiore Hospital in Pittsburgh, following a heart attack. He was 61.

He was born in Brackenridge, Pa., to John J. Ward and Catherine McGlone Ward.

He resided here for 20 years and was employed in Pittsburgh. He was a member of St. Aloysius Catholic Church.

He leaves his widow, Mrs. Nellie Ward at home; a step-daughter, Mrs. Milton (Pauline) Young of East Palestine; two sisters, Sister Ambolis and Sister Francis Marie, both of St. Joseph's Convent in Baden, and three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The Dawson Funeral Home is arranging services.

William Turnbull

William Turnbull, 235 W. 3rd St., died suddenly of an apparent heart attack at 10 a. m. today while standing on a sidewalk on W. 6th St. near Market St. He was 71.

He was pronounced dead on arrival at City Hospital. A physician told Patrolman Charles Winters, who investigated, that death was caused by an apparent heart attack and that Mr. Turnbull had been under his care for some time for a heart condition.

Witnesses told Officer Winters Mr. Turnbull was standing on the sidewalk near the intersection when he suddenly slumped to the pavement.

Known familiarly as "Scotty," he was born Jan. 15, 1891, in Hartlepool, Scotland. He was a member of the Salvation Army.

The body was removed to the Martin Funeral Home. Arrangements are incomplete.

Mrs. Delcie Van Dyke

Services for Mrs. Delcie Mae Van Dyke, a resident of Madison Township, will be held Thursday at 1 p. m. at the MacLean Funeral Home in Wellsville by the Rev. James F. Donald, pastor of the Glenmoor United Presbyterian Church. Burial will be in Columbiana County Memorial Park.

Mrs. Van Dyke died Tuesday morning at the Osteopathic Hospital.

Gretta Rockenberger

EAST PALESTINE — Mrs. Gretta Rockenberger, 215 E. North Ave., died this morning at 9:30 at Salem City Hospital, where she underwent a recent operation. She was 63.

She was born here to J. H. and Zella Whittenberger, and was graduated in 1915 from East Palestine High School. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Besides her husband, George Rockenberger, she is survived by two sons and three daughters.

The VanDyke Funeral Home is arranging services.

articles, especially those considered of strategic importance.

A resolution calling for defense against international communism was approved 19-1, with Cuba voting against and Bolivia abstaining. The resolution asks the OAS "to maintain all vigilance necessary" to prevent aggression, subversion or other dangers to peace and security and directs the OAS to create a special consultation committee to aid those nations which request assistance on security problems.

The foreign ministers set formal signing of the resolutions and conference declarations at a closing session tonight.

The resolution directing Cuba's expulsion now goes to the OAS Council in Washington and various Inter-American boards and agencies for action against Cuba.

U.S. Secretary of State Dean Rusk said he expected the OAS Council to meet within 10 days to two weeks to begin implementing the resolution.

A spokesman for Brazil, leader of the go-slow bloc, said he believed the council by the same two-thirds vote would suspend Cuba from participation in OAS affairs until a special Inter-American conference can be held to decide a legal procedure for Cuba's expulsion.

Rusk hailed the unanimity of action on other resolutions before the conference and particularly on the condemnation of Cuban communism. But some observers felt that the failure of the 20 nations to agree on Cuba's ouster from the OAS revealed a deep rift in the hemisphere.

must be used sparingly, not indiscriminately."

Street department trucks backtracked over some streets in which the first application of ashes proved inadequate, Owen said. As an example, he said St. Clair Ave. was ashed three times yesterday.

The ashes did not bond well with the hard ice, plus the fact a high wind was reported blowing the cinders off some exposed stretches, the director added.

As an economy measure, the city had not purchased any salt recently for use in snow - removal, but early yesterday afternoon it became apparent some salt would be needed for use in conjunction with the ashes, Owen said.

About 2 p.m., nine tons of salt was purchased at a cost of approximately $100. Mixed with the ashes, all the salt was used except about one ton. The salt costs $11.40 per ton.

One crew worked into the night scattering ashes and salt.

"The purchase of the salt put the city in the hole even more, but we decided it was necessary to help correct the problem," Owen said.

Copeland said that while January is 3½ degrees below normal, the month has not been nearly as cold as last January.

The normal for the month is 27 degrees. The average for this month is 23½ degrees. The average was 21 degrees a year ago.

This is the third cold wave of the month with 11 below set previously.

Copeland commented that the weather should be breaking soon and that the cold may ease sooner than expected, if the season follows the trend of similar winters.

Columbus Ordinance Held Unconsitutional

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Supreme Court today held unconstitutional a Columbus ordinance providing that "no prostitute . . . shall be found wandering about the streets. . . . "

The court said "wandering" was too indefinite a term for authorized exercise of police power.

The 4-2 decision affirmed reversal by an appellate court of the conviction of a Columbus woman on a charge of "street walking" filed under the ordinance.

Since the World Series, Cincinnati's National League pennant winner has added four players from other major league teams or affiliates. They are Moe Drabowsky, drafted from Louisville; Dave Sisler and Dick Keough from Washington and Jesse Gonder from the Yankee roster.

4 Youngsters Hurt In Falls

Four area youngsters and a city man injured in falls and a boy cut on a piece of tin were treated at City Hospital Tuesday.

Michael Bickerton, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bickerton of N. Shady Ln., was treated last night for a cut over the right eye received in a fall against a coffee table.

Zana Hardy, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hardy of New Cumberland R. D. 2, suffered a laceration of the chin in a fall against the kitchen sink.

Francis House, 38, of 1255 Oakwood Ave., received a fracture of the left ankle in a fall.

Wesley Fulmer, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fulmer of New Cumberland R. D. 2, was treated for a laceration of a finger received on a piece of tin while helping his father with a battery.

2 Barges Break Loose, 1 Sinks In Lock At Dam

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two 175-foot long barges, each loaded with approximately 800 tons of crushed stone, broke loose from their mooring today and floated approximately 15 miles down the Ohio River before one of them sank in the lock at Dam 35.

A Coast Guard cutter snagged the other barge and towed it to shore.

Dam 35 is at New Richmond, about 20 miles upstream from Cincinnati. The barges had been moored near the point where the new Anthony Meldahl locks and dam are being built, near Chilo.

A spokesman for the Ohio River Division, U.S. Corps of Engineers, said the sinking of the barge would not hinder river traffic through the lock because of the high level of the river.

At the last session of the legislature, she pushed through a measure which would give Hancock an extra delegate, but the bill was scuttled in the Senate.

Miss Tsapis said she is opposed to bills which would prolong three tax extension measures enacted last year for only one year.

Miss Tsapis was born in Weirton and was graduated from Weir High School in 1942. She received a degree from West Virginia University in 1945 and her law degree from WVU in 1948. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Upon graduation from the university, she entered law practice with Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner of Chester. She served as assistant county prosecutor in 1952-56 under Mrs. Turner, the first woman prosecutor in West Virginia.

Miss Tsapis is the 13th candidate to enter Hancock's primary. Three are non-partisan aspirants for posts on the County Board of Education. Deadline for filing expires midnight Saturday.

Columbus Ordinance Held Unconsitutional

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Ohio's Supreme Court today held unconstitutional a Columbus ordinance providing that "no prostitute . . . shall be found wandering about the streets. . . ."

The court said "wandering" was too indefinite a term for authorized exercise of police power.

The 4-2 decision affirmed reversal by an appellate court of the conviction of a Columbus woman on a charge of "street walking" filed under the ordinance.

Since the World Series, Cincinnati's National League pennant winner has added four players from other major league teams or affiliates. They are Moe Drabowsky, drafted from Louisville; Dave Sisler and Dick Keough from Washington and Jesse Gonder from the Yankee roster.

4 Youngsters Hurt In Falls

Four area youngsters and a city man injured in falls and a boy cut on a piece of tin were treated at City Hospital Tuesday.

Michael Bickerton, 2, son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Bickerton of N. Shady Ln., was treated last night for a cut over the right eye received in a fall against a coffee table.

Zana Hardy, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hardy of New Cumberland R. D. 2, suffered a laceration of the chin in a fall against the kitchen sink.

Francis House, 38, of 1255 Oakwood Ave., received a fracture of the left ankle in a fall.

Wesley Fulmer, 11, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Fulmer of New Cumberland R. D. 2, was treated for a laceration of a finger received on a piece of tin while helping his father with a battery.

2 Barges Break Loose, 1 Sinks In Lock At Dam

CINCINNATI (AP) — Two 175-foot long barges, each loaded with approximately 800 tons of crushed stone, broke loose from their mooring today and floated approximately 15 miles down the Ohio River before one of them sank in the lock at Dam 35.

A Coast Guard cutter snagged the other barge and towed it to shore.

Dam 35 is at New Richmond, about 20 miles upstream from Cincinnati. The barges had been moored near the point where the new Anthony Meldahl locks and dam are being built, near Chilo.

A spokesman for the Ohio River Division, U.S. Corps of Engineers, said the sinking of the barge would not hinder river traffic through the lock because of the high level of the river.

At the last session of the legislature, she pushed through a measure which would give Hancock an extra delegate, but the bill was scuttled in the Senate.

Miss Tsapis said she is opposed to bills which would prolong three tax extension measures enacted last year for only one year.

Miss Tsapis was born in Weirton and was graduated from Weir High School in 1942. She received a degree from West Virginia University in 1945 and her law degree from WVU in 1948. She was a member of Phi Beta Kappa.

Upon graduation from the university, she entered law practice with Mrs. Ruth Cox Turner of Chester. She served as assistant county prosecutor in 1952-56 under Mrs. Turner, the first woman prosecutor in West Virginia.

Miss Tsapis is the 13th candidate to enter Hancock's primary. Three are non-partisan aspirants for posts on the County Board of Education. Deadline for filing expires midnight Saturday.

Life In Frozen Greenland Detailed By Rotary Guest

The rugged, lonely life of a scientist at a desolate outpost in the frozen wastelands of Greenland was described by the Rev. Russell Mase in a program of color slides at the Rotary Club's meeting Tuesday afternoon in the Travelers Hotel.

The pastor of Emmanuel Presbyterian Church was one of six hardy civilian scientists who got "chummy" with a peculiar glacier on the Arctic Circle area island six years ago.

Moved by helicopter to an outpost 40 miles from Thule, the scientists spent three months in the wilderness studying for the answer as to why the non-conforming glacier ended in a sheer cliff instead of leveling out gradually to a "snout" as considered normal.

The expedition, which included several enlisted personnel of the Army Engineers, was financed chiefly by a grant of SPIRE—"Snow, Ice and Perma-Forst Research Establishment" of Chicago.

Though there was little in the way of entertainment, except for listening to radio broadcasts from the states and Moscow, hiking and viewing the rugged scenery of the wilderness, there was plenty of work to keep the party busy from June to September 1956, Rev. Mase said.

A tunnel was hacked into the base of the 120-foot high cliff fronting the huge mass of ice and earth, and the scientists probed for evidence to indicate the reason for its abnormal ending.

Rev. Mase explained the growth of brown algae which created an area of warmth in its growing process, melted dangerous holes in the surface.

The 28-year-old minister, who received two degrees in geology from Ohio State University before joining the expedition, spent much of his time recording weather data.

Another job was to measure the melting rate of the ice mass.

Rev. Mase said the glacier, located 750 miles from the North Pole, moved at the rate of three and a half feet a year. It stretched 1,900 miles south of the outpost.

The frigid weather — ranging from zero to 48 degrees in July—required the scientists to dress warmly in vapor-sealed boots and heavy Army-type jackets.

The group was quartered in a crude canvas hut which offered a measure of protection against the icy Arctic blasts which sometimes were clocked at 95 miles per hour and more.

Rev. Mase took camera scenes of the deep blue ice at the bottom of the glacier, squeezed free of air by thousands and thousands of tons of snow, ice and rocks scooped up by the mass in its steady, but imperceptive movement across the island.

The scientists were alone at the outpost except for one animal—a fox—which constantly raided the party's bread supply, Rev. Mase said. Vegetation was scarce, with only a few wild flowers hardy enough to survive in the icy climate. An Arctic Tern was the only bird seen during the stay.

The constant daylight of the Arctic Circle required some adjustment by the party in sleeping early in the stay, but they soon became accustomed to absence of darkness.

Questioned as to the party's success in searching for the answer to the peculiar ending of the glacier, Rev. Mase said "It lies somewhere in our 120-page report of the expedition."

He indicated, however, that their studies determined that the sharp, vertical face of the glacier was caused by the overflow of water from melting snows on the surface.

Rev. Mase was introduced by William Harris, program chairman, who operated the slide projector. Sidney C. Porter, vice president, presided.

land diverted from wheat. The present program provides for supports, but at a reduced level, if controls are turned down.

Feed grains — Acreage allotments and marketing quotas would be set for the four major feed grains—corn, oats, barley, and sorghum grain.

In the past, only corn has been grown under allotments and none of the four grains has ever been subjected to marketing quotas. Payments could be made on land diverted from these grains, as is being done now. But all supports would be withdrawn and the government would reserve the right to sell up to about 350 million bushels a year of its surpluses if controls were voted down.

Dairy products—For the first time, marketing allotments would be set on all dairymen. The government would attempt to support prices up to 90 per cent of the parity price, but not in excess of $300 million a year for supports, or about half this year's expected cost.

Should allotments be rejected, supports would be lowered and no matter how large surplus supplies became, the government would spend no more than $300 million a year on them.

In proposing the tighter controls Kennedy said: "Our two goals—improving income and reducing costs—can both be achieved only if farm output can be reduced below needs for several years and then be allowed to increase at a rate equal to the growth in demand."

Kennedy told Congress his total farm program envisioned making maximum use of the nation's food abundance through such plans as the school lunch program, direct distribution of food to the needy, an expanded food stamp plan, the foreign food-for-peace program, including U.S. participation in a world food bank.

Under the conversation phase of his program, Kennedy proposed steps be taken to shift 50 million acres of cropland to other income-earning uses such as recreation, wildlife promotion, woodlots, forests and grazing. Federal financial aid would be offered. The government would look into the possibility of setting up greenbelts 10 miles or so in width around urban areas for recreational use.

Suddenly the pyramid collapsed. Herman, Karl and Gunther Wallenda managed to stay on the wire and grab Miss Schepp.

For a time panic threatened from the shocked crowd. Some men tried to run into the ring. Women wept. Others, including children, were frozen in their seats.

She said her husband did not appear to have a good grip on his 35-pound balancing bar and lost his balance as he tried to change the grip.

"Dieter called out that he couldn't hold any longer," she said. "He threw the pole into the air to grip it in the center and lost his balance. This threw everybody else off balance and down they went."

The aerialist dynasty was founded in 1874 in Germany by Karl's grandfather, also named Karl. The troupe came to the United States in 1928 and starred with the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey Circus.

The present Karl and Herman are uncles of Jana and Dieter. Gunter is a son of Herman. Mario Wallenda is Carl's son.

City To Ask Overpass To Sunnyside

Pleasant Heights buses formerly traveled W. 9th St., but since the deadend was set up they use W. 8th St. At the same time, Chestnut St. was eliminated — cutting off the only direct link between W. 8th St. and W. 9th St.

Residents of the west end of W. 9th St. now have two routes they may use to get in and out of the district, a curving ramp linking the foot of Lisbon St. with W. 9th St. near May St. or at W. 9th's link with Lisbon near the street department barn.

SINCE FOOT travel between the bus route and the Sunnyside area is circuitous and difficult, many elderly persons who do not have cars must rely on taxis for travel downtown, paying fares of 70 and 80 cents, the delegation complained. Those who choose to walk must follow a roundabout course on which there are no sidewalks, they argued.

Yesterday's meeting covered the whole spectrum of the residents' complaints, but always went back to the principal point—lack of easy access.

McKenna pointed out that plans for the freeway and the interchange at Lisbon St. were prepared by the Baker concern, working under a contract with the city. He said most of the design details were worked out in the years 1957 through 1959 in conferences between the engineers and the administration and councilmen in office at that time.

In response to queries about alternate plans, McKenna said the highway department favored a proposal calling for Route 267 (Lisbon St.) traffic to be shunted onto W. 9th St., eliminating any connection between Lisbon St. and W. 8th St.

UNDER THAT proposal, W. 9th St. would have remained open, as it would have been a section of a state route. It would have crossed the freeway on an overpass, he said.

However, in order to make W. 9th St. wide enough to handle the additional traffic flow, it probably would have been necessary to raze all the homes on one side or the other, he added.

However, the former administration and councilmen ultimately decided upon the plan under which the freeway and interchange now are being constructed, McKenna explained.

McKenna said he is not certain the Bureau of Public Roads will approve a proposal for building an overpass over W. 9th St., but he said it is possible the federal officials can be persuaded to "put their money into it."

"We're building an improvement designed for the city by the consultant," he said. "If there has been an oversight, there's a possibility it could be rectified by a 'change order'.

"If the city would have the consultant prepare a plan for a pedestrian overpass and show justification for it, we may be able to have it built by a 'change order' but I can't promise anything. We would have to persuade the Bureau of Public Roads to put their money into it."

The mayor said the Sunnyside delegation will be notified of progress in the negotiations with the federal bureau.

"The administration will go ahead with this plan," he said. "I feel some other things are necessary, but this is the major thing—to provide access."

As the meeting opened, Owen advised the Sunnyside residents he expects additional street lighting will be installed in the area as soon as the city's plans have been cleared with the state. He said the city expects to light the intersection of W. 8th and Lisbon, the ramp connecting Lisbon and W. 9th and the area under the overpasses that cross Lisbon and W. 8th Sts.

THE QUESTION of sidewalks "is still in the future," but concrete walks are provided for in the plans, he said. Later McKenna said the contractor's force has been cut to a minimum "and his operation now is almost nil," but the firm will be asked to maintain adequate slag walks. He said the new concrete walks cannot be poured during freezing winter weather.

One member of the audience said a petition with 123 signatures was presented when a public hearing was held on the freeway plan in 1958. The petition asked specifically that W. 9th St. not be made a deadend, he said.

Another man asked why W. 9th was not allowed to intersect at grade with the freeway. "It would accommodate a lot of people," he said.

"It would have killed a lot of people, too," McKenna replied, pointing out one of the major aims in modern highway design is to eliminate intersections.

THE SUNNYSIDE delegation repeated complaints given previously to Council — that the ramp between W. 9th and Lisbon is too steep, its curves are too narrow and visibility is poor at the point where it connects with Lisbon, and that the temporary slag sidewalks in the construction are covered with mud.

"I could have brought six pairs of shoes that are a solid cake of mud," a man commented from the audience. "All the other people here could have done the same."

Another man complained the freeway contractor has acquired the old stone quarry site and has been dumping fill there.

Now water and mud are draining out of the quarry site, threatening nearby property, he said.

As the quarry site is private property owned by the contractor, the householders should deal with the contractor, McKenna replied. The state has no control over the contractor's actions outside the road right-of-way, he said.

IN CONNECTION with the next phase of the freeway, which will begin at the city limits and extend to Substation near the Y. & O. Rd., McKenna and Jenkins turned over to Murray and Welch a copy of a "consent ordinance" which they asked Council to enact.

The second phase of the freeway will begin 18 inches inside the corporate limits, thus it technically is necessary to obtain the city's approval for the work to be performed, they explained.

In addition, the next phase of the work will see a hookup between two sections of the Carpenters Run culvert paralleling the highway, they explained. The second phase does not involve any financial outlay on the part of the city, the two officials told the councilmen.

AFTER THE meeting adjourned, some Sunnyside residents asked Owen to order flushing of fire hydrants in the area, asserting the lines have been affected by silt stirred loose by the construction work. Owen replied all the hydrants in the area have been flushed, some as recently as this month, and there is no necessity for the work to be done again.

The Sunnyside residents also had complained a fire truck would be unable to negotiate the ramp between Lisbon and W. 9th Sts., or only with considerable difficulty. To prove or disprove this contention, a truck will be sent from Central station this afternoon at 4 to make the trip up and down the ramp, Owen said.

However, the fire department experimented earlier with a truck on the ramp and found the trip could be made satisfactorily, Owen added.

The director pointed out that the first alarm from the Sunnyside area is answered by a truck from the Pleasant Heights station, which does not use the ramp but enters the district via the intersection of Lisbon and W. 9th Sts. Only when a second truck is summoned is a unit sent from Central, he pointed out. However, the experiment this afternoon will be made with a Central station truck, he added.

public hearings on the administration's controversial proposal for medical care for the aged, financed by Social Security.

A majority of the committee seemed likely to support the view of Chairman Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., that the Senate should wait for the House to act.

In the House, the lines within the Ways and Means Committee appeared as tight as ever against action on the Kennedy bill.

The House provided a bright spot for the President Tuesday. It passed a bill to provide a $1.5-billion, five-year program of aid to colleges for expanding their facilities.

This measure, representing a fragment of the President's stalled general aid to education program, may get Senate action later in the week.

The fate of Kennedy's reorganization plan to create a new department of urban affairs—which he said would be headed by Housing Administrator Robert C. Weaver, a Negro — was clouded with uncertainty.

House leaders pushed for hearings preliminary to a showdown vote. Either chamber can veto the plan.

In the Senate, Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Government Operations Committee which will consider the urban affairs plan, joined Republicans in denouncing it as political and inadequate.

Sen. George D. Aiken, R-Vt., said he thinks the "colored race would be very resentful of the President" because, he said, Negroes had been "used as a pawn" in this case.

Kennedy's request for authority to purchase $100 million in U.N. bonds also was brought under fire. Senate Republican Leader Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois indicated Republicans would have alternatives to offer.

In the civil rights field, supporters of Kennedy's literacy test bill lost a tactical maneuver but gained a promise that an attempt will be made to get Senate action on the bill within 90 days.

The measure would bar any state literacy standard other than a sixth-grade education for voting in primaries or general elections for federal offices.

The Senate voted 61-25 to send the bill to the Judiciary Committee, where such measures have been buried in the past. Senate Majority Leader Mike Mansfield of Montana and Dirksen pledged that if the committee doesn't act, they will try to attach the measure to some other legislation before May 1.

City To Ask Overpass To Sunnyside

Pleasant Heights buses formerly traveled W. 9th St., but since the deadend was set up they use W. 8th St. At the same time, Chestnut St. was eliminated — cutting off the only direct link between W. 8th St. and W. 9th St.

Residents of the west end of W. 9th St. now have two routes they may use to get in and out of the district, a curving ramp linking the foot of Lisbon St. with W. 9th St. near May St. or at W. 9th's link with Lisbon near the street department barn.

SINCE FOOT travel between the bus route and the Sunnyside area is circuitous and difficult, many elderly persons who do not have cars must rely on taxis for travel downtown, paying fares of 70 and 80 cents, the delegation complained. Those who choose to walk must follow a roundabout course on which there are no sidewalks, they argued.

Yesterday's meeting covered the whole spectrum of the residents' complaints, but always went back to the principal point—lack of easy access.

McKenna pointed out that plans for the freeway and the interchange at Lisbon St. were prepared by the Baker concern, working under a contract with the city. He said most of the design details were worked out in the years 1957 through 1959 in conferences between the engineers and the administration and councilmen in office at that time.

In response to queries about alternate plans, McKenna said the highway department favored a proposal calling for Route 267 (Lisbon St.) traffic to be shunted onto W. 9th St., eliminating any connection between Lisbon St. and W. 8th St.

UNDER THAT proposal, W. 9th St. would have remained open, as it would have been a section of a state route. It would have crossed the freeway on an overpass, he said.

However, in order to make W. 9th St. wide enough to handle the additional traffic flow, it probably would have been necessary to raze all the homes on one side or the other, he added.

However, the former administration and councilmen ultimately decided upon the plan under which the freeway and interchange now are being constructed, McKenna explained.

McKenna said he is not certain the Bureau of Public Roads will approve a proposal for building an overpass over W. 9th St., but he said it is possible the federal officials can be persuaded to "put their money into it."

"We're building an improvement designed for the city by the consultant," he said. "If there has been an oversight, there's a possibility it could be rectified by a 'change order'.

"If the city would have the consultant prepare a plan for a pedestrian overpass and show justification for it, we may be able to have it built by a 'change order' but I can't promise anything. We would have to persuade the Bureau of Public Roads to put their money into it."

The mayor said the Sunnyside delegation will be notified of progress in the negotiations with the federal bureau.

"The administration will go ahead with this plan," he said. "I feel some other things are necessary, but this is the major thing—to provide access."

As the meeting opened, Owen advised the Sunnyside residents he expects additional street lighting will be installed in the area as soon as the city's plans have been cleared with the state. He said the city expects to light the intersection of W. 8th and Lisbon, the ramp connecting Lisbon and W. 9th and the area under the overpasses that cross Lisbon and W. 8th Sts.

THE QUESTION of sidewalks "is still in the future," but concrete walks are provided for in the plans, he said. Later McKenna said the contractor's force has been cut to a minimum "and his operation now is almost nil," but the firm will be asked to maintain adequate slag walks. He said the new concrete walks cannot be poured during freezing winter weather.

One member of the audience said a petition with 123 signatures was presented when a public hearing was held on the freeway plan in 1958. The petition asked specifically that W. 9th St. not be made a deadend, he said.

Another man asked why W. 9th was not allowed to intersect at grade with the freeway. "It would accommodate a lot of people," he said.

"It would have killed a lot of people, too," McKenna replied, pointing out one of the major aims in modern highway design is to eliminate intersections.

THE SUNNYSIDE delegation repeated complaints given previously to Council — that the ramp between W. 9th and Lisbon is too steep, its curves are too narrow and visibility is poor at the point where it connects with Lisbon, and that the temporary slag sidewalks in the construction are covered with mud.

"I could have brought six pairs of shoes that are a solid cake of mud," a man commented from the audience. "All the other people here could have done the same."

Another man complained the freeway contractor has acquired the old stone quarry site and has been dumping fill there.

Now water and mud are draining out of the quarry site, threatening nearby property, he said.

As the quarry site is private property owned by the contractor, the householders should deal with the contractor, McKenna replied. The state has no control over the contractor's actions outside the road right-of-way, he said.

Palestine Club Told Why Home Was Shut

EAST PALESTINE — "Closing of the Kyes Memorial Children's Receiving Home was entirely a matter of lack of finances," Columbiana County Commissioner Walter Hunston told members of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night.

Hunston said the failure of a proposed operating levy in November brought cutback in operations for county departments in his talk before the service club, which assisted in obtaining the receiving home here, a gift of Roger M. Kyes, industrialist.

Hunston urged club members to support two proposed levies submitted for the May primary, one for county operations and another for the County Home.

He said unless the operating levy is approved, the county will be in "serious financial trouble."

Palestine Club Told Why Home Was Shut

EAST PALESTINE — "Closing of the Kyes Memorial Children's Receiving Home was entirely a matter of lack of finances," Columbiana County Commissioner Walter Hunston told members of the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night.

Hunston said the failure of a proposed operating levy in November brought cutback in operations for county departments in his talk before the service club, which assisted in obtaining the receiving home here, a gift of Roger M. Kyes, industrialist.

Hunston urged club members to support two proposed levies submitted for the May primary, one for county operations and another for the County Home.

He said unless the operating levy is approved, the county will be in "serious financial trouble."

Would Tighten Wheat Curbs

Controls On Feed Grains Proposed For First Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's new farm program would tighten controls on wheat and apply controls to feed grains for the first time in an effort to bring about an eventual balance between supply and demand.

Farmers would be required to reduce total wheat plantings, perhaps 20 per cent from their long-time level of 55 million acres, for a four or five-year period during which surpluses would be reduced.

Production shares of wheat and feed grains would be set below estimated requirements thus government stocks would be tapped to meet the remaining demand.

In the case of wheat, each grower would be given a share of the market for wheat used for food and a share of the export market. He would get a higher support for the domestically used grain than for that exported.

A major purpose of this dual price plan would be to reduce, if not eliminate, government export subsidies. Because U.S. wheat prices have been supported above world prices, subsidies have been necessary to meet foreign competition.

The two programs carry powerful economic persuaders for farmer acceptance.

Both the wheat and the feed grain programs would require approval by at least two-thirds of growers voting in a referendum.

But should the programs be rejected, the government would withdraw price supports.

In addition, it would reserve the right to sell on the market up to 200 million bushels of its surplus wheat and 350 million bushels of its surplus feed grains annually. In most years, such sales would likely drive down prices.

By comparison, present programs require price supports for farmers planting within allotments even if controls are defeated, but at lower levels than otherwise would prevail.

Also, present permanent programs for wheat and feed grains greatly limit government sales of surpluses.

The Kennedy program would authorize payments on diverted land, as in the case with this year's emergency wheat program and the 1961 and 1962 feed grain programs.

To encourage farmer cooperation, the new program would levy penalties on excess production of wheat and feed grains which would be very close to present market prices. Such a penalty could be expected to end the practice by some farmers of producing more than their production shares.

Supports for wheat for domestic food use would range between 75 and 90 per cent of the parity price goal of farm programs. The present support is about 82 per cent. The support for export wheat would be set by the government on a scale between zero and 90 per cent of parity. Presumably this price would be kept close to the world price which now is about 62 per cent of parity.

Wheat not needed for either the domestic food market or for export would be subject to a support price in line with prices of feed grains —about 45 to 50 per cent of parity.

Supports would be denied to those who did not comply with all acreage allotments.

A single feed grain acreage allotment would be given each farm. The latter could grow whichever of the four feed grains or any combination that he desired. Small farms which grew an average of 25 acres or less of these grains during a base period would not be subject to the control program unless they elected to participate.

The feed grain price support range would remain at its present level—65 to 90 per cent of parity. Supports now are 75 per cent of parity.

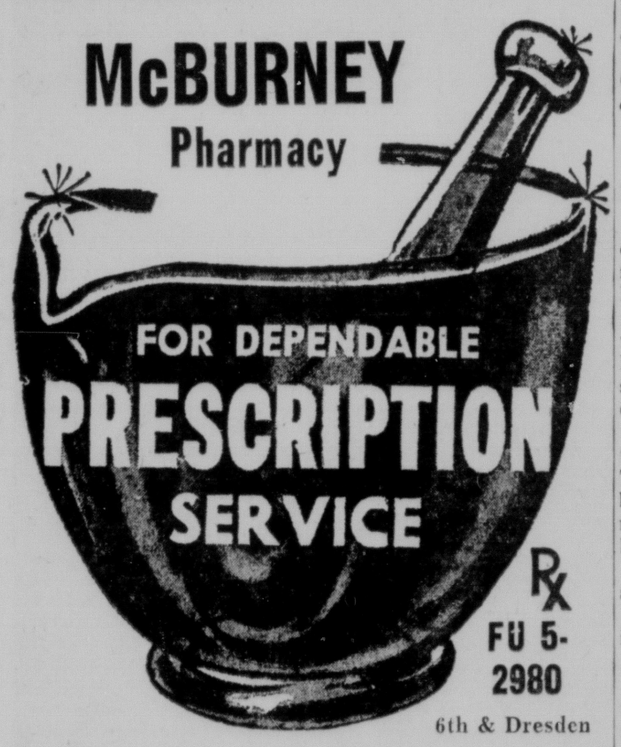

Farms with an average acreage of 15 acres of wheat or less during 1960 and 1961 would not be subject to the program unless they choose.

If such a producer did not elect to be in the program, he could plant up to such a base acreage, but he would not be eligible for price supports or land diversion payments.

PTA Council To Nominate

A nominating committee was named at a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Columbiana County Area PTA Council Tuesday night at Daw Junior High School at Wellsville.

Appointed were Ernie Gonter of Beaver Local, chairman, Mrs. Ed James of Lisbon McKinley, Mrs. Dale Franklin of Westgate, Mrs. John Curry of No. 16 and Mrs. Beatrice Rupp of West Point.

Plans were made for an open meeting Tuesday, Feb. 27, at Westgate School. A National PTA film "Where Children Come First," will be screened. It is being furnished by the Beaver Local Elementary PTA.

Mrs. William Elliott of Alliance, East District director, will be guest speaker.

Mrs. Russell Dysert, president, will attend a presidents' conference at Columbus March 5-6, sponsored by the Ohio PTA Congress. The presidents also will tour the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster.

Clayton Aughinbaugh of Beaver Local was in charge of the program. It included a recording of the keynote speech of the annual PTA convention in October at Toledo by Dr. John Furbay, world traveler, who discussed "The Shape of Things to Come."

The record has been purchased by the council and is available to any unit for a program.

Supreme Court Affirms Reversal In Fraud Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court today affirmed reversal of the conviction of William Glaros, Youngstown, on charges of aiding an automobile accident insurance fraud.

The high court said in a 4-0 decision "there was no direct evidence" that Glaros had any knowledge of a scheme under which John Tobin Jr., embezzled more than $56,000 from American Automobile Insurance Co.

Glaros was convicted in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court on charges of aiding and abetting Tobin.

Tobin, an insurance adjuster, was sentenced in 1958 to a 1-10 year term for faking accident claims. Glaros printed hospital forms and letterheads used in the scheme but records showed that he did other printing for Tobin at regular rates.

The Supreme Court said, "Tobin came into possession of the money of his employer by larceny, larceny by trick or false pretenses—not by embezzlement."

Because Tobin was not guilty of embezzlement, the court added, Glaros "cannot be found guilty of aiding and abetting Tobin" in an embezzlement.

Printing for Tobin included a page of the Youngstown Vindicator in which an account of a fake accident had been inserted.

22 Cars On Freight Train Derail In Lima

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Twenty - two cars in the middle of a long freight train derailed in downtown Lima today.

No one was hurt and damage was confined to Erie - Lackawana Railroad property. Several main streets were blocked at the height of the morning rush hour.

Observers estimated that the train was at least 100 cars long. The first car derailed was about half way back and 25 or so cars remained on the tracks behind the last derailed one.

Three tracks were ripped up and a fourth blocked by the wreckage.

Soviet Official Gets Riled At Interview In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet embassy official Yuri V. Fillipov wound up a 1½-hour interview with four Findlay (Ohio) College students on a pleasant note Tuesday—but not before getting pretty riled.

Some of the questions Leo Savage, 22, a sophomore from Marion, Ohio, submitted to the Soviet counselor were "out of taste," Fillipov complained.

At one point the Russian snapped: "You're not trying to find out the truth . . . There is some kind of unfriendliness . . . Where did you get all this? Where did you get all these notions?"

Savage and three other members of the Findlay College Club on Political Action visited Fillipov. The others were Jack James of Risingsun, Ohio; Douglas Shepherd of Cleveland, and E. Allen Martin of Franklin County, Pa.

The interview was on the cold war and world problems, and once the Soviet official shook his finger and said Savage was "on Soviet territory, sitting at the Soviet table."

After asking the Marion youth if he really wanted answers, Fillipov spoke flowingly of life under communism. He said reports of a Red China-Russia rift were an invention of the Western press.

"It is against the nature of Socialist nations to have warlike desires," Fillipov said of both Soviet relations with Red China and with the West. Nothing will spoil or shake the fraternal relationship between the two Communist giants, he added.

Another sore point was an inquiry about the political fate of former Soviet foreign minister V. M. Molotov.

"Why are you so interested in this question . . . It has nothing to do with international relations . . . Nobody cares very much here about Molotov," Fillipov said. The Molotov matter is a Soviet internal affair, he said.

The counselor also told Savage it isn't true there is social stratification in Russia, with intellectuals at the top and peasants at the bottom. "The difference between the higher and lower brackets is diminishing and diminishing every day," Fillipov said.

Fillipov earlier asked who was the "father" of the questions, some submitted in advance. Savage told him it was he, on the basis of news reports.

Fillipov objected to such questions as whether he believes Communist world domination is inevitable and whether Soviet troops might intervene in any future Cuban revolution.

After the interview, the Russian dictated a friendly message into the students' tape recorder for playback to Findlay students. It was "very pleasant, very touching" for him to be addressing American youths "to whom belongs the future," he said.

Sheriff Seeks New Trial On Conviction

WOODSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Monroe County Sheriff Homer Antill was free under $1,500 bond today pending action on a motion for a new trial. A jury convicted him Tuesday of assault with a deadly weapon.

Sentencing awaits a parole report as well as a decision on the request for a new trial.

The sheriff was accused of attacking his wife, who was stabbed Dec. 9. The charge against the sheriff was filed by Prosecutor T. J. Kremer.

The sheriff's wife was jailed for a short time during the trial when she declined to testify as to how she was wounded. Later, she testified she was stabbed accidentally.

Crash Hurts City Driver

A city man, injured in a truck-car collision on Route 7 near Rogers Tuesday, was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, which also filed charges against a Lakewood man in a Glenmoor area crash yesterday.

Bruce Smith, 23, of 200 Carolina Ave. was arrested for driving left of center after his 1955 coach skidded on ice on Route 7 about two miles south of Rogers and went into the path of an oncoming tractor-trailer rig operated by William A. Peters, 61, of Pritchard Ave., Lisbon.

Smith was treated at Salem City Hospital for abrasions of the cheek and elbow and a laceration of the scalp. Peters was unhurt, officers said. There was considerable damage to the auto, they added.

Donald Piper, 30, of Lakewood was cited on a similar charge after his car went out of control on Route 267 near Glenmoor and rammed an oncoming auto driven by Jesse R. Backus, 58, of Wellsville R. D. 1, who tried to avoid the crash, the patrol said.

Neither driver was hurt, but Piper's auto received considerable damage.

Would Tighten Wheat Curbs

Controls On Feed Grains Proposed For First Time

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy's new farm program would tighten controls on wheat and apply controls to feed grains for the first time in an effort to bring about an eventual balance between supply and demand.

Farmers would be required to reduce total wheat plantings, perhaps 20 per cent from their long-time level of 55 million acres, for a four or five-year period during which surpluses would be reduced.

Production shares of wheat and feed grains would be set below estimated requirements thus government stocks would be tapped to meet the remaining demand.

In the case of wheat, each grower would be given a share of the market for wheat used for food and a share of the export market. He would get a higher support for the domestically used grain than for that exported.

A major purpose of this dual price plan would be to reduce, if not eliminate, government export subsidies. Because U.S. wheat prices have been supported above world prices, subsidies have been necessary to meet foreign competition.

The two programs carry powerful economic persuaders for farmer acceptance.

Both the wheat and the feed grain programs would require approval by at least two-thirds of growers voting in a referendum. But should the programs be rejected, the government would withdraw price supports.

In addition, it would reserve the right to sell on the market up to 200 million bushels of its surplus wheat and 350 million bushels of its surplus feed grains annually. In most years, such sales would likely drive down prices.

By comparison, present programs require price supports for farmers planting within allotments even if controls are defeated, but at lower levels than otherwise would prevail.

Also, present permanent programs for wheat and feed grains greatly limit government sales of surpluses.

The Kennedy program would authorize payments on diverted land, as in the case with this year's emergency wheat program and the 1961 and 1962 feed grain programs.

To encourage farmer cooperation, the new program would levy penalties on excess production of wheat and feed grains which would be very close to present market prices. Such a penalty could be expected to end the practice by some farmers of producing more than their production shares.

Supports for wheat for domestic food use would range between 75 and 90 per cent of the parity price goal of farm programs. The present support is about 82 per cent. The support for export wheat would be set by the government on a scale between zero and 90 per cent of parity. Presumably this price would be kept close to the world price which now is about 62 per cent of parity.

Wheat not needed for either the domestic food market or for export would be subject to a support price in line with prices of feed grains —about 45 to 50 per cent of parity.

Supports would be denied to those who did not comply with all acreage allotments.

A single feed grain acreage allotment would be given each farm. The latter could grow whichever of the four feed grains or any combination that he desired. Small farms which grew an average of 25 acres or less of these grains during a base period would not be subject to the control program unless they elected to participate.

The feed grain price support range would remain at its present level—65 to 90 per cent of parity. Supports now are 75 per cent of parity.

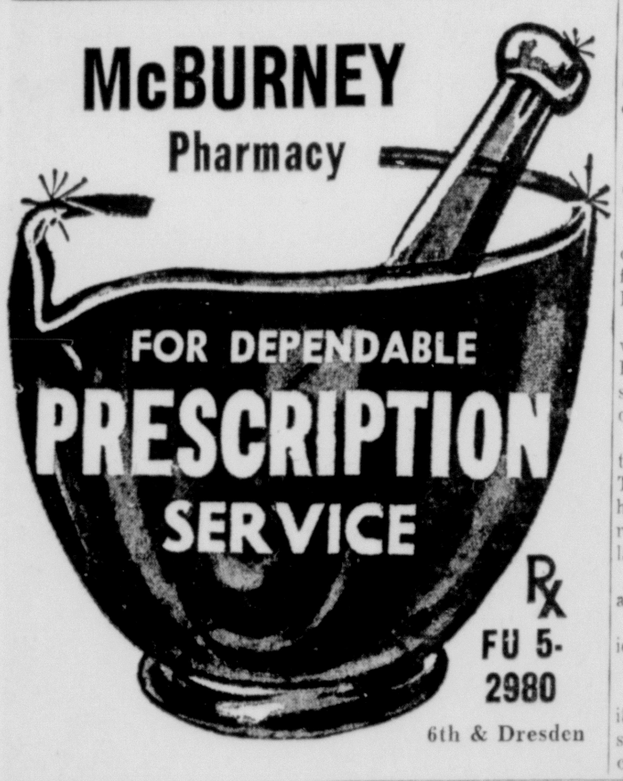

Farms with an average acreage of 15 acres of wheat or less during 1960 and 1961 would not be subject to the program unless they choose.

If such a producer did not elect to be in the program, he could plant up to such a base acreage, but he would not be eligible for price supports or land diversion payments.

PTA Council To Nominate

A nominating committee was named at a meeting of the Board of Managers of the Columbiana County Area PTA Council Tuesday night at Daw Junior High School at Wellsville.

Appointed were Ernie Gonter of Beaver Local, chairman, Mrs. Ed James of Lisbon McKinley, Mrs. Dale Franklin of Westgate, Mrs. John Curry of No. 16 and Mrs. Beatrice Rupp of West Point.

Plans were made for an open meeting Tuesday, Feb. 27, at Westgate School. A National PTA film "Where Children Come First," will be screened. It is being furnished by the Beaver Local Elementary PTA.

Mrs. William Elliott of Alliance, East District director, will be guest speaker.

Mrs. Russell Dysert, president, will attend a presidents' conference at Columbus March 5-6, sponsored by the Ohio PTA Congress. The presidents also will tour the Boys Industrial School at Lancaster.

Clayton Aughinbaugh of Beaver Local was in charge of the program. It included a recording of the keynote speech of the annual PTA convention in October at Toledo by Dr. John Furbay, world traveler, who discussed "The Shape of Things to Come."

The record has been purchased by the council and is available to any unit for a program.

Supreme Court Affirms Reversal In Fraud Case

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court today affirmed reversal of the conviction of William Glaros, Youngstown, on charges of aiding an automobile accident insurance fraud.

The high court said in a 4-0 decision "there was no direct evidence" that Glaros had any knowledge of a scheme under which John Tobin Jr., embezzled more than $56,000 from American Automobile Insurance Co.

Glaros was convicted in Mahoning County Common Pleas Court on charges of aiding and abetting Tobin.

Tobin, an insurance adjuster, was sentenced in 1958 to a 1-10 year term for faking accident claims. Glaros printed hospital forms and letterheads used in the scheme but records showed that he did other printing for Tobin at regular rates.

The Supreme Court said, "Tobin came into possession of the money of his employer by larceny, larceny by trick or false pretenses—not by embezzlement."

Because Tobin was not guilty of embezzlement, the court added, Glaros "cannot be found guilty of aiding and abetting Tobin" in an embezzlement.

Printing for Tobin included a page of the Youngstown Vindicator in which an account of a fake accident had been inserted.

22 Cars On Freight Train Derail In Lima

LIMA, Ohio (AP)—Twenty - two cars in the middle of a long freight train derailed in downtown Lima today.

No one was hurt and damage was confined to Erie - Lackawana Railroad property. Several main streets were blocked at the height of the morning rush hour.

Observers estimated that the train was at least 100 cars long. The first car derailed was about half way back and 25 or so cars remained on the tracks behind the last derailed one.

Three tracks were ripped up and a fourth blocked by the wreckage.

Soviet Official Gets Riled At Interview In Ohio

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet embassy official Yuri V. Fillipov wound up a 1½-hour interview with four Findlay (Ohio) College students on a pleasant note Tuesday—but not before getting pretty riled.

Some of the questions Leo Savage, 22, a sophomore from Marion, Ohio, submitted to the Soviet counselor were "out of taste," Fillipov complained.

At one point the Russian snapped: "You're not trying to find out the truth . . . There is some kind of unfriendliness . . . Where did you get all this? Where did you get all these notions?"

Savage and three other members of the Findlay College Club on Political Action visited Fillipov. The others were Jack James of Risingsun, Ohio; Douglas Shepherd of Cleveland, and E. Allen Martin of Franklin County, Pa.

The interview was on the cold war and world problems, and once the Soviet official shook his finger and said Savage was "on Soviet territory, sitting at the Soviet table."

After asking the Marion youth if he really wanted answers, Fillipov spoke flowingly of life under communism. He said reports of a Red China-Russia rift were an invention of the Western press.

"It is against the nature of Socialist nations to have warlike desires," Fillipov said of both Soviet relations with Red China and with the West. Nothing will spoil or shake the fraternal relationship between the two Communist giants, he added.

Another sore point was an inquiry about the political fate of former Soviet foreign minister V. M. Molotov.

"Why are you so interested in this question . . . It has nothing to do with international relations . . . Nobody cares very much here about Molotov," Fillipov said. The Molotov matter is a Soviet internal affair, he said.

The counselor also told Savage it isn't true there is social stratification in Russia, with intellectuals at the top and peasants at the bottom. "The difference between the higher and lower brackets is diminishing and diminishing every day," Fillipov said.

Fillipov earlier asked who was the "father" of the questions, some submitted in advance. Savage told him it was he, on the basis of news reports.

Fillipov objected to such questions as whether he believes Communist world domination is inevitable and whether Soviet troops might intervene in any future Cuban revolution.

After the interview, the Russian dictated a friendly message into the students' tape recorder for playback to Findlay students. It was "very pleasant, very touching" for him to be addressing American youths "to whom belongs the future," he said.

Sheriff Seeks New Trial On Conviction

WOODSFIELD, Ohio (AP)—Monroe County Sheriff Homer Antill was free under $1,500 bond today pending action on a motion for a new trial. A jury convicted him Tuesday of assault with a deadly weapon.

Sentencing awaits a parole report as well as a decision on the request for a new trial.

The sheriff was accused of attacking his wife, who was stabbed Dec. 9. The charge against the sheriff was filed by Prosecutor T. J. Kremer.

The sheriff's wife was jailed for a short time during the trial when she declined to testify as to how she was wounded. Later, she testified she was stabbed accidentally.

Crash Hurts City Driver

A city man, injured in a truck-car collision on Route 7 near Rogers Tuesday, was cited by the Ohio Highway Patrol at Lisbon, which also filed charges against a Lakewood man in a Glenmoor area crash yesterday.

Bruce Smith, 23, of 200 Carolina Ave. was arrested for driving left of center after his 1955 coach skidded on ice on Route 7 about two miles south of Rogers and went into the path of an oncoming tractor-trailer rig operated by William A. Peters, 61, of Pritchard Ave., Lisbon.

Smith was treated at Salem City Hospital for abrasions of the cheek and elbow and a laceration of the scalp. Peters was unhurt, officers said. There was considerable damage to the auto, they added.

Donald Piper, 30, of Lakewood was cited on a similar charge after his car went out of control on Route 267 near Glenmoor and rammed an oncoming auto driven by Jesse R. Backus, 58, of Wellsville R. D. 1, who tried to avoid the crash, the patrol said.

Neither driver was hurt, but Piper's auto received considerable damage.

Supplies Distributed For Heart Fund Drive

LISBON — Supplies for the Columbiana County Heart Fund drive, which will begin Thursday, were picked up Tuesday evening at Village Hall.

The drive will last through February, according to Twing Hiscox, county chairman, who is to announce chairmen of the various communities.

Construction Drops $8,425 For January

New construction and remodeling estimated to cost $9,175 got under way in East Liverpool in January, a drop of $8,425 from the $17,600 in building work shown in December.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office issued six permits in January, covering jobs ranging from $50 to $5,000.

The $5,000 permit was issued to the Potters Construction Co. for remodeling of a Smith St. building that will become the principal headquarters of the Milligan Hardware & Supply Co. when it makes a scheduled move out of its present quarters on E. 5th St. at Crook Alley.

A business relocation also is involved in a $1,200 permit issued to Maurice Rapport. It calls for remodeling of a store room at 111-113 E. 5th St., which Rapport's women's wear store will occupy soon.

The room formerly was occupied by Siff's Shoe Store, which recently was consolidated with another operated by the same concern on the Diamond. Rapport's store will move from its present location at 115-117 E. 5th St.

Other January permits, the persons to whom they were issued, the work authorized and the estimated cost of each job:

Marie Faith, to repair a porch on a home at 248 Baum St., $50.

Carroll Corp., to remodel a commercial building at 740 Dresden Ave., $1,500.

Two tear-down permits also were issued. Lundy and Woodrow Price obtained permission to tear down a home at 430 Walnut St., which will be the site of a new business building. The M. & S. Wrecking Co. of Youngstown was given a permit to tear down a building at 237 W. 4th St.

Junior wing Dave Leighton of Excelsior, Minn., broke his personal record in a Dartmouth hockey game. Playing against Boston College, he received a penalty. It was the first time he received two in one season on the ice.

Dick Tiger Named As Fighter Of Month

NEW YORK (AP)—Dick Tiger's knockout triumph over Cuba's Florentino Fernandez has earned the Nigerian the "fighter of the month" award from Ring magazine and a boost in the middleweight rankings.

The British empire 160-pound champion was elevated over Paul Pender, former middleweight champion from Brookline, Mass., to the No. 2 contender's position. Pender was dropped to third. Ring recognizes England's Terry Downes as world champion. Gene Fullmer, the NBA middleweight king from West Jordan, Utah, is the No. 1 contender in the monthly ratings released today.

Construction Drops $8,425 For January

New construction and remodeling estimated to cost $9,175 got under way in East Liverpool in January, a drop of $8,425 from the $17,600 in building work shown in December.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet's office issued six permits in January, covering jobs ranging from $50 to $5,000.

The $5,000 permit was issued to the Potters Construction Co. for remodeling of a Smith St. building that will become the principal headquarters of the Milligan Hardware & Supply Co. when it makes a scheduled move out of its present quarters on E. 5th St. at Crook Alley.

A business relocation also is involved in a $1,200 permit issued to Maurice Rapport. It calls for remodeling of a store room at 111-113 E. 5th St., which Rapport's women's wear store will occupy soon.

The room formerly was occupied by Siff's Shoe Store, which recently was consolidated with another operated by the same concern on the Diamond. Rapport's store will move from its present location at 115-117 E. 5th St.

Other January permits, the persons to whom they were issued, the work authorized and the estimated cost of each job:

Marie Faith, to repair a porch on a home at 248 Baum St., $50.

Carroll Corp., to remodel a commercial building at 740 Dresden Ave., $1,500.

Two tear-down permits also were issued. Lundy and Woodrow Price obtained permission to tear down a home at 430 Walnut St., which will be the site of a new business building. The M. & S. Wrecking Co. of Youngstown was given a permit to tear down a building at 237 W. 4th St.

Junior wing Dave Leighton of Excelsior, Minn., broke his personal record in a Dartmouth hockey game. Playing against Boston College, he received a penalty. It was the first time he received two in one season on the ice.

Sheriff Tells Of Cutbacks

A discussion on law enforcement in Columbiana County and how proposed fund cuts will affect his office was presented by Sheriff Russell Van Fossan at a meeting of the Wellsville Kiwanis Club Tuesday night at Piatt's Tea Room.

The sheriff pointed out he has six men to cover the county and give protection to approximately 40 to 45 thousand residents while there are eight villages and cities with a population of approximately 60 to 65 thousand with approximately 60 police officers.

He said cutbacks in his force will be made next month and he will lose two or three men.

Thirty-five were present, including six visitors from the East Liverpool club and four from the Lisbon club. Guests included Deputies Robert Beresford and Vince Fiber and John Cataldo, a member of the Wellsville Key Club.

This was the largest attendance for over a year.

Joseph Coons, manager of WOHI, will be guest speaker at the meeting Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. at Piatt's.

Troops Rush To Protect 12 Americans

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—An armed column of Malayan troops and scout cars is penetrating deep into terror-stricken Kivu Province to assure the safety of 12 Americans at a Protestant mission, the United Nations announced today.

A U.N. spokesman said no news of specific danger to the mission at Kama had been received, but in the absence of any word from the station the United Nations is acting as a precaution.

American consular officials said the mission headquarters at Wheaton, Ill., had received word from the Kama station the first week in January and was not unduly worried.

Kama is on the fringe of the wild and remote sector of Kivu Province recently terrorized by marauding soldiers from the former rebel capital of Stanleyville. These are the soldiers that massacred 13 Italian airmen in November at nearby Kindu; 21 white Roman Catholic missionaries and an aged Belgian businessman at Kongolo, in north Katanga on New Year's Day; and an unknown number of Africans.

Beaver Petitions Available Feb. 20

Petitions for nominations will be available Feb. 20 for Pennsylvania's primary May 15, the Beaver County Election Bureau at Beaver said today.

The ballot will contain all state offices.

It has no information so far on any special elections. With the first day to obtain and circulate petitions for nominations Feb. 20, the deadline will be March 12.

Each of the 122 political subdivisions will elect two Democratic and two Republican committeemen and committee women, totaling 244.

The county will also help nominate a U.S. senator, governor, lieutenant governor, secretary of internal affairs, representative to Congress, three representatives to the General Assembly and a member of the state committee.

RUSTLE OF SPRING. Crisp white cotton and delicate embroidery spell spring for little girls from kindergarten up through grammer school. The classic dress with a full skirt and sleeveless, collarless bodice has broad bands of embroidery encircling the midriff and hem.

Barber Shop Group Selects Quartet Parade Committees

Committees for the 13th annual "Parade of Quartets" were named at the meeting of the East Liverpool Chapter of SPEBSQSA Monday night at Carpenters Hall.

Two performances are scheduled, March 30 and 31 at Westgate School with an "Afterglow" following the final performance. Talent will be announced after confirmation.

Bob Blatchford is general chairman. Jack Hile and Gerald Jividen will be in charge of the program, and Bill Thomas, Glen Jarvis, Charles Hartenbach and Don Schussler, the stage.

Dick Smith, Ed DeBee and Glen Hart will handle the tickets; Glenn Woods, advertising, and Sam Wolfe and Gerald Watkins, the afterglow.

Blatchford, president, conducted business and named the standing committees for this year. They are:

Bill Thomas, house; Ray Thorn, music librarian; Woods, community service; DeBee, public relations, and Schussler, editor of the monthly paper, "The Woodshedder."

The group voted to change the time of meetings from 8:30 to 8. Bill Brooks, director, conducted a practice session.

Refreshments were served by Wolfe and Thomas. Special rehearsal will be held next Monday at the hall.

Secondary Teachers To Get Data On New School Trends

"Project 63," Hancock County's farsighted educational plan to be ready with new educational ideas and methods when two new high schools are opened, will be "launched" Thursday and Friday with a secondary teachers' workshop at Chester High School.

The workshop has been organized by the administrative committee, consisting of the county's secondary school principals and members of the county staff.

Nine educators from as far away as Illinois and New York will team up with several master teachers from Hancock to present their ideas on such recent educational programs as team teaching, modern mathematics and independent study.

The workshop is designed to help the secondary teachers better understand the new organization methods of instruction, which will be put into practice with the opening of new high schools in Pughtown and Weirton, Supt. Robert H. Hall said.

The Thursday morning session will begin with the keynote address by Dr. Maurice J. Thomas of the University of Pittsburgh. Organized group discussions will complete the forenoon activities.

Teachers will continue group discussions until 2:15 p. m. when Harry Peeler, mathematics instructor of Pelham, N. Y., will give his views on "Modern Mathematics In the Secondary School."

Dr. Delmas Miller of West Virginia University will wind up the first day's work with a summation and projection of the information presented during the opening day.

Angelo Orlandi will discuss "The Core Curriculum, Design and Implications," to get Friday morning's session under way. He is instructor and supervisor of student teaching at University High School in Morgantown.

At 10 a. m., Miss Nadine Clark will discuss "A Modern Social Studies Curriculum." She is from Evanston, Ill., and co-author of several social studies texts. Her talk will be followed by organized group discussions.

Following the afternoon's group discussions, Ned Hoopes will talk on "The Teaching Team — Threat or Promise?"

H. Cliff Hamilton, co-ordinator of the continuing program in educational leadership for the State Department of Education, will conclude the workshop with a summation.

R. M. McFarland, principal of Chester High School, is general chairman for the secondary workshop.

Time Is A March, Not A Waltz

Do You Remember When--

By HAL BOYLE

And you've marched into middle age—or, in some cases, old age—if you can look back in your lifetime and remember when:

The postman blew his whistle twice a day at your door, and you could send a letter across the country for a two-cent stamp.

You and your wife could stay at a good hotel for less than a pet hospital now charges to park your cat or dog overnight.

Women going on trips always toted along a jar of smelling salts as they never knew when they might see some strange sight that could cause them to faint.

Nobody went on a 45-mile train journey without a basket of food big enough to feed half of starving China.

Muggers feared to attack lone ladies as they carried long hatpins sharp enough to skewer a man as neatly as if he were a piece of errant shish-kebab.

Trolley cars carried both a motorman and a conductor, as no one in his right senses could expect a man to collect fares and drive a dangerous vehicle at the same time.

Every home had two social centers—the kitchen and the front porch.

The national drink was near beer, and the national wisecrack was, "Whoever named it near beer was a poor judge of distance."

The height of sophisticated repartee was to shake your head and exclaim, "Boy, that's the cat's pajamas!"

The wealthiest man in town was the one who had a two-buggy stable—and a bathroom with a real tub.

The greatest event of the winter social season in rural areas was the arrival of the mail order catalogues.

One of the great joys of childhood was to look at an eclipse through a smoked piece of broken window glass. If you looked at it with bare eyes, you were bound to go blind.

It was perfectly all right for a grandmother to puff her pipe at home, but any woman who smoked a cigarette in the presence of men was regarded as the devil's plaything.

During the depression you got a free piece of china everytime you bought a ticket to the movies.

The best-behaved kids in the neighborhood were those whose father had the biggest razor strap.

Bedroom Bookworms

LONDON

It is highly unlikely there exists anywhere in the world a letters to the editor column like that in The Times of London.

Within its trim margin rules, Times readers all over the world have found a six-day-per-week forum, a platform, a jousting ground on which they can discuss, argue or primly or grimly battle about any subject within the bounds of propriety and the editor's indulgence.

The subjects, of course, vary widely—from a dour reflection on the state of the world to an indignant protest about the "abominations" of English barbers; from a nostalgic recollection about one-handed piano players to a curt dismissal of the frying pan as a substitute for the grill when cooking bacon.

There is a certain formality and difference about many of the letters. A writer disagreeing with another rarely hauls off and says so outright.

Rather, he may sneak into an argument by saying mildly, "I do not think so-and-so quite grasped the idea" about capital punishment or the price of meat or whatever the subject.

But the letters do not have the machine-tooled one-mindedness of those in Pravda, little of the pedantry or brisk anger of many in American newspapers, and hardly any of the complete unfathomability of some in Japanese and Arabic journals.

Many of The Times letters are one-shot affairs—one-time outpourings of spleen or caution or astonishment or advice which disappear when the newspaper is burned or thrown out, drawing neither comment, reply nor rebuttal.

OCCASIONALLY a letter raises an issue or asked a question which strikes sympathetic nerves throughout England and sends writers briskly or reflectively to their pens or typewriters.

Such as reading in bed.

Shortly before Christmas, 78-year-old Lord Birkett, a retired chief justice, published an article in the Times on his love of reading in which he said:

"I enjoy occasional reading in bed, with the bolster and the pillows properly arranged, with the bed lamp at the right angle and one or two clear hours before it is time to put out the light."

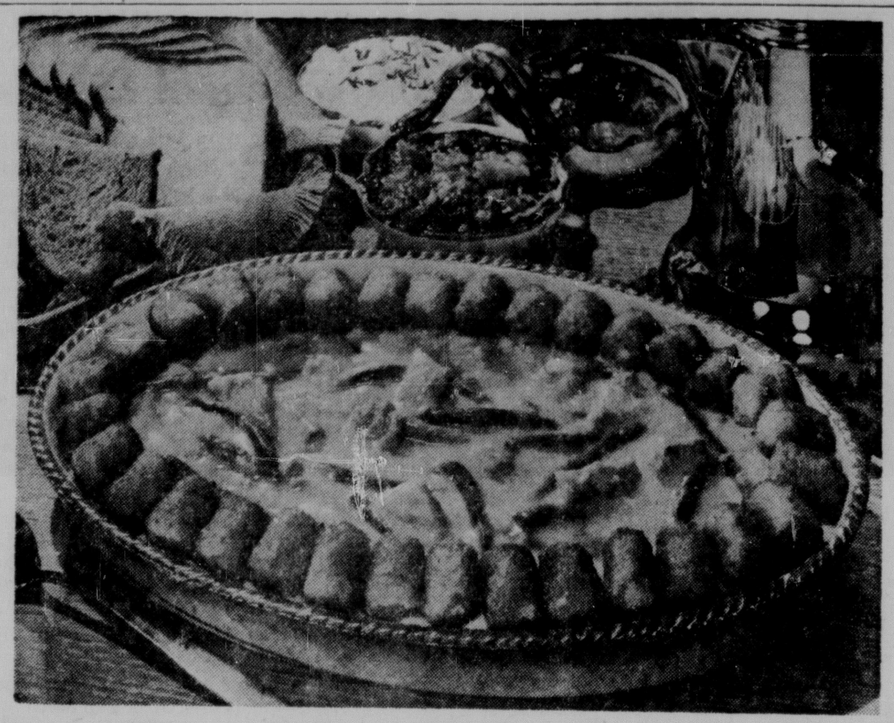

Now there are many readers-in-bed here—as there are everywhere—but reading in bed in England at this particular time is somewhat arduous. It is winter here, and cold, and some bedrooms are unheated.

A few days after Lord Birkett's article was published, the first "Reading in Bed" note appeared in The Times' letters column.

"It would be a great service to those of us who do not enjoy central heating if he (Lord Birkett) or any kind reader could suggest how this can be done without hands and shoulders becoming numb with cold," wrote Sidney Morris, of Birmingham.

Mr. Morris' question struck that sympathetic nerve. He has had 11 replies in The Times' letters column.

Tater-Topped Tuna Makes Tempting Dish

This week as you trundle your basket along the market aisle, keep an eye out for a newcomer to the frozen food cabinet. Tiny taters.

This new product is one of the tastiest and most versatile of all the fine potato products that food manufacturers have developed in recent years.

2 cups seasoned medium white sauce

1 package (9 ounces) quick-frozen whole green beans, cooked and drained

2 cans (7 ounces each) white meat tuna, drained and flaked

½ to ¾ package quick-frozen tiny taters

Combine sauce, beans and tuna fish. Pour into a greased shallow 1½ quart baking dish. Top with tiny taters. Bake in a hot oven (425 degrees F.) 15 minutes, or until potatoes are golden brown. Makes 4 servings.

Nigeria Parley Asks Freeing Of Dependent Areas

LAGOS, Nigeria (AP) — The Lagos summit conference of 20 African nations has called for freeing of all dependent territories at the earliest possible date.

Without setting a target date, the group decided to take "concrete and immediate measures to boycott economically and diplomatically" all foreign powers which do not cooperate.

They rejected the claim of any power exercising colonial trust, or rule, over any territory in Africa or elsewhere that such territory is an integral part of its homeland.

1 Killed, 3 Injured In Car-Truck Crash

WOOSTER, Ohio (AP)—Richard L. Dawson, 21, of Millersburg, was killed and three passengers in his car were injured today in a head-on collision with a tractor-trailer rig on U.S. 30 a mile west of here.

Eyes Sheriff, Race Bet Bills

West Virginia House OKs Sales Tax Extension Bill

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The House, having passed the sales tax extension after a siege of election year oratory, shifted its attention to scheduled votes today on sheriffs' succession and taxes on horse race betting.

The Senate, meanwhile, had at amendment stage the administration's controversial legislation to enable coal pipeline companies to qualify for the right of eminent domain. This would let them go to court to seek property in condemnation suits.

Near the end of a 4½-hour session late yesterday, the House passed the Barron administration's sales tax bill 58-39. This is the bill to keep in effect for another fiscal year the increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the consumers' sales tax rate on sales above $1.

First passed a year ago as a seven-month temporary increase, it was later extended by a special session of the Legislature last summer to run through the rest of this fiscal year. Without action this session, it would die June 30.

The House passed the bill as introduced, beating all amendments. The main attempted amendment, voted down 56-41, called for a straight 3-per-cent tax on a permanent basis, but with food and prescribed medicines exempt.

All 18 House Republicans and 21 Democrats voted against the $9.5-million measure on passage. The count wasn't as close as had generally been forecast.

It may have been that opponents of the bill lost some Democrats from their ranks when the three-hour debate developed, toward the end, into a Democrats-vs-Republicans election-year dispute.

House passage came one day after the Senate approved its own sales tax extension bill 20-11.

Although the outcome is now assured, passage isn't final yet. Both houses must approve the same bill. Final action probably will be given the Senate-passed bill in the House tomorrow.

Another administration tax bill was up for House passage today. As originally introduced, it simply would have prolonged for another fiscal year a one-year increase in the tax on pari-mutuel betting at West Virginia's four horse race tracks. The increase was from 5 to 6 per cent.

But the House Finance Committee wrote in special provisions for harness racing. This was done because the state's only harness track, Wheeling Downs, said it lost $185,000 last year.

Under the pending bill, the tax on betting at a harness track would be 3 per cent on the first $10,000 wagered daily, 4 per cent on the next $40,000, 5 per cent on the next $50,000, 6 per cent on the next $300,000, and 7 per cent on all over $400,000.

Finance Chairman Ivor F. Boiarsky, D-Kanawha, told the House yesterday that tax receipts from 44 days of harness racing at Wheeling last year totaled $169,934. Under the pending bill, this would have been $117,294, he said.

But he also said the state won't lose money if the Racing Commission authorizes the 64 days of racing Wheeling Downs wants this year.

The Senate passed 26-5 yesterday its own version of the pari-mutuel bill. It is the same as the House bill as it relates thoroughbred racing but contains a different version of tax relief for Wheeling Downs.

A resolution to put a constitutional amendment before the state's voters in November was up for House adoption today, with a two-thirds vote required. The amendment would repeal the prohibition against a sheriff succeeding himself and permit two successive terms.

The sheriff measure has not yet been before the Senate.

Neither has another constitutional amendment which the House by an 81-16 vote approved yesterday for submission to the electorate in November.

This amendment would write into the state constitution the guarantee, followed for 61 years, of at least one House seat for every county. It would repeal the requirement, ignored for the same length of time, for grouping low-population counties into districts to share delegates.

The amendment simply would make the constitution conform with the way the House has been apportioning its own seats since 1901.

Fruit Nutrition 'Schools' Slated

LISBON — Area orchardists may participate in a series of fruit schools on fruit tree nutrition to be conducted during February, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

The course for producers will concern principles of soil fertility, plant growth, fruit color and effect of cultural practices on production.

Eldon Banta, extension horticulturist at Ohio State University, is co-ordinating the school, to be conducted by the Co-operative Extension Service. Sessions will include:

Feb. 7, Session 1 — Crestview High School—10 a.m., Banta will lead discussion on "The Nature of Soil and Soil-Root Relationships."

Session 2 — 1:30 p.m., Banta will lead a discussion on "Basic Physiological Processes In Fruit Trees."

Feb. 14, Session 3 — Fairfield School — 7:30 p.m. James Beatti, department of horticulture of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster, will lead a discussion on "Mineral Nutrition In Relation to Cultural Practices."

Feb. 21, session 4 — same location and time, Clive Donoho of the experiment station, will lead a discussion on "Growth Regulating Substances."

All area orchardists may attend all sessions, Myers said.

Seminar On Ohio Funds Attracts Audience Of 500

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Public seminar No. 4 on state finances wound up Tuesday night with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and some of his cabinet fielding 40 questions from an audience estimated at nearly 500.

Regarding the conflicting reports on the state's solvency, will there be any delay in payment of School Foundation subsidies?

DiSalle: We'll meet the state School Foundation payments in February (about $44 million worth).

Is the state going to be able to meet its obligations the rest of this year to its retirement systems?

Finance Director James H. Maloon: 'it's expected we'll be in a position to make these payments over the biennium (ending June 1963). (though perhaps not on a strict schedule, Maloon implied.)

What's the most equitable way for generating more funds for state and local governments?

DiSalle: The state is principally in the excise tax field, and local governments are mostly in the real estate tax field augmented in some municipalities by city income taxes. The Ohio Constitution allows a state income tax, but half of it must go back to local governments. A state income tax might pre-empt the field from local income taxes, and "my own personal opinion is the state should not go into the income tax field. I think the state will be pretty much restricted in the future to the excise tax field in which it now operates."

Could the federal government force the state to meet minimum standards for public assistance?

Welfare Director Mrs. Mary Gorman: There is no way the government can force this except by withholding federal aid.

What can we (on relief) do to keep our children from starving?

DiSalle: I wish I knew the answer.

At one point, a man rose and voiced objections to increased taxes. "I'm on a fixed income," he said, "and can't stand further tax increases."

Fontana Dam, on the Little Tennessee River in North Carolina, is the highest dam in the United States, east of the Rockies. It is 480 feet high.

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP)—The House, having passed the sales tax extension after a siege of election year oratory, shifted its attention to scheduled votes today on sheriffs' succession and taxes on horse race betting.

The Senate, meanwhile, had at amendment stage the administration's controversial legislation to enable coal pipeline companies to qualify for the right of eminent domain. This would let them go to court to seek property in condemnation suits.

Near the end of a 4½-hour session late yesterday, the House passed the Barron administration's sales tax bill 58-39. This is the bill to keep in effect for another fiscal year the increase from 2 to 3 per cent in the consumers' sales tax rate on sales above $1.

First passed a year ago as a seven-month temporary increase, it was later extended by a special session of the Legislature last summer to run through the rest of this fiscal year. Without action this session, it would die June 30.

The House passed the bill as introduced, beating all amendments. The main attempted amendment, voted down 56-41, called for a straight 3-per-cent tax on a permanent basis, but with food and prescribed medicines exempt.

All 18 House Republicans and 21 Democrats voted against the $9.5-million measure on passage. The count wasn't as close as had generally been forecast.

It may have been that opponents of the bill lost some Democrats from their ranks when the three-hour debate developed, toward the end, into a Democrats-vs-Republicans election-year dispute.

House passage came one day after the Senate approved its own sales tax extension bill 20-11.

Although the outcome is now assured, passage isn't final yet. Both houses must approve the same bill. Final action probably will be given the Senate-passed bill in the House tomorrow.

Another administration tax bill was up for House passage today. As originally introduced, it simply would have prolonged for another fiscal year a one-year increase in the tax on pari-mutuel betting at West Virginia's four horse race tracks. The increase was from 5 to 6 per cent.

But the House Finance Committee wrote in special provisions for harness racing. This was done because the state's only harness track, Wheeling Downs, said it lost $185,000 last year.

Under the pending bill, the tax on betting at a harness track would be 3 per cent on the first $10,000 wagered daily, 4 per cent on the next $40,000, 5 per cent on the next $50,000, 6 per cent on the next $300,000, and 7 per cent on all over $400,000.

Finance Chairman Ivor F. Boiarsky, D-Kanawha, told the House yesterday that tax receipts from 44 days of harness racing at Wheeling last year totaled $169,934. Under the pending bill, this would have been $117,294, he said.

But he also said the state won't lose money if the Racing Commission authorizes the 64 days of racing Wheeling Downs wants this year.

The Senate passed 26-5 yesterday its own version of the parimutuel bill. It is the same as the House bill as it relates thoroughbred racing but contains a different version of tax relief for Wheeling Downs.

A resolution to put a constitutional amendment before the state's voters in November was up for House adoption today, with a two-thirds vote required. The amendment would repeal the prohibition against a sheriff succeeding himself and permit two successive terms.

The sheriff measure has not yet been before the Senate.

Neither has another constitutional amendment which the House by an 81-16 vote approved yesterday for submission to the electorate in November.

This amendment would write into the state constitution the guarantee, followed for 61 years, of at least one House seat for every county. It would repeal the requirement, ignored for the same length of time, for grouping low-population counties into districts to share delegates.

The amendment simply would make the constitution conform with the way the House has been apportioning its own seats since 1901.

Fruit Nutrition 'Schools' Slated

LISBON — Area orchardists may participate in a series of fruit schools on fruit tree nutrition to be conducted during February, according to Don Myers, county extension agent in agriculture.

The course for producers will concern principles of soil fertility, plant growth, fruit color and effect of cultural practices on production.

Eldon Banta, extension horticulturist at Ohio State University, is co-ordinating the school, to be conducted by the Co-operative Extension Service. Sessions will include:

Feb. 7, Session 1 — Crestview High School—10 a.m., Banta will lead discussion on "The Nature of Soil and Soil-Root Relationships."

Session 2 — 1:30 p.m., Banta will lead a discussion on "Basic Physiological Processes In Fruit Trees."

Feb. 14, Session 3 — Fairfield School — 7:30 p.m. James Beatti, department of horticulture of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster, will lead a discussion on "Mineral Nutrition In Relation to Cultural Practices."

Feb. 21, session 4 — same location and time, Clive Donoho of the experiment station, will lead a discussion on "Growth Regulating Substances."

All area orchardists may attend all sessions, Myers said.

Seminar On Ohio Funds Attracts Audience Of 500

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Public seminar No. 4 on state finances wound up Tuesday night with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and some of his cabinet fielding 40 questions from an audience estimated at nearly 500.

Regarding the conflicting reports on the state's solvency, will there be any delay in payment of School Foundation subsidies?

DiSalle: We'll meet the state School Foundation payments in February (about $44 million worth).

Is the state going to be able to meet its obligations the rest of this year to its retirement systems?

Finance Director James H. Maloon: 'it's expected we'll be in a position to make these payments over the biennium (ending June 1963). (though perhaps not on a strict schedule, Maloon implied.)

What's the most equitable way for generating more funds for state and local governments?

DiSalle: The state is principally in the excise tax field, and local governments are mostly in the real estate tax field augmented in some municipalities by city income taxes. The Ohio Constitution allows a state income tax, but half of it must go back to local governments. A state income tax might pre-empt the field from local income taxes, and "my own personal opinion is the state should not go into the income tax field. I think the state will be pretty much restricted in the future to the excise tax field in which it now operates."

Could the federal government force the state to meet minimum standards for public assistance?

Welfare Director Mrs. Mary Gorman: There is no way the government can force this except by withholding federal aid.

What can we (on relief) do to keep our children from starving?

DiSalle: I wish I knew the answer.

Fear Grips Residents

Guerrillas Encircle Viet Capital In Virtual Seige

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP)—Most of the two million residents of this big Asian capital city are living, in effect, in a state of siege.

This is one of the grimmest aspects of the civil war in South Viet Nam, the southeast Asian nation the United States is committed to defend.

You can take a plane to Tokyo or San Francisco if you have the price of a ticket but you can't reach Saigon by car, bus, train or bicycle without taking your life into your hands.

Thousands of people still do, mostly by bus, but they face the ever-present threat of ambush by communist guerrillas infesting the countryside.

On the surface, except for American and Vietnamese soldiers on the streets, Saigon does not look much like the capital of a nation at war. The people strolling its peaceful, tree - lined boulevards show little evidence of the tension of a besieged city.

But ordinary Vietnamese you talk to in cafes, shops and offices say the siege of Saigon is the aspect of the civil war that hits them hardest.

It means families split apart, livelihoods threatened, a growing sense of anxiety, insecurity and fear.

No army formations encircle Saigon, but the communists have come close to achieving the same effect by means much more insidious and economical.

All roads leading out of Saigon are subject to mining, ambush and sabotage by the Viet Cong. Many of them are completely under Viet Cong control.

In the last six weeks an American civil engineer, two U. S. soldiers, a French priest, two French planters, a Japanese engineer and scores of Vietnamese government officials, soldiers and civilians have been killed, wounded or kidnaped in road ambushes, some of them a few minutes drive out of Saigon.

Twelve Vietnamese soldiers were killed and 25 wounded within 48 hours in separate ambushes, all within 25 miles of saigon.

Roads are mined, bridges blown up and Viet Cong guerrillas fire indiscriminately on passing traffic from roadside cover.

Public buses and private automobiles have been attacked and their occupants robbed, murdered or kidnaped barely beyond the city's outskirts.

First Phase Set March 21-24 In Polio Inoculation

The first phase of a county-wide polio inoculation drive, utilizing the Sabin oral vaccine, has been set tentatively for March 21-24 by the Columbiana County Medical Society.

The second inoculation phase will follow in four to six weeks, according to the executive committee of the society, which completed preliminary plans at a meeting this week with Dr. L. S. Pritchard of Columbiana, chairman of the polio project committee.

The serum in liquid form is to be made available to children and adults at schools, hospitals, factories and four other central locations to be announced when final plans are made.

Approval of the project was given by the society at a dinner meeting earlier this month. Plans call for immunization of 60,000 persons in the 2-to-50 age group.

Health Council Member Named

LISBON — Charles Gause of Hanover Township was elected a new member of the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council at a meeting Tuesday night at the County Extension Service office. He succeeds Roy Painter.

Members re-elected to two-year terms were Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, the Rev. Tom Hammerton of East Palestine and Jerry Colaizzi and Miss Lillian Schroder of Salem.

Re-elected members - at - large were Harry Stockdale of East Liverpool, county sanitarian; Mrs. Ralph Phillis of Salem R. D. 3 and Charles L. Morlan of Leetonia R. D. 1.

E. S. Kerr of Salem, president, was in charge. His office and that of vice president are for two-year periods and Kerr just completed his first year.

Mrs. Sybel Degnan of Leetonia R. D. 2 was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Jennings Heads Fraternity Group

The association is comprised of the 32 social fraternities on the University of Wisconsin campus and represents approximately 2,000 men.

Jennings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Jennings, 743 Garner Ave. He was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1957 and is a junior at the university, majoring in finance and accounting. He presently is completing a term as president of his own fraternity, Phi Gamma Delta, and has been quite active in the Wisconsin Conservative Club, the Young Republicans and a member of several committees at the university. He was a member of the Wisconsin football team for two years.

U.S. Blasts Another Underground A-Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has announced detonation of another nuclear device at its underground testing site in Nevada.

The AEC said Tuesday's explosion, 11th underground test it has announced, was of low yield, This normally means an explosive power of less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

The Bible is made up of 66 books, 1,189 chapters, 31,173 verses, 773,746 words, and 3,586,460 letters.

'Racing Into Huge Deficits'

Bolton Raps Kennedy On $92.5 Billion Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio, says the administration seems to be "racing headlong into future deficits of enormous size."

She said President Kennedy, in announcing his 1963 budget of $92.5 billion, is advocating "spending all income at a time of peak prosperity and by starting new programs certain to cost billions in future years."

Mrs. Bolton, in a letter to her 22nd District constituents, said Kennedy's budget is "greater than we spent in three of the four World War II years; $11 billion more than last year's budget and $16 billion more than the first Eisenhower budget."

Noting that interest on the national debt is now running in excess of $9 billion, she said, "By next year, at the current rate, the interest will be more than $10 billion."

She said, "It is too easy to lose perspective and to think a million dollars added here and there is insignificant simply because it is relatively minor when measured against billion-dollar defense expenditures.

"These problems indicate the most important duty of the Congress in deciding questions of the budget: To maintain a clear sense of what a dollar is."

A breakdown of the annual interest on the national debt amounts to $50.80 for every man, woman and child in the country, she said.

"The only way to decrease this cost is to reduce the debt. Yet nowhere in the budget message is there any sugeestion that the administration intends to do this. The debt and much of the cost of all the lavish programs now being enlarged is simply passed on to future generations," she said.

"We need to keep in mind that dollars added to the budget must come from the taxpayers somewhere, or else be a deficit added to the national debt," she continued.

"Is it any wonder that many of us are emphasizing the absolute necessity for a responsible attitude toward government and a definite priority agenda for our national needs?" She asked.

Newell District Youth Event Set

Youth people from Newell area churches will meet Thursday at 7:30 p. m. in the Newell First Presbyterian Church for a special event in observance of Youth Week.

Candidates Cautioned On Filing Deadline

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Candidates for the state's May 8 primary election will have until midnight Saturday to file certificates of candidacy.

Secretary of State Joe F. Burdett said his office will be open until midnight Saturday and will honor certificates received by mail if they are postmarked before that time.

This will be the first off-year primary to be held in May. They previously were held in August. A 1959 legislative act provided for all primaries to be held in May, as they are in presidential election years.

Resolution Asks Salary Doubled For Legislators

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Sen. Arch W. Riley, D-Ohio, sponsored today a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to double the annual pay of legislators and provide them with $15 a day for expenses while in session.

The amendment would increase the lawmakers' annual salary from $1,500 to $3,000. They now get no additional expense allowance. An amendment adopted in 1954 last increased legislators' pay $500 to $1,500.

Riley also introduced in the Senate a bill to put the amendment on the general election ballot in November should the Legislature muster the required majority for adoption of the resolution.

West Point Club Sets Turkey Shoot Sunday

WEST POINT — Final plans were made for a turkey shoot when the West Point Rod and Gun Club met Monday evening with Steve Barborak, president, presiding. The public is invited to the shoot to be held Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at the club grounds on Route 30.

In other business, a committee, Jay Chuck and William Plunkett, were appointed to make plans for a supper to be held Sunday Feb. 11, along with a program of entertainment. This will replace the regular meeting scheduled Feb. 12.

Members will be paid $3 for the feet of fox caught or shot. A discussion was held on the purchase of a clubhouse but no official action was taken.

LISBON — Charles Gause of Hanover Township was elected a new member of the Columbiana County Health and Safety Council at a meeting Tuesday night at the County Extension Service office. He succeeds Roy Painter.

Members re-elected to two-year terms were Atty. Donald Elliott of Rogers, the Rev. Tom Hammerton of East Palestine and Jerry Colaizzi and Miss Lillian Schroder of Salem.

Re-elected members - at - large were Harry Stockdale of East Liverpool, county sanitarian; Mrs. Ralph Phillis of Salem R. D. 3 and Charles L. Morlan of Leetonia R. D. 1.

E. S. Kerr of Salem, president, was in charge. His office and that of vice president are for two-year periods and Kerr just completed his first year.

Mrs. Sybel Degnan of Leetonia R. D. 2 was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Jennings Heads Fraternity Group

The association is comprised of the 32 social fraternities on the University of Wisconsin campus and represents approximately 2,-000 men.

Jennings is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Jennings, 743 Garner Ave. He was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1957 and is a junior at the university, majoring in finance and accounting. He presently is completing a term as president of his own fraternity, Phi Gamma Delta, and has been quite active in the Wisconsin Conservative Club, the Young Republicans and a member of several committees at the university. He was a member of the Wisconsin football team for two years.

U.S. Blasts Another Underground A-Test

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Atomic Energy Commission has announced detonation of another nuclear device at its underground testing site in Nevada.

The AEC said Tuesday's explosion, 11th underground test it has announced, was of low yield, This normally means an explosive power of less than 20,000 tons of TNT.

The Bible is made up of 66 books, 1,189 chapters, 31,173 verses, 773,746 words, and 3,586,460 letters.

'Racing Into Huge Deficits'

Bolton Raps Kennedy On $92.5 Billion Budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Frances P. Bolton, R-Ohio, says the administration seems to be "racing headlong into future deficits of enormous size."

She said President Kennedy, in announcing his 1963 budget of $92.5 billion, is advocating "spending all income at a time of peak prosperity and by starting new programs certain to cost billions in future years."

Mrs. Bolton, in a letter to her 22nd District constituents, said Kennedy's budget is "greater than we spent in three of the four World War II years; $11 billion more than last year's budget and $16 billion more than the first Eisenhower budget."

Noting that interest on the national debt is now running in excess of $9 billion, she said, "By next year, at the current rate, the interest will be more than $10 billion."

She said, "It is too easy to lose perspective and to think a million dollars added here and there is insignificant simply because it is relatively minor when measured against billion-dollar defense expenditures.

"These problems indicate the most important duty of the Congress in deciding questions of the budget: To maintain a clear sense of what a dollar is."

A breakdown of the annual interest on the national debt amounts to $50.80 for every man, woman and child in the country, she said.

"The only way to decrease this cost is to reduce the debt. Yet nowhere in the budget message is there any sugeestion that the administration intends to do this. The debt and much of the cost of all the lavish programs now being enlarged is simply passed on to future generations," she said.

"We need to keep in mind that dollars added to the budget must come from the taxpayers somewhere, or else be a deficit added to the national debt," she continued.

"Is it any wonder that many of us are emphasizing the absolute necessity for a responsible attitude toward government and a definite priority agenda for our national needs?" She asked.

Candidates Cautioned On Filing Deadline

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Candidates for the state's May 8 primary election will have until midnight Saturday to file certificates of candidacy.

Secretary of State Joe F. Burdett said his office will be open until midnight Saturday and will honor certificates received by mail if they are postmarked before that time.

This will be the first off-year primary to be held in May. They previously were held in August. A 1959 legislative act provided for all primaries to be held in May, as they are in presidential election years.

Resolution Asks Salary Doubled For Legislators

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Sen. Arch W. Riley, D-Ohio, sponsored today a resolution proposing a constitutional amendment to double the annual pay of legislators and provide them with $15 a day for expenses while in session.

The amendment would increase the lawmakers' annual salary from $1,500 to $3,000. They now get no additional expense allowance. An amendment adopted in 1954 last increased legislators' pay $500 to $1,500.

Riley also introduced in the Senate a bill to put the amendment on the general election ballot in November should the Legislature muster the required majority for adoption of the resolution.

West Point Club Sets Turkey Shoot Sunday

WEST POINT — Final plans were made for a turkey shoot when the West Point Rod and Gun Club met Monday evening with Steve Barborak, president, presiding. The public is invited to the shoot to be held Sunday at 1:30 p. m. at the club grounds on Route 30.

In other business, a committee, Jay Chuck and William Plunkett, were appointed to make plans for a supper to be held Sunday Feb. 11, along with a program of entertainment. This will replace the regular meeting scheduled Feb. 12.

Members will be paid $3 for the feet of fox caught or shot. A discussion was held on the purchase of a clubhouse but no official action was taken.

Board Seeks Ballot Offers

The County Election Board will issue a call Saturday for job printers' bids on furnishing ballots for the May 8 primaries, Frank R. O'Hanlon, clerk, said today.

The bids will be received until 2 p. m. Tuesday, Feb. 13. The board expects to meet on that date to award a ballot contract and also to pass upon the sufficiency of candidates' petitons for ballot places at the primaries. The filing deadline is Feb. 7.

At the same meeting, the board will act on resolutions submitted by subdivisions requesting ballot places for votes on fiscal measures—tax levies and bond issues. Except in unusual "emergency" cases, Feb. 7 also will be the deadline for filing proposed levies and bond issues, O'Hanlon explained.

Seven special propositions already are filed or in sight. Three countywide levy proposals are expected, as well as levies from the East Palestine and Lisbon School Districts and Lisbon village and a bond issue proposal from United Local School District.

Under ordinary circumstances, state law says bond issues and levies must be filed 90 days before the election date. However, in "emergency" cases affecting school districts, a proposition may be filed as late as 25 days before the primaries, O'Hanlon said.

Because of the unusually long list of special propositions, 'it appears we will have a tremendous bill for ballots, despite the hard-pressed condition of the county treasury," O'Hanlon commented.

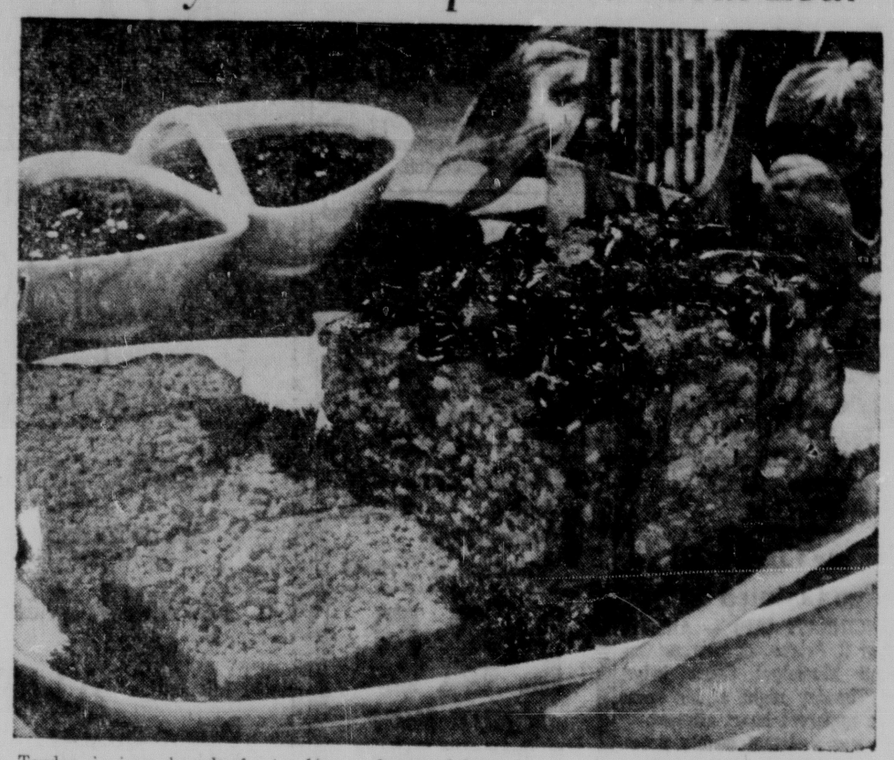

4 Candidates Chosen In Sweetheart Event

EAST PALESTINE — Four East Palestine High School girls have been selected as candidates for "sweetheart" at the annual Sweetheart Ball to be held Feb. 24 by the Band Parents Club.

Cranberry Sauce Complements Meat Loaf

Tender, juicy, ham-beef-oat meat loaf takes on new taste appeal when topped with hot spicy cranberry, pineapple - cranberry, or orange-cranberry sauce.

The jewel toned cranberry sauces not only look gay and festive, but they complement the flavor of this unusually nutritious meat loaf. Rolled oats are an excellent meat extender. Not only do rolled oats help to keep the meat loaf moist and tender, but they make contributions of protein, B vitamins, and minerals.

1½ pounds ground beef
1 cup rolled oats, quick or regular, uncooked
1 cup milk
1 egg
¼ cup chopped onion
1 teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 tablespoon Worcestershire sauce

Combine ingredients and mix well. Pack into loaf pan (9x5x3 inches). Bake in moderate oven (350 degrees F) until meat is done, about 1 hour. Serve with the desired Cranberry Sauce. Yield: 8 servings.

Spicy Cranberry Sauce

Combine 1 can (1 pound) whole cranberry sauce, 2 tablespoons brown sugar, ½ teaspoon cinnamon, and ¼ teaspoon cloves; heat and serve with meat loaf.

Pineapple-Cranberry Sauce

Combine 1 can (1 pound) whole cranberry sauce and 1 can (8½ ounce) crushed pineapple (1 cup); heat and serve with meat loaf.

Orange-Cranberry Sauce

Combine 1 can (1 pound) whole cranberry sauce and 1 tablespoon grated orange rind; heat and serve with meat loaf.

New Jobless Claims Drop Again In Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — For the second week in a row, new claims for unemployment compensation in Ohio showed a decrease.

The Bureau of Unemployment Compensation reported that new claims filed in the week ended Jan. 27 totaled 18,680 compared to the 20,794 filed in the previous week.

But continuing claims of those unemployed one week or more increase from 132,061 to 132,668. In January of last year, the weekly average of such claims on file was 215,654.

New Army Divisions To Be Formed Faster

WASHINGTON (AP)—Two new regular Army divisions will be formed sooner than expected. But Army officials say this doesn't necessarily mean quicker release for Reservists called to active duty last year.

The Army announced uesday the 1st Armored Division will be activated at Ft. Hood, Tex., Feb. 3; and the 5th Mechanized Infantry Division, originally scheduled for March, will be formed Feb. 19 at Ft. Carson, Colo.

Steel Industry Ponders Effect Of 'Spotlight' Role

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) —This is steel's time in the spotlight. Steelmen are happy over the climbing production and the better earnings now being reported. But many are a bit fidgety about the amount of public attention their industry is getting.

It's nice to be a basic industry—some even call it THE basic industry—and know you're that important. It's a bit troubling to be made the example of what should be done and can be done about the wage-price spiral and even the trend of the economy in general.

Many are casting steel in that role this year. The main reason is that the Kennedy administration puts prime significance on the terms which steel workers and management will negotiate in the upcoming wage talks—and on how soon the talks can be concluded. Washington wants no rise in steel prices and cautions labor against demands that might cause such a rise.

Other reasons are that climbing steel production now can be interpreted two ways. It means that the economy is starting a healthy growth trend from the level set when the recovery wiped out the last recession.

If the increased production is largely due to stockpiling against the chance of a strike, the overproduction now, followed by underproduction while buyers live off their inventories later, could upset the general economy.

Some steel mills say their customers aren't building up stocks as much as was expected. Most mills say orders are still coming in very good volume.

The orders are high enough to assure most major steel users all they'll need for the first half of the year at least, according to the metalworking weekly, The Iron Age.

It adds that steel capacity seems adequate to take care of any more orders likely from those wishing to make sure of a supply during the summer. The steel wage contracts expire June 30, so that any work stoppage would come after that.

Whatever the reasons for the upsurge in orders and in production, the figures themselves gladden the hearts of the steel mill managers.

In the last nine weeks steel output has advanced steadily, with the single exception of Christmas week when holidays were in order.

2 Cleveland Boys Find Stolen Bonds

CLEVELAND (AP) — Two 15-year-old boys, John Juchnowski and Richard Bard, found $1,250 worth of stolen U.S. savings bonds in a metal box in Mill Creek Ravine Tuesday night.

The bonds were stolen, along with $1,200 in cash, from the home of Stanley Felczak over the New Year's weekend, police said.

High Court Refuses Review Of Appeal By Fair Operators

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Ohio Supreme Court refused today to review an appeal by operators of the Athens County Fair from an appellate court order for a new trial in a damage suit by a harness race spectator injured in 1957.

The appellate court reversed a Common Pleas Court decision against Margaret Pugh, who claimed negligence on the part of the Athens County Agricultural Society which stages the annual expositions.

She was injured when a driverless sulky ran through a fence opening after a pileup on the track during the race she was watching as a paying patron of the fair.

In other actions, the Supreme Court:

Rejected a plea by property owner Homer Slicker from refusal of lower courts to end one-way designation of Afton Avenue, used by traffic leaving the Boardman School in Mahoning County. Slicker said one-way signs prevented access to his property from Market Street.

Refused to review the appeal of Lyn George from his conviction in Canton Municipal Court June 15, 1960, on a charge of driving an automobile during the suspension of his license. Common Pleas and appellate courts affirmed the conviction. George claimed he was denied a jury trial.

Let stand a $40,000 award to Mrs. Hilda Zuelzke of Sandusky from Ryder Truck Rental, Inc., for injuries received in the 1958 collision of the car in which she was riding and another driven by Edward Dutkiewicz, who serviced vehicles leased by Ryder to Waldock Packing Co., Sandusky.

Let stand the refusal of Erie County courts to block assessments of $11.35 a front foot for street improvements on Perkins Avenue, Sandusky, that Marco C. Palazzo and other property owners claimed were of no special benefit to them. Lower courts upheld the assessments under a 1957 city ordinance.

Motorist In Tavern Fatality Is Charged

LISBON — Reckless operation charges were filed Tuesday in County Judge James L. MacDonald's court against Wayne Hillyer, 32, of Hanoverton.

Hillyer was the driver of a car that smashed into a tavern on Route 30 in Hanoverton Jan. 13, killing Earl McIntosh, 43, of East Rochester and injuring his wife, Margaret, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hohider, owners of the tavern.

Adenauer Recovers

BONN, Germany (AP)— Chancellor Konrad Adenauer has recovered from his spell of the grippe and will return to work Thursday, the government press office announced. Adenauer, now 86, has been ill at home for the past 12 days.

Control Of Milk Production Would Be First In History

WASHINGTON (AP)—Milk production would be controlled for the first time in history under President Kennedy's proposed farm program.

He outlined such a program today in his special farm message to Congress. He said the cost of government dairy price support operations must be reduced.

The alternative to controls, he declared, was a sharp reduction in dairy supports to an annual maximum of $300 million. Support operations this year may run above $600 million.

Kennedy said that under the present program — which does not authorize controls — the government would be required to reduce supports for milk from the present level of 85 per cent of the parity price goal of farm programs to 75 per cent, effective April 1.

But he recommended that Congress authorize the agriculture department, by joint resolution, to continue the present support level until Dec. 31. This would give Congress time to pass legislation authorizing dairy controls and give producers an opportunity to vote on them in a national referendum. Approval by at least two-thirds of the dairymen voting would be required.

Under the control program, each milk producer would be assigned a marketing base equal to his 1961 sales of milk. Thus farmers who went into the dairy business after 1961 would be without a quota or marketing base. Presumably the only way they could get one would be to purchase the marketing base of a dairyman who was in business in 1961.

Former Cincinnati Judge Claimed At 82

CINCINNATI (AP) — Attorney Arthur C. Fricke, 82, onetime Cincinnati Municipal Court judge, died Tuesday night at his home of an apparent heart ailment.

He was assistant county prosecutor from 1907-1910 before moving to the city court bench for four years.

Named By Kennedy

WASHINGTON (AP) — Former Cleveland newspaperwoman Kay Halle is one of three new appointees named by President Kennedy to the Advisory Committee on the Arts. The committee deals with the projected National Cultural Center in Washington.

The vacation and tourist business is one of the three principal industries in 18 of the 50 United States.

Surplus Food Dates Listed

LISBON — Dates have been set for the issuance of surplus foods in February, according to Robert Bycroft, director of the Columbiana County Welfare Department, who said 23½ tons of food was issued in January.

The four distribution points, East Liverpool Central Fire Station, Wellsville City Building, Salem City Building and the Lisbon warehouse distributed 47,055 pounds this month.

Dried milk, 4,887; rice, 2,432; flour, 9,880; corn meal, 7,205; dried eggs, 1,973; rolled oats, 2,857; beans, 5,796; lard, 2,598; butter, 2,798; meat and gravy, 5,819, and peanut butter, 908.

The distribution dates for February are:

Tuesday, Feb. 13 — East Liverpool Central Fire Station for city relief, county welfare, soldiers and sailors and aid for aged cases.

Wednesday, Feb. 14 — Wellsville City Hall, Wellsville relief, county welfare, soldiers and sailors and aid for aged.

Thursday, Feb. 15 — Salem City Hall, Salem relief, county welfare, soldiers and sailors and aid for aged.

Friday, Feb. 16 — Lisbon warehouse for East Palestine Relief, county welfare, soldiers and sailors and aid for aged.

Distribution hours for all four points will be 9 a.m. to noon, Bycroft said.

Burglary Trial Set For Columbiana Man

LISBON -- Richard Masterson, 25, of Columbiana R. D. 2, is scheduled for a jury trial Monday in Common Pleas Court before Judge Raymond S. Buzzard.

Masterson is charged with the burglary Dec. 26 of Smith's Feed Mill, just south of the junction of Routes 7 and 30, and carrying a concealed weapon.

Sheriff Russell J. VanFossan and deputies arrested Masterson on Route 7 after he fled on foot almost 10 miles over rough country. He had a revolver in his coat pocket and six pairs of work gloves from the mill, the sheriff said.

Girl Killed By Car, Mother Sees Tragedy

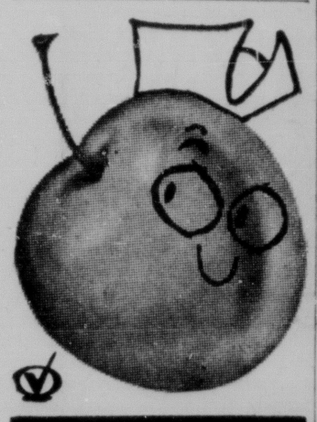

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. Catherine Pearson stood on a West Side street Tuesday night, waiting to cross and escort her 5-year-old foster daughter, Candy Love, who had gone to buy a newspaper for her.

Mrs. Pearson said she saw a car coming and motioned to the child to stay on the other side of the street. Perhaps mistaking the hand wave, the girl dashed in front of the oncoming car, police said. Mrs. Pearson could only watch helplessly as Candy Love was run over and killed by the auto. The driver was not held.

Church Seen One Force To Halt Racial Prejudice

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A Chicago Negro clergyman addressing the Ohio Pastors Convention Tuesday said the church is one of the main forces helping to halt racial prejudice.

The remarks of Dr. Archiblad J. Carey Jr. followed by a day those of Georgia Negro clergyman Dr. Martin Luther King, when King chided the church as the most segregated major institution in the United States.

Dr. Carey did grant that many sections of the nation practice what he called a double standard of morality. And he said worldwide publicity about practices of segregation and discrimination is hurting the U.S. position abroad.

"However," the pastor of Chicago's Quinn Chapel told some 2,500 ministers, "progress is being made.

"There is no segregation in the armed forces, nearly half of the states have passed fair employment practices laws, and advances are seen in higher education and public accommodation," he noted.

Group Plans Trip

LISBON — The Salem - Perry Township Home Demonstration group plans a trip to Pittsburgh next Wednesday to visit points of interest and those interested are to call Mrs. Norman Kornbau of Leetonia, HA. 7-6078, for reservations and details. The cost will be $3.15 per person.

Indiana Won't Invoke Retaliatory Truck Tax

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Indiana's governor says his administration won't invoke a retaliatory tax act that could cost Ohio truckers $1.5 million annually.

Gov. Matthew E. Welsh said, "No steps will be taken to invoke the retaliatory act passed by the last session of the General Assembly." Atty. Gen. Edwin K. Steers had given Welsh an informal opinion that the Indiana act in its present form "is unable to accomplish the purpose for which it was intended."

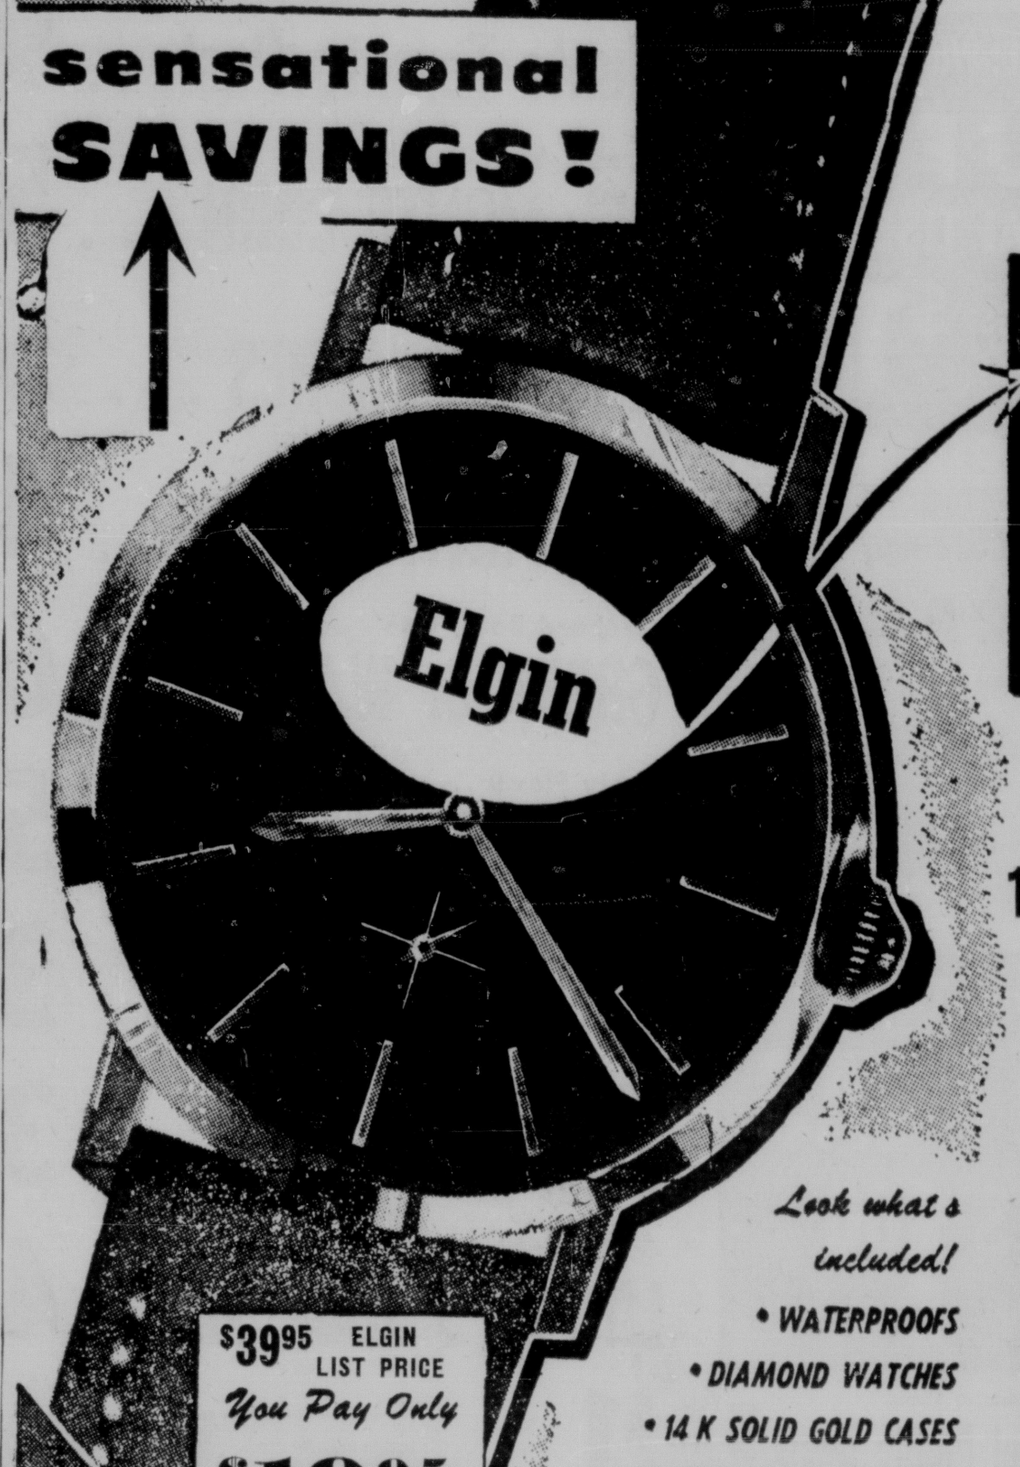

The act provides retailization only when another state levies fines and taxes from which its own truckers are exempt. Ohio's axle-mile tax is nondiscriminatory, applicable to Ohio truckers as well as those from all other states, Welsh noted.

KITCHEN TALK

Carrots, available the year around, are a good source of Vitamin A. Tops from young, tender carrots may be cooked like beet greens or spinach.

ITALIAN POT ROAST

Saute 3 diced onions and 3 minced cloves of garlic in ½ cup TableRite Salad Oil. Rub mixture of 1 tsp. salt, ½ tsp. pepper, ¼ tsp. ginger on 3-5 lb. cut TableRite Beef Chuck Roast and brown well in hot oil or fat. Place browned beef in dutch oven or covered roast pan. Add sauted onion and garlic, ½ tsp. oregano, 1 8-oz. can tomato sauce, ½ lb. sliced mushrooms, ½ cup dry red wine, ½ cup consomme or water, ½ cup pitted ripe olives. Cover, cook slowly 2-3 hours till tender. Remove meat and keep hot. Skim fat from gravy. Slice meat, pour gravy over all and serve hot with potato and vegetable of your choice. Garnish with parsley.

CAMERA CAMEO. Within the framework of the balcony of St. Paul's Cathedral, an impressive "cameo" of the city of London is captured by the camera. The Tower of London Bridge looks like it won't come tumbling down.

Vets' Barracks Holds Induction At Midland Hall

Luke Cadman of Globe St., East Liverpool, commander, and other officers of Midland Barracks 2219, World War I Veterans, were installed Sunday at American Legion Post 481 in Midland.

Others are Elmer Walker, first vice commander; John M. Muschweck, second vice commander, and A. W. Piggott, adjutant, all three of Industry; Adam Cilli, chaplain; Herbert Burgoyne, three-year trustee; Truman E. Rodfong, claims officer; Elmer E. Kessler, sergeant-at-arms, and Mike DeMarco, guard, all of Midland.

The installing officer was Lloyd E. Smith of Beaver Falls, a past commander of Beaver Falls World War I Veterans. Several members of the auxiliary of the barracks were guests.

Merchant Wins House Seat Of Sam Rayburn

SHERMAN, Tex. (AP) — Ray Roberts, a merchant and president pro tem of the Texas Senate, has won the U.S. House seat of his political mentor, the late Sam Rayburn.

The 48-year-old Democrat, jubilant almost to the point of tears, said he was succeeding "the greatest man who ever lived." He promptly telephoned Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, long a political associate, and arranged a victory meeting in Washington Monday.

When the vote count ended Tuesday night Roberts held an insurmountable lead of 16,047 to 13,302 and Slagle had conceded.

Both Roberts and Slagle were proteges of Rayburn and both described themselves as supporters of the Kennedy administration, although Roberts was regarded as more conservative.

South Side School To Issue Report Card

Report cards will be distributed Thursday to students at South Side High School near Hookstown, Principal Charles P. Henderson said.

He reported high and elementary teachers attended an inservice training program Friday at the schools.

The Board of Education of the Southern Beaver County Joint School District will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the cafeteria of the high school. Harvey Todd, president, will preside.

Hungarian Refugee Wants Name Changed

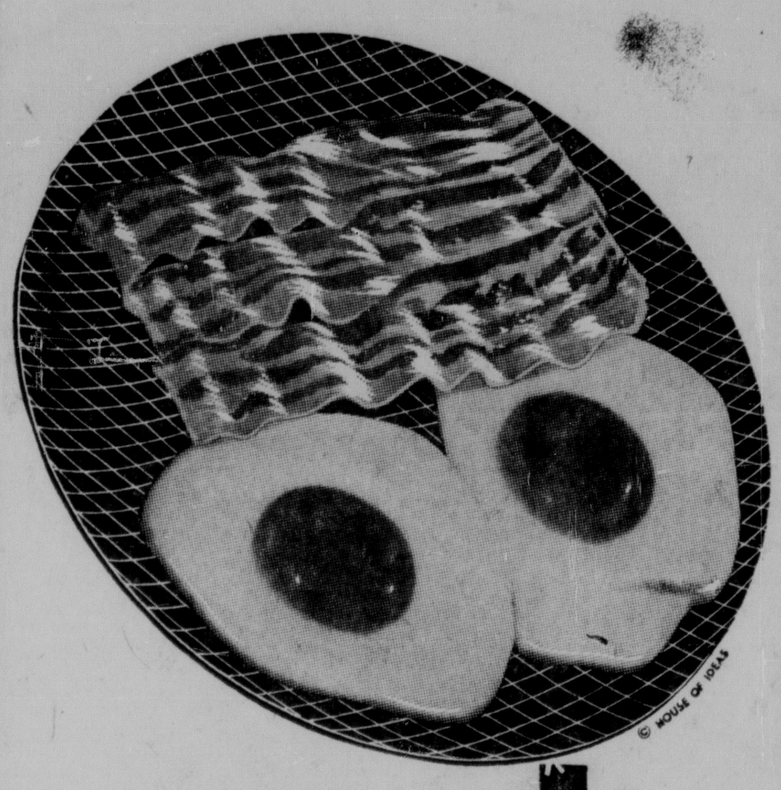

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Hungarian refugee living in suburban Wilkinsburg wants to be known as Andrew G. Valley.

In a petition asking that his name be changed legally he said his present name causes embarrassment and makes it difficult for him to find a job.

His name? Geza Endre Szentgyoergyvoelgyi.

He Was Jealous

REIMS, France (AP)— "I was jealous because he baked better croissants than I did," said baker Robert Jactat when asked in court to explain why he had spread tacks in front of a rival's store. Jactat was fined 600 francs—about $125.

Also, Reluctant Barber

Murder In 'Spaceville'

By AL SIMPSON
Brush-Moore Writer

COCOA BEACH, Fla. — It's either all or nothing here at Cocoa Beach as far as news and excitement are concerned.

One day last week it was the shot to the moon. The next day it was the orbital shot which was postponed at T-minus 20. Plenty of news and plenty of excitement.

Sunday it was dead here.

At this moment the slayer is at large in or near Cocoa Beach.

A VENGEFUL ex-husband, identified as Leonard F. Folds of Orlando, Fla., was being hunted as a suspect in the death of a waitress at the Starlite Motel, NASA news headquarters.

The waitress, Mrs. Betty Jean Folds, 29, was slain when a man pumped six bullets into her.

I've eaten a number of meals at the Starlite Restaurant and well may have been served by the now-slain woman.

As I drove up the highway I came upon the scene of the manhunt. City and county police cars were everywhere, bloodhounds had just been brought in, airplanes were circling overhead and patrol cars had blocked off the area.

I STOPPED and watched awhile as the search moved into a wooded, jungle-like area between the highway and a large bay where it was suspected the hunted man had fled.

Then as I drove on up the highway, after the search had been abandoned in that section, I listened to the local radio station warning everyone to avoid hitchhikers, keep doors locked and call the police immediately if they sighted the killer.

I was on my way to get my hair cut at the time. I needed a haircut but I had a secondary motive for the trip. A few well-placed questions had provided me with the location of John Glenn's favorite barber here.

A LOT OF TALK is passed in a barbershop and I thought I might learn something of interest. But, knowing the security conditions involving John, which I had been encountering, I was not very confident.

Well, in the first place the barber spotted me somehow. Instead of putting me in the chair when it was my turn, he fussed around doing this and that and then told the other barber in the shop that he was going out for coffee.

But before he could get out the door I inquired if I could get a haircut. I detected a little belligerence which I attempted to allay by telling him frankly the two reasons I was there—to get my hair cut and to talk with him about John Glenn.

SPEAKING furtively so no one else would hear, he explained he did not feel he had the right to say anything about John. In the meantime, he had put his barber's smock back on and I had gotten into the chair.

Obviously distressed that he had been exposed as John's favorite barber (by a strange coincidence he greatly resembles John), he said he didn't know who had blown the whistle but he had been bugged by newsmen all week.

I explained that although the whole free world is interested in John and what he is doing, we in Ohio claim him as our own and we're especially interested in what he does and is doing.

BUT IT WAS no use. The barber, obviously was agitated by my presence and I (thinking about my scalp and the razor and shears he was wielding) began to have some concern about the state of my appearance.

So I told him not to worry, I'd drop the whole thing and we'd discuss the manhunt down the road. He said he appreciated this.

Johns seems to inspire that kind of loyalty in the people he contacts. It's certainly a wonderful quality, albeit a little tough on newsmen.

BACK AT MY HOTEL, I went into the office to check for mail. When I said I would be out on the beach if any mail came, the young woman who with her husband manages the motel said:

"You have everybody here amazed at you."

"I do?" I exclaimed with considerable amazement of my own.

"Yes, going swimming in the ocean every day like you do," she explained.

"Come to think of it, I haven't seen anyone else actually go in the water," I said. "How come?"

"Too cold," she replied. "We go in the summer but not in the winter."

"WELL, THIS shirt-sleeve weather sure seems like summer to me," I said. "But maybe we're just a hardy breed up in Ohio."

I don't know if that was the right answer or not, but that's the way it looks to this Buckeye in banana land.

Lull Looms In Berlin Crisis

U.S., Soviet Tensions Seem To Be Easing Off

WASHINGTON (AP)— Tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union seem to be easing off a bit. Even the Berlin crisis may be in for a prolonged lull.

This is the main significance seen here in several fresh developments highlighted by the announcement Tuesday that President Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, will visit the Soviet Union in late April or May.

Salinger said the trip will be made in response to an invitation extended by Soviet editor Alexei Adzhubei, Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law, at a luncheon with President Kennedy.

The Salinger trip could prove in the long run to be a trail blazer for a visit by Kennedy himself. Informed officials say that is not in the plans now. There is still too much tension between Moscow and Washington, as things now stand.

Adzhubei spent three hours talking with Kennedy and it was generally assumed that the Russian followed the same line which he had taken with newsmen who met him at the Soviet Embassy Monday night. His argument then was that though there are many points of East-West dispute each side should take whatever small steps are possible to improve relations. He said this is not the time for big steps.

U.S. officials were reluctant to give deep significance to his remarks. They believe, however, that Khrushchev at least intends to have a cooling off period in East-West conflict.

There was no immediate word as to President Kennedy's own estimate of the situation.

Last Sunday, obviously with Kennedy's blessing, Salinger met in Paris with Mikhail Kharlamov, Soviet Foreign Ministry press chief, and reportedly talked about improving communications between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Their discussion is believed to have covered such things as exchanges of recorded statements and taped television appearances involving Kennedy, Khrushchev, and other high government officials. Adzhubei interviewed Kennedy late last year and published the text in Izvestia, the government newspaper he edits.

How accurately these straws in the wind point to the future course of East-West relations will be determined, in the view of the State Department, not so much by goodwill visits and friendly statements as by what happens.

U.S. leaders say that Berlin offers a critical test case. If Khrushchev does not stir up new trouble over Berlin the Western powers will let the situation ride as it is indefinitely.

A more critical test of the ability of the powers to do something about peace in the world will come in general disarmament negotiations scheduled to open in mid-March.

Bid To End Bus Route Will Be Heard Feb. 27

The State Public Utilities Commission has set a public hearing Tuesday, Feb. 27, at 10 a. m. in the Youngstown City Hall on an application by Eastern Greyhound Lines to discontinue bus service on its route from the E. 5th St. terminal to the state line.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet received official notice of the hearing Tuesday afternoon from the PUCO. Preliminary details on the hearing were sent the mayor earlier in response to a letter which he wrote the commission. However, at that time the date and place of the public hearing had not been fixed.

The hearing is part of Greyhound's move to discontinue service between East Liverpool, Rochester and Pittsburgh. The Beaver Valley Motor Coach Co. of New Brighton seeks to take over the route now served by Greyhound.

Young, Lausche Vote On Opposite Sides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Democrats Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche voted against each other in a Senate roll call Tuesday.

Young voted for and Lausche against a motion to table and thus kill an appeal by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., from a ruling of Vice President Johnson sending the literacy test bill to the Judiciary Committee. The motion was adopted 61-25.

Special Commission Reports

Action, Money Seen Need For Outdoor Recreation

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special commission reported today that a surging need for more outdoor recreation in America must be met by imagination, large-scale action and "money—lots of it."

But the Outdoor Recreation Resources and Review Commission left it to President Kennedy and Congress, and to state and local governments, to figure out price tags and what specific areas should be acquired or improved.

The 15-man commission, headed by Laurance S. Rockefeller, New York, did say that "the first task is to provide recreation for the metropolitan regions, which have the biggest population and demand for recreation and the least space for it."

In urging immediate acquisition of ocean and lake shores, it said that: "Highest priority should be given to acquisition of areas located closest to major population centers and other areas that are immediately threatened. The need is critical—opportunity to place these areas in public ownership is fading each year as other uses encroach."

Basically, the commission said, there is plenty of land and water acreage for recreation, but most of it "is where the people are not."

Rockefeller told a news briefing that it was on purpose that "we haven't come up with either acres or dollars." The commission's idea, he said, was to discuss the principles and tools and leave it to others to determine how they can be used best.

No plans have been developed, he told a questioner, for following through on the report in the legislative field. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., a commission member, said he was sure bills would be introduced to carry out many of the recommendations.

By direction of Congress, the commission has been spending three years and $2.5 million peering into the problem of outdoor fun as it will develop over 40 years—up to the year 2000.

It put more than 50 recommendations on paper. Some probably will be echoed in a vast conservation program, stressing recreation which Kennedy is expected to put before Congress in a special message Feb. 21.

Gets Federal Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hamilton (Ohio) Housing Authority has been granted a $42,500 federal loan to help it plan construction of 250 low-rent homes in Middletown, Ohio. The Public Housing Administration said 100 of the homes are to be designed for occupancy by the elderly.

YMCA's Officers Get New Terms

All officers were re-elected and eight members were returned to the Board of Directors of the YMCA at the annual reorganization meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Y.

Returned for three-year terms as directors are White, J. M. Wells, J. D. Thompson, William H. Vodrey Jr., S. C. Porter, William B. Cooper, M. W. Thompson and Ogilvie.

There are 24 on the board.

A committee was named to investigate the possibility of starting a health club in the old rooms in the basement. It would include a steam room and rubdown tables.

Lions At Cumberland Plan 'Fathers March'

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Lions Club will conduct its annual "Fathers' March" for the March of Dimes campaign Thursday night at 7. Residents have been asked to turn on their porch lights, Squire John D. Herron, community chairman, reported.

A public dinner was held Tuesday night in the VFW Hall by the VFW auxiliary to raise funds for the campaign. Dr. Leonard Yurko of Weirton spoke on birth defects and arthritis.

$252 Netted In Dimes Campaign In Chester

A house-to-house canvass of Chester homes Tuesday night netted $242 for the March of Dimes, Alvin Fineman, chairman of the Kiwanis Club - sponsored campaign, announced today.

Some 18 club members took part in the solicitation. Any householder missed may leave contributions at the Fineman Department Store, according to the chairman, who said some residents were not at home because of a basketball game.

Vets' Barracks Holds Induction At Midland Hall

Luke Cadman of Globe St., East Liverpool, commander, and other officers of Midland Barracks 2219, World War I Veterans, were installed Sunday at American Legion Post 481 in Midland.

Others are Elmer Walker, first vice commander; John M. Muschweck, second vice commander, and A. W. Piggott, adjutant, all three of Industry; Adam Cilli, chaplain; Herbert Burgoyne, three-year trustee; Truman E. Rodfong, claims officer; Elmer E. Kessler, sergeant-at-arms, and Mike DeMarco, guard, all of Midland.

The installing officer was Lloyd E. Smith of Beaver Falls, a past commander of Beaver Falls World War I Veterans. Several members of the auxiliary of the barracks were guests.

Merchant Wins House Seat Of Sam Rayburn

The 48-year-old Democrat, jubilant almost to the point of tears, said he was succeeding "the greatest man who ever lived." He promptly telephoned Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson, long a political associate, and arranged a victory meeting in Washington Monday.

When the vote count ended Tuesday night Roberts held an insurmountable lead of 16,047 to 13,302 and Slagle had conceded.

Both Roberts and Slagle were proteges of Rayburn and both described themselves as supporters of the Kennedy administration, although Roberts was regarded as more conservative.

South Side School To Issue Report Card

Report cards will be distributed Thursday to students at South Side High School near Hooksstown, Principal Charles P. Henderson said.

He reported high and elementary teachers attended an inservice training program Friday at the schools.

The Board of Education of the Southern Beaver County Joint School District will meet Monday at 7:30 p. m. in the cafeteria of the high school. Harvey Todd, president, will preside.

Hungarian Refugee Wants Name Changed

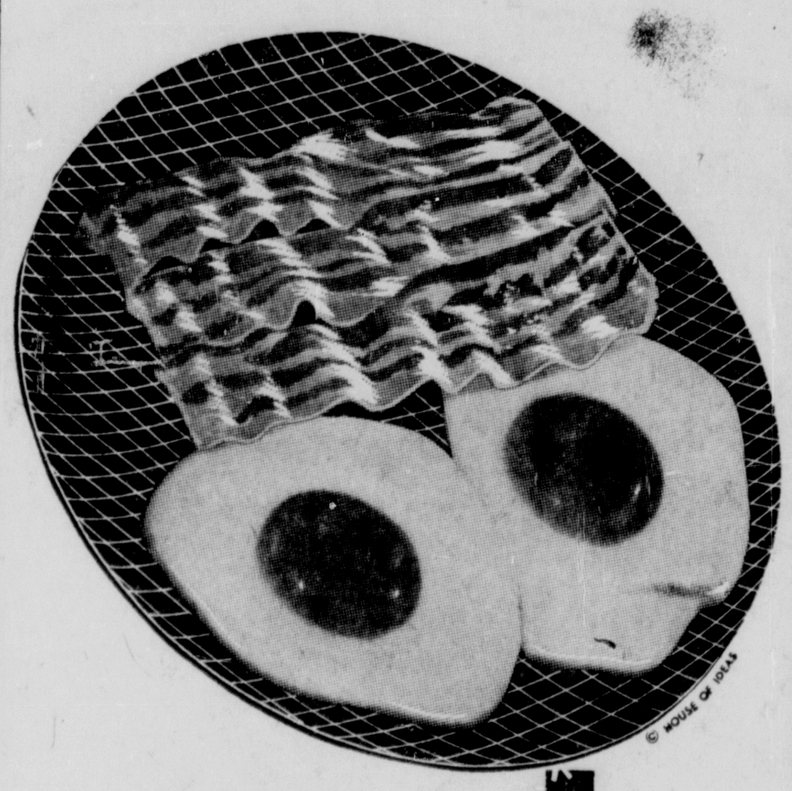

PITTSBURGH (AP) — A Hungarian refugee living in suburban Wilkinsburg wants to be known as Andrew G. Valley.

In a petition asking that his name be changed legally he said his present name causes embarrassment and makes it difficult for him to find a job.

His name? Geza Endre Szentgyoergyvoelgyi.

He Was Jealous

REIMS, France (AP)— "I was jealous because he baked better croissants than I did," said baker Robert Jactat when asked in court to explain why he had spread tacks in front of a rival's store. Jactat was fined 600 francs—about $125.

ELHS Shows Deficit Of $7,996 For 1961 Football Season

Newell Bows To Stanton, 80-57

The Review Sports

Spires Hits 34, Bell 32 In Net Duel

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Opening the stretch drive for a second consecutive unbeaten season, Stanton Local of Irondale turned loose its big guns to thunder over Newell, 80-57, Tuesday night.

A noisy crowd of 800 looked on at Newell's gymnasium as Ohio's second-rated Class A squad trimmed the West Virginians handily behind the offensive efforts of Don (The Stilt) Spires, 6-6 center, and Bob Mills, 6-2 guard.

The victory was the 14th in a row for Coach Harry Diehl's classy Red Raiders, and the "countdown" went to minus-4 in their bid to equal the all-winning season of 1961.

Cutting down the smaller Newell squad for the second time this season, Stanton Local broke on top late in the first quarter and held command of a comfortable lead the rest of the way.

ALL-OHIO Spires tipped in easy shots and hit consistently from the pivot to score 34 points, and Mills, adept at about every shot in the books, pumped in 18 to lead the victory.

An injury to high-scoring Mickey Staley early in the game dimmed Newell's hopes of pulling an upset. Staley, wearing low - cut sneakers, sprained an ankle with 6:37 left in the opening quarter and was unable to regain his form as the game progressed.

Crew-cut junior sharpshooter Dave Bell, 5-10 guard, fired in 32 points in a losing cause, matching a similar burst registered in the third game of the season for Coach John Robison's Vikings.

DIEHL, lauding the Red Raiders for their accurate shooting and team play, heaped praise on the giant Spires for turning in a standout game despite the roughness of the action at times.

"You have to admire the kid's patience for keeping control of his temper when fouled consistently. He never complained once," Diehl added.

Not one to become easily rattled, Spires used his height effectively throughout to score tip shots easily and sweep numerous rebounds. He carried Stanton's attack almost single-handedly in the third quarter, scoring 13 of the squad's 16 points.

Bell poured in 12 points in the opening period, hitting five of nine from far outside. No other starter managed to score in the first quarter and Stanton raced to a 19-15 lead.

In the second period, the duo of Spires and Mills led the attack to build the margin to 44-27. Mills was the key, shooting accurately from everywhere and displaying finesse in every department.

Also hitting in double figures for the unbeaten Red Raiders was Curt Rose, brawny, 6-2 guard, with 16 points on three goals and 10 of 11 free throws. Rose missed his first try from the foul line, then sunk 10 in a row.

BESIDES Bell, only other cager in double figures for Newell was Staley who finished with 19. He got off to a slow start due to an ankle injury, and remained on the outside the rest of the way.

The Vikings' record fell to 8-6 for the season. They return to action Friday night against invading Cameron.

Gate Receipts Took Drop

A loss of $7,996.65 during the 1961 football season was reported at a meeting of the East Liverpool High School Athletic Board Tuesday night.

Two major items head the expenditure list for the 1961 season. A total of $5,404 was spent on equipment for the high school and junior high teams while the net deficit also included capital improvements at the stadium at a cost of $3,589.03.

Thus, the equipment cost for 1962 should be far below this year's total. The capital improvements included the renovation of the dressing rooms located under the stadium at Patterson Field, seat repair and the general upkeep and improvement of the stadium.

East Liverpool had seven home games in 1961 and paid out $4,100 in guarantees to the visiting teams. However, the local high school experienced some of its poorest crowds during the past football season.

The report showed $14,274.65 in gate receipts for seven home games in 1961 which is $7,338.97 less than the 1960 receipts that totaled $21,613.62. The 1960 comparison was also based on a seven-game schedule.

Principal George Hargraves, president of the Athletic Board, pointed out that the loss of $7,388.97 in gate receipts nearly matched the net deficit in football for the 1961 season.

A complete list of expenses follow: cleaning and laundry $574.64; equipment, $5,404; employes, $380.90; field, $3,589.03; meals, $285.22; medical, $1,001.12; movies, $1,001.92; officials $919.80; reconditioning, $2,120.39; scouting, $322.45; transportation, $1,078.81; utilities, $1,261.03; clinics, $380.66.

Guarantees, $4,100; advertising, $49.20; taxes, $427.90; tickets, $601.77; insurance, $1,058.50; supplies, $80.43; miscellaneous, $73.60; letters, $197.36; audit, $100; yearbook $10; concessions, $190 and Nonpareil Club, $283.

Receipts included: East Junior High - Westgate game, $329.75; concession stand, $300.73; Nonpareil Club, $283; guarantees, $1,250; tickets at gate, $11,063.40; season tickets, $3,211.25; insurance, $1,010.70 and Westgate concession stand, $46.25.

The board agreed to approach City Council for the purpose of seeking "tax relief." ELHS paid $427 in city amusement tax on the receipts for the 1961 football season, but the school is a non-profit organization.

Harry McConville, newly - elected member of the Board of Education, proposed that service clubs in the city be contacted to help sell season football tickets for the 1962 season.

Hargraves appointed McConville, Merrill Hall, athletic director, and Bob Hedmond, head football coach, to a committee to study the possibilities of pre-season ticket sales.

The board approved the 1962 football schedule and Hargraves announced the school will attempt to shift the Niles game, opening contest for the 1962 season, to Saturday Sept. 8 instead of Friday Sept. 7. ELHS was to contact Niles High School today on the possibility of switching the game.

The ELHS football schedule was reviewed up through 1965. Hargraves announced arrangements have been completed to schedule Weirton beginning in 1963.

A motion was adopted to sign Steubenville Central and New Philadelphia for four-year contracts up until 1965 instead of taking a chance of scheduling other opponents to fill the third and fourth dates on the schedule.

Members agreed to hold an Athletci Board meeting at least once a month, except in the summer months, and the next meeting was set for Feb. 12.

EL To Eliminate Free Pass Policy

After hearing a report which listed a deficit of $7,996.65 from the 1961 football season, the East Liverpool High School Athletic Board unanimously passed a motion to eliminate "ALL" complimentary tickets to ELHS athletic events beginning with the 1962 football season.

The motion was made by Harry McConville who gave strong arguments for ending the policy of issuing approximately 250 complimentary tickets. Jim Harris, Potter basketball coach, seconded the motion by McConville.

The new rule established by the board will mean that everyone, including members of the faculty, Board of Education, parents of the players, visiting scouts etc. will not be issued complimentary tickets in the future. In other words, nobody will be admitted to an ELHS athletic contest free.

McConville said: "I am making this motion for two reasons, one, to better the finances at East Liverpool High School, and two, for the general public relations of the city."

"The complimentary tickets have been a sore spot with townspeople in the past. I feel we should cut everyone. It would create a better feeling among these people who back East Liverpool High School athletics. It may hurt 10 per cent of the people, but 90 per cent will be happier," McConville said.

Principal George Hargraves, president of the board, stated "it will be all or nothing in this case."

Those present at the board meeting Tuesday night, who voted unanimously in favor of the new measure, included Hargraves, McConville, Merrill Hall, athletic director, Harris, Bob Hedmond, football coach, Jim Lowe, Board of Education member, and Nate Lorah, faculty manager. Supt. Ralph Betts was not present.

A long list of complimentary tickets developed years ago out of what Hargraves called "precedent," including all city officials, members of the board of education and their families, faculty members, parents of players, junior high players and cheerleaders, workers at football games and football scouts from opposing schools, plus others.

Lisbon Nips East Junior

Out-goaled from the field 13-9, Lisbon dropped in 16 of 20 foul shots to annex its fifth win in seven starts. East Junior dropped its fourth game in nine outings.

Trailing 16-14 at halftime, East Junior went in front, 22-20, at the end of the third period, but lost out in the final quarter.

Ambridge Trips Wellsville

Tigers' 3rd Period Bid Fades; Baldwin Nets 26

Wellsville High's Tigers, off to a slow start, rallied in the third period to deadlock the score, but then slipped behind to trail the rest of the way in bowling to Ambridge, 76-66, Tuesday night at the Pennsylvania school.

The defeat dulled a standout team effort by the Tigers, who came from behind to tie the score at 38-38 in the third period.

Coach Jack McDevitt's Orange and Black then yielded five straight field goals and the flurry sent Ambridge winging away to the victory.

Fred Klages, 6-2 senior, an excellent athlete, delivered 32 points for the winners. An all-stater in football and sought after highly by baseball scouts aware of his promise as a pitcher, Klages, hit a dozen field goals and went 8-for-8 at the foul line.

The Tigers fell behind, 21-10, in the first period, then whittled Ambridge's lead to 33-27 by halftime. After the tie score in the third quarter, the Section 3 entry maintained a rapid pace to remain in front the rest of the game.

The Tigers outgoaled Ambridge, 30-29, but were presented only nine foul shot opportunities to 23 by the winners.

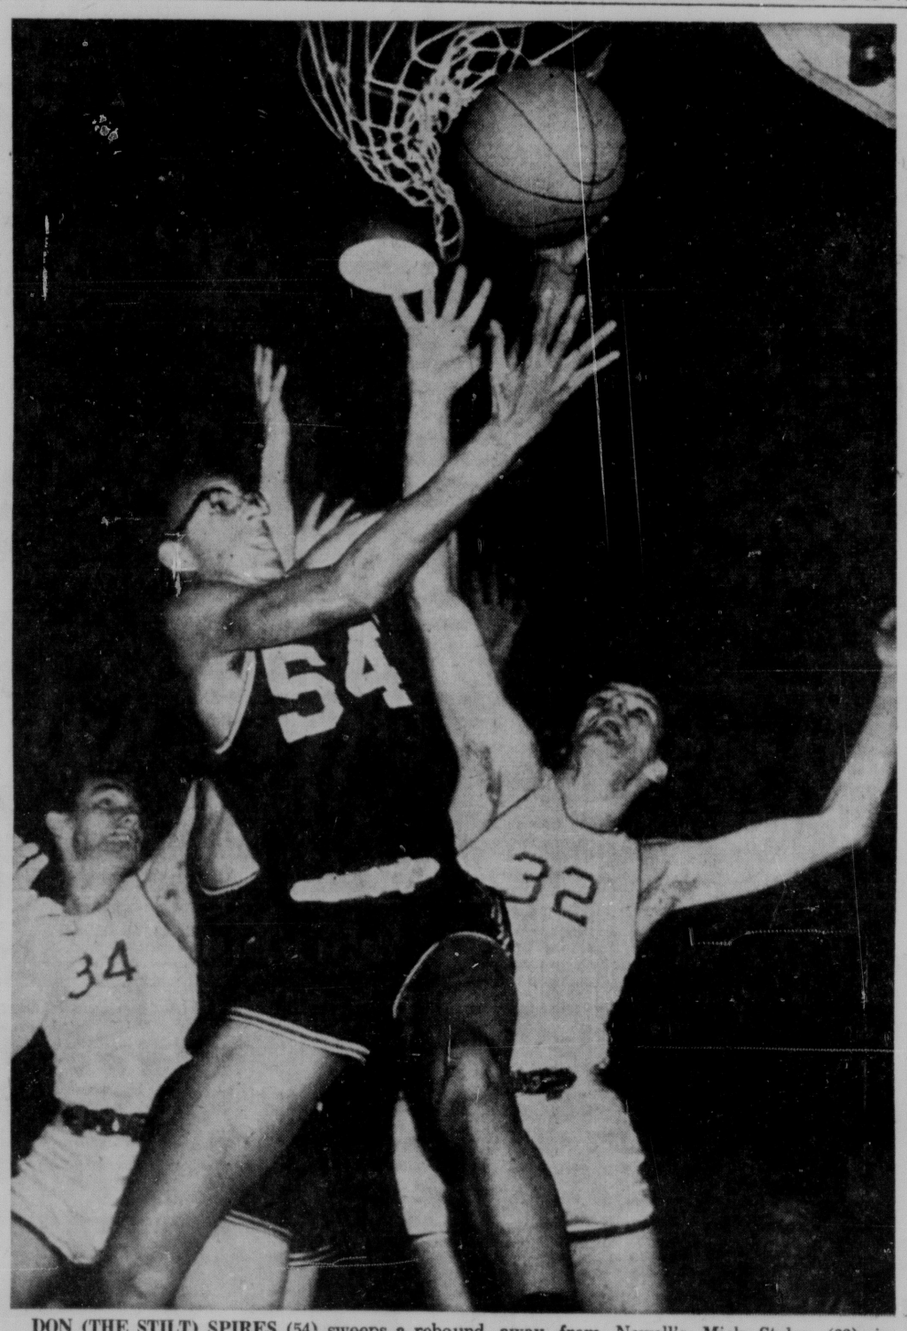

Ed Nelson scored 12 points, Jim Powell had 10, and Roger Ours, eight, in Wellsville's balanced attack.

The loss was Wellsville's eighth in 13 starts, while Ambridge extended its record to 8-5. Wellsville is now idle for a week, returning to action Feb. 6 at home against Steubenville Central.

Cumberland Bows, 68-30, To Madonna

New Cumberland High hit a season's low in point production in losing at Weirton Madonna Tuesday night, 68-30.

The Blue Raiders (4-12) managed only 10 field goals for the night and Weirton Madonna registered 28 to post a decisive victory.

Coach John Kuzio's Blue Raiders stayed in contention for the first period only, later allowing Madonna to pile up an overwhelming lead. The Blue Dons were in front at every quarter mark.

Gary Nardo's eight points led New Cumberland. Three players were in double figures for the winners, with Dave Young leading the way with 15, followed by Phil Trella with 14 and Varitek with 13.

South Side's Rally Dies In Loss To Fort Cherry

South Side High's Rams saw their final quarter rally repelled by fast-moving Fort Cherry, and the unbeaten Section 15 leaders gained a 69-57 triumph Tuesday night at South Side.

Behind from the opening moments, the Rams rallied early in the final period to narrow Fort Cherry's lead to 48-40, but that was the nearest they got.

Fort Cherry, 8-0 in league action, maintained a rapid attack to pull away and record the victory despite a standout offensive effort by Dale Ashcroft.

The South Side ace, hitting almost every shot he attempted, bagged 24 points in hitting a new season's high in scoring. Ashcroft erased his previous high mark of 23 set a few games earlier, and boosted his season point total to 246.

However, the Rams continued to drop in league standings, now 2-6. The squad is 5-12 for the season.

Paul Brown led Fort Cherry with 20 points, while all other starters hit in double figures. Chuck Schmidt scored 13 for the losers.

The Rams hit the road for their next encounter and will be gunning for their first away victory in a long period. They visit Avella Friday night.

In the preliminary, the Fort Cherry reserves gained a 34-31 victory over the South Side reserves.

Also, Reluctant Barber

By AL SIMPSON
Brush-Moore Writer

One day last week it was the shot to the moon. The next day it was the orbital shot which was postponed at T-minus 20. Plenty of news and plenty of excitement.

Sunday it was dead here.

Monday a woman was slain, and once again there's plenty of news and plenty of excitement.

At this moment the slayer is at large in or near Cocoa Beach.

A VENGEFUL ex-husband, identified as Leonard F. Folds of Orlando, Fla., was being hunted as a suspect in the death of a waitress at the Starlite Motel, NASA news headquarters.

I've eaten a number of meals at the Starlite Restaurant and well may have been served by the now-slain woman.

As I drove up the highway I came upon the scene of the manhunt. City and county police cars were everywhere, bloodhounds had just been brought in, airplanes were circling overhead and patrol cars had blocked off the area.

I STOPPED and watched awhile as the search moved into a wooded, jungle-like area between the highway and a large bay where it was suspected the hunted man had fled.

Then as I drove on up the highway, after the search had been abandoned in that section, I listened to the local radio station warning everyone to avoid hitchhikers, keep doors locked and call the police immediately if they sighted the killer.

I was on my way to get my hair cut at the time. I needed a haircut but I had a secondary motive for the trip. A few well-placed questions had provided me with the location of John Glenn's favorite barber here.

A LOT OF TALK is passed in a barbershop and I thought I might learn something of interest. But, knowing the security conditions involving John, which I had been encountering, I was not very confident.

Well, in the first place the barber spotted me somehow. Instead of putting me in the chair when it was my turn, he fussed around doing this and that and then told the other barber in the shop that he was going out for coffee.

But before he could get out the door I inquired if I could get a haircut. I detected a little belligerence which I attempted to allay by telling him frankly the two reasons I was there—to get my hair cut and to talk with him about John Glenn.

SPEAKING furtively so no one else would hear, he explained he did not feel he had the right to say anything about John. In the meantime, he had put his barber's smock back on and I had gotten into the chair.

Obviously distressed that he had been exposed as John's favorite barber (by a strange coincidence he greatly resembles John), he said he didn't know who had blown the whistle but he had been bugged by newsmen all week.

I explained that although the whole free world is interested in John and what he is doing, we in Ohio claim him as our own and we're especially interested in what he does and is doing.

BUT IT WAS no use. The barber, obviously was agitated by my presence and I (thinking about my scalp and the razor and shears he was wielding) began to have some concern about the state of my appearance.

So I told him not to worry, I'd drop the whole thing and we'd discuss the manhunt down the road. He said he appreciated this.

Johns seems to inspire that kind of loyalty in the people he contacts. It's certainly a wonderful quality, albeit a little tough on newsmen.

BACK AT MY HOTEL, I went into the office to check for mail. When I said I would be out on the beach if any mail came, the young woman who with her husband manages the motel said:

"You have everybody here amazed at you."

"I do?" I exclaimed with considerable amazement of my own.

"Yes, going swimming in the ocean every day like you do," she explained.

"Come to think of it, I haven't seen anyone else actually go in the water," I said. "How come?"

"Too cold," she replied. "We go in the summer but not in the winter."

"WELL, THIS shirt-sleeve weather sure seems like summer to me," I said. "But maybe we're just a hardy breed up in Ohio."

I don't know if that was the right answer or not, but that's the way it looks to this Buckeye in banana land.

Lull Looms In Berlin Crisis

U.S., Soviet Tensions Seem To Be Easing Off

WASHINGTON (AP)— Tensions between the United States and the Soviet Union seem to be easing off a bit. Even the Berlin crisis may be in for a prolonged lull.

This is the main significance seen here in several fresh developments highlighted by the announcement Tuesday that President Kennedy's press secretary, Pierre Salinger, will visit the Soviet Union in late April or May.

Salinger said the trip will be made in response to an invitation extended by Soviet editor Alexei Adzhubei, Premier Khrushchev's son-in-law, at a luncheon with President Kennedy.

The Salinger trip could prove in the long run to be a trail blazer for a visit by Kennedy himself. Informed officials say that is not in the plans now. There is still too much tension between Moscow and Washington, as things now stand.

Adzhubei spent three hours talking with Kennedy and it was generally assumed that the Russian followed the same line which he had taken with newsmen who met him at the Soviet Embassy Monday night. His argument then was that though there are many points of East-West dispute each side should take whatever small steps are possible to improve relations. He said this is not the time for big steps.

U.S. officials were reluctant to give deep significance to his remarks. They believe, however, that Khrushchev at least intends to have a cooling off period in East-West conflict.

There was no immediate word as to President Kennedy's own estimate of the situation.

Last Sunday, obviously with Kennedy's blessing, Salinger met in Paris with Mikhail Kharlamov, Soviet Foreign Ministry press chief, and reportedly talked about improving communications between the United States and the Soviet Union.

Their discussion is believed to have covered such things as exchanges of recorded statements and taped television appearances involving Kennedy, Khrushchev, and other high government officials. Adzhubei interviewed Kennedy late last year and published the text in Izvestia, the government newspaper he edits.

How accurately these straws in the wind point to the future course of East-West relations will be determined, in the view of the State Department, not so much by goodwill visits and friendly statements as by what happens.

U.S. leaders say that Berlin offers a critical test case. If Khrushchev does not stir up new trouble over Berlin the Western powers will let the situation ride as it is indefinitely.

A more critical test of the ability of the powers to do something about peace in the world will come in general disarmament negotiations scheduled to open in mid-March.

Bid To End Bus Route Will Be Heard Feb. 27

The State Public Utilities Commission has set a public hearing Tuesday, Feb. 27, at 10 a. m. in the Youngstown City Hall on an application by Eastern Greyhound Lines to discontinue bus service on its route from the E. 5th St. terminal to the state line.

Mayor Bert H. Goodballet received official notice of the hearing Tuesday afternoon from the PUCO. Preliminary details on the hearing were sent the mayor earlier in response to a letter which he wrote the commission. However, at that time the date and place of the public hearing had not been fixed.

The hearing is part of Greyhound's move to discontinue service between East Liverpool, Rochester and Pittsburgh. The Beaver Valley Motor Coach Co. of New Brighton seeks to take over the route now served by Greyhound.

Young, Lausche Vote On Opposite Sides

WASHINGTON (AP) — Ohio Democrats Stephen M. Young and Frank J. Lausche voted against each other in a Senate roll call Tuesday.

Young voted for and Lausche against a motion to table and thus kill an appeal by Sen. Jacob K. Javits, R-N.Y., from a ruling of Vice President Johnson sending the literacy test bill to the Judiciary Committee. The motion was adopted 61-25.

Special Commission Reports

Action, Money Seen Need For Outdoor Recreation

WASHINGTON (AP)—A special commission reported today that a surging need for more outdoor recreation in America must be met by imagination, large-scale action and "money—lots of it."

But the Outdoor Recreation Resources and Review Commission left it to President Kennedy and Congress, and to state and local governments, to figure out price tags and what specific areas should be acquired or improved.

The 15-man commission, headed by Laurance S. Rockefeller, New York, did say that "the first task is to provide recreation for the metropolitan regions, which have the biggest population and demand for recreation and the least space for it."

In urging immediate acquisition of ocean and lake shores, it said that: "Highest priority should be given to acquisition of areas located closest to major population centers and other areas that are immediately threatened. The need is critical—opportunity to place these areas in public ownership is fading each year as other uses encroach."

Basically, the commission said, there is plenty of land and water acreage for recreation, but most of it "is where the people are not."

Rockefeller told a news briefing that it was on purpose that "we haven't come up with either acres or dollars." The commission's idea, he said, was to discuss the principles and tools and leave it to others to determine how they can be used best.

No plans have been developed, he told a questioner, for following through on the report in the legislative field. Sen. Clinton P. Anderson, D-N.M., a commission member, said he was sure bills would be introduced to carry out many of the recommendations.

By direction of Congress, the commission has been spending three years and $2.5 million peering into the problem of outdoor fun as it will develop over 40 years—up to the year 2000.

It put more than 50 recommendations on paper. Some probably will be echoed in a vast conservation program, stressing recreation which Kennedy is expected to put before Congress in a special message Feb. 21.

Gets Federal Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Hamilton (Ohio) Housing Authority has been granted a $42,500 federal loan to help it plan construction of 250 low-rent homes in Middletown, Ohio. The Public Housing Administration said 100 of the homes are to be designed for occupancy by the elderly.

YMCA's Officers Get New Terms

All officers were re-elected and eight members were returned to the Board of Directors of the YMCA at the annual reorganization meeting Tuesday afternoon at the Y.

Returned for three-year terms as directors are White, J. M. Wells, J. D. Thompson, William H. Vodrey Jr., S. C. Porter, William B. Cooper, M. W. Thompson and Ogilvie.

There are 24 on the board.

A committee was named to investigate the possibility of starting a health club in the old rooms in the basement. It would include a steam room and rubdown tables.

Lions At Cumberland Plan 'Fathers March'

NEW CUMBERLAND — The Lions Club will conduct its annual "Fathers' March" for the March of Dimes campaign Thursday night at 7. Residents have been asked to turn on their porch lights, Squire John D. Herron, community chairman, reported.

A public dinner was held Tuesday night in the VFW Hall by the VFW auxiliary to raise funds for the campaign. Dr. Leonard Yurko of Weirton spoke on birth defects and arthritis.

$252 Netted In Dimes Campaign In Chester

A house-to-house canvass of Chester homes Tuesday night netted $242 for the March of Dimes, Alvin Fineman, chairman of the Kiwanis Club - sponsored campaign, announced today.

Some 18 club members took part in the solicitation. Any householder missed may leave contributions at the Fineman Department Store, according to the chairman, who said some residents were not at home because of a basketball game.

Midland Rolls Over Hopewell, 57-38, In 2nd Half Opener

Forester Tallies 18 In 18th Win

By ANDY NUZZO

While the Hopewell Vikings were busy trying to find their shooting range, the Midland Leopards torpedoed a hole in their ship and sank them with little trouble, 57-38, Tuesday night at Midland.

The game was the opener of the second round of Section 8 play. Midland remains at the top of the loop with eight straight wins, while Hopewell dropped their sixth game in eight section starts. The win also was the 18th in a row this season for Hank Kuzma's Leopards.

Sam Forester was the big gun for the Leopards, meshing seven fielders and four of six free throws for 18 points. Fourteen of these points came in the second half.

Al Aloi and Earl Vaughn aided the Leopard cause with 12 points apiece. Aloi registered all his points in the first half. Vaughn hit four in the first half and eight in the second.

RICH Lake scored only seven points, but he played another fine defensive game.

Tim Force led the Vikings with 10 points on four fielders and two free throws. Milanovich was right behind him with eight.

Midland out-rebounded the Vikings, 53-47. Milanovich was the game's leading rebounder, pulling in 14 strays.

Forester led the Leopards with 12 rebounds, followed by Bill Sallis and Aloi, who grabbed 11 and 10 respectively.

AFTER leading at the end of the first period, the Leopards built up an 18-point lead at the outset of the second stanza, 19-1. But Hopewell finally found the range and Midland led, 27-14, at the half and 43-26 at the third quarter mark.

Ed Olkowski's Leopard JV squad had to hang on for a 39-37 victory over the Hopewell JV's. Calvin Strickler of Hopewell led all scorers with 20 points. Ray Hoppa and Tom Flasco were high for the Leopards with 10 points apiece.

Friday night the Leopards invade the lair of the Beaver Bobcats, who are always troublesome at home.

Chester Avenges Loss To Beavers

Smith Stars In 66-45 Win

A hustling Chester five gained sweet revenge for an earlier loss in handing Beaver Local a 66-45 setback Tuesday night on the Hancock County court.

It didn't resemble the same Chester squad which dropped a 53-49 contest earlier in the season at Beaver Local.

Smith tallied 20 points while the veteran Pinney fired in 15 and was a standout in the rebounding department.

A strong second quarter paved the way for the Panthers victory. Trailing 13-9 at the end of the first period, Chester fell farther behind, to 15-9, but came on to outscore the Beavers 24-2 through the remainder of the second quarter and took a 33-17 halftime edge.

From that point on, Beaver Local never got back into the contest. Pinney, Smith and Kelse Johnson paced the second quarter rally.

Gary Berhar, a new face in the Beaver Local lineup lately, led the way with 14 points while Gary Shaw added 11 points.

Beaver Local Matmen Top Weirton, 37-8

Beaver Local's wrestling forces gained their ninth win against two setbacks when Weirton tumbled before Coach Jack O'Rourke's team, 37-8 Tuesday in the West Virginia city.

The Beavers won nine of 12 matches and one ended in a draw. Beaver Local returns to action Friday when Wooster visits the Williamsport gym in a match which has been moved to 7 p. m.

Sharman Takes Over As Coach Of Pipers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bill Sharman, who made a big jump from Boston player to Los Angeles coach, is now in Cleveland as coach of the Pipers of the American Basketball League.

The 31-year-old Sharman, a backcourt ace of the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association for 10 years, was hired by the Pipers late Tuesday after John McLendon walked out in a feud with owner George Steinbrenner.

Sharman had been coach of the Los Angeles Jets until that team folded operations a few weeks ago.

Salem Upset, Win Streak Ends At Youngstown

An unpredictable Youngstown South cage squad pulled a major upset in Ohio circles Tuesday night by sending the seventh-ranked Salem Quakers spinning to a 72-60 defeat at Youngstown.

The Quakers, who meet the East Liverpool Potters Friday night for what could be the showdown battle in the Big 8 Conference, had their 11-game winning streak snapped. Coach John Cabas' team now stands 12-2 for the season.

Salem was behind all the way, trailing 19-11 at the end of the first quarter, 33-25 at halftime and 54-49 going into the fourth period.

Ernie McElroy put the biggest dent into the Quakers with 25 points. Bill Beery's 14 points was high for Salem.

Youngstown South, which defeated the Potters by one point, now owns a 9-4 record.

Duke, Cincy Have Easy Times In College Play

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duke, ranked sixth in the current Associated Press poll, bolstered its season's record to 13-2 with an impressive 89-73 victory over South Carolina at Durham, N.C., Tuesday night. The Blue Devils took over undisputed possession of first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 6-1 mark.

Only one other member of the top 10, Cincinnati, saw action Tuesday night. The Bearcats, No. 2 nationally, subdued Drake 73-52 in a Missouri Valley game. The triumph, at home, boosted Cincinnati's record to 15-2 and 5-2 in league play.

Jeff Mullins, a 6-4 soph with a deft touch, supplied the scoring impetus for Duke with a 31-point outburst against South Carolina. Jay Buckley, a 6-10 sophomore pivot, turned in his best game with 26 points while the 6-5 Heyman, the ACC scoring leader, collected 20 points—including several key baskets.

Heyman, who entered the game as the fifth leading scorer in the country, is averaging 27.9 points per game. Mullins raised his season's average to 21.1, fourth best in the ACC.

Big Paul Hogue found the range for 29 points in spearheading Cincinnati's imposing conquest of Drake. Two Drake defenders had their hands full guarding the 6-9 center, and both eventually fouled out.

The Bearcats controlled the backboards and assumed a 36-22 halftime bulge. Cincy cleared the bench after the intermission and still posted a convincing success.

Cincinnati's 5-2 league slate tied the Ohioans with Wichita for second place in the MVC. Bradley leads with a 6-1 mark.

Tapers Snap Rens' 4-Game Win Streak

By The Associated Press

The New York Tapers probably would like to play the Pittsburgh Rens all the time in the American Basketball League.

The Tapers have won three of nine games in the second half race and all three have been against the Rens.

Kinsey's Goal Nips Central For Westgate

Ron Kinsey became Westgate's man of the hour when he flipped in a long field goal from the corner as the buzzer sounded to give his team a 33-31 victory over Steubenville Central on the West End court.

Kinsey's field goal broke a 31-31 tie and gave Westgate its second straight victory and sixth in 11 games.

Ambridge Trips Wellsville

Wellsville High's Tigers, off to a slow start, rallied in the third period to deadlock the score, but then slipped behind to trail the rest of the way in bowling to Ambridge, 76-66, Tuesday night at the Pennsylvania school.

The defeat dulled a standout team effort by the Tigers, who came from behind to tie the score at 38-38 in the third period.

Coach Jack McDevitt's Orange and Black then yielded five straight field goals and the flurry sent Ambridge winging away to the victory.

Fred Klages, 6-2 senior, an excellent athlete, delivered 32 points for the winners. An all-stater in football and sought after highly by baseball scouts aware of his promise as a pitcher, Klages, hit a dozen field goals and went 8-for-8 at the foul line.

The Tigers fell behind, 21-10, in the first period, then whittled Ambridge's lead to 33-27 by halftime. After the tie score in the third quarter, the Section 3 entry maintained a rapid pace to remain in front the rest of the game.

The Tigers outgoaled Ambridge, 30-29, but were presented only nine foul shot opportunities to 23 by the winners.

Tigers' 3rd Period Bid Fades; Baldwin Nets 26

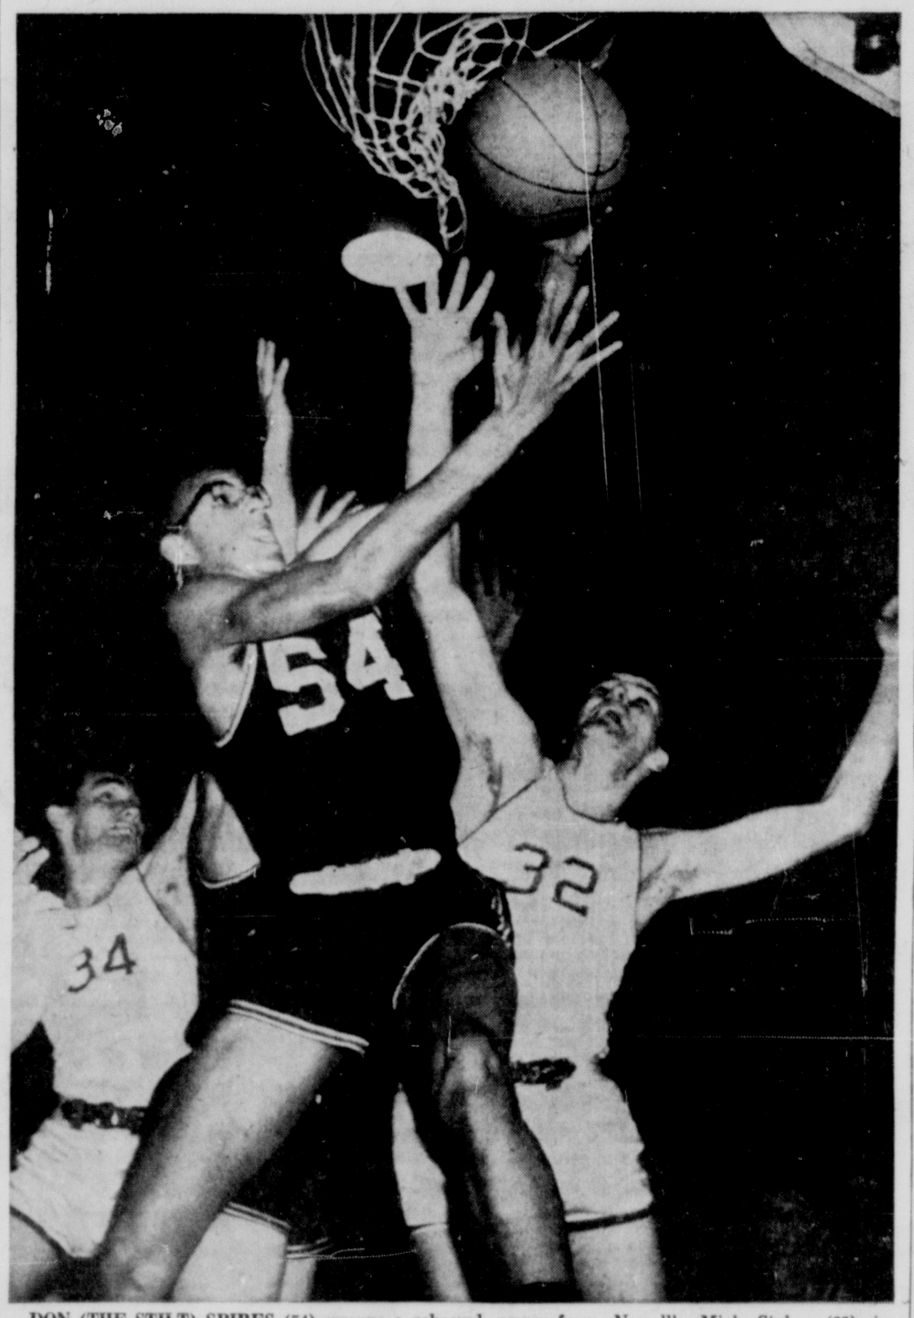

Ed Nelson scored 12 points, Jim Powell had 10, and Roger Ours, eight, in Wellsville's balanced attack.

The loss was Wellsville's eighth in 13 starts, while Ambridge extended its record to 8-5. Wellsville is now idle for a week, returning to action Feb. 6 at home against Steubenville Central.

DON (THE STILT) SPIRES (54) sweeps a rebound away from Newell's Mick Staley (32) in Tuesday night's game which found Stanton Local High posting its 14th straight victory. All-Ohio Spires scored 34 points. No. 34 for Newell is Rick Ferrall.

Spires Hits 34, Bell 32 In Net Duel

By CHUCK CRONIN
Review Sports Writer

Opening the stretch drive for a second consecutive unbeaten season, Stanton Local of Irondale turned loose its big guns to thunder over Newell, 80-57, Tuesday night.

A noisy crowd of 800 looked on at Newell's gymnasium as Ohio's second-rated Class A squad trimmed the West Virginians handily behind the offensive efforts of Don (The Stilt) Spires, 6-6 center, and Bob Mills, 6-2 guard.

The victory was the 14th in a row for Coach Harry Diehl's classy Red Raiders, and the "countdown" went to minus-4 in their bid to equal the all-winning season of 1961.

Cutting down the smaller Newell squad for the second time this season, Stanton Local broke on top late in the first quarter and held command of a comfortable lead the rest of the way.

ALL-OHIO Spires tipped in easy shots and hit consistently from the pivot to score 34 points, and Mills, adept at about every shot in the books, pumped in 18 to lead the victory.

An injury to high-scoring Mickey Staley early in the game dimmed Newell's hopes of pulling an upset. Staley, wearing low - cut sneakers, sprained an ankle with 6:37 left in the opening quarter and was unable to regain his form as the game progressed.

Crew-cut junior sharpshooter Dave Bell, 5-10 guard, fired in 32 points in a losing cause, matching a similar burst registered in the third game of the season for Coach John Robison's Vikings.

DIEHL, lauding the Red Raiders for their accurate shooting and team play, heaped praise on the giant Spires for turning in a standout game despite the roughness of the action at times.

"You have to admire the kid's patience for keeping control of his temper when fouled consistently. He never complained once," Diehl added.

Not one to become easily rattled, Spires used his height effectively throughout to score tip shots easily and sweep numerous rebounds. He carried Stanton's attack almost single-handedly in the third quarter, scoring 13 of the squad's 16 points.

Bell poured in 12 points in the opening period, hitting five of nine from far outside. No other starter managed to score in the first quarter and Stanton raced to a 19-15 lead.

In the second period, the duo of Spires and Mills led the attack to build the margin to 44-27. Mills was the key, shooting accurately from everywhere and displaying finesse in every department.

Also hitting in double figures for the unbeaten Red Raiders was Curt Rose, brawny, 6-2 guard, with 16 points on three goals and 10 of 11 free throws. Rose missed his first try from the foul line, then sunk 10 in a row.

BESIDES Bell, only other cager in double figures for Newell was Staley who finished with 19. He got off to a slow start due to an ankle injury, and remained on the outside the rest of the way.

The Vikings' record fell to 8-6 for the season. They return to action Friday night against invading Cameron.

Gate Receipts Took Drop

A loss of $7,996.65 during the 1961 football season was reported at a meeting of the East Liverpool High School Athletic Board Tuesday night.

Two major items head the expenditure list for the 1961 season. A total of $5,404 was spent on equipment for the high school and junior high teams while the net deficit also included capital improvements at the stadium at a cost of $3,589.03.

Thus, the equipment cost for 1962 should be far below this year's total. The capital improvements included the renovation of the dressing rooms located under the stadium at Patterson Field, seat repair and the general upkeep and improvement of the stadium.

East Liverpool had seven home games in 1961 and paid out $4,100 in guarantees to the visiting teams. However, the local high school experienced some of its poorest crowds during the past football season.

The report showed $14,274.65 in gate receipts for seven home games in 1961 which is $7,338.97 less than the 1960 receipts that totaled $21,613.62. The 1960 comparison was also based on a seven-game schedule.

Principal George Hargraves, president of the Athletic Board, pointed out that the loss of $7,388.97 in gate receipts nearly matched the net deficit in football for the 1961 season.

A complete list of expenses follow: cleaning and laundry $574.64; equipment, $5,404; employes, $380.90; field, $3,589.03; meals, $285.22; medical, $1,001.12; movies, $1,001.92; officials $919.80; reconditioning, $2,120.39; scouting, $322.45; transportation, $1,078.81; utilities, $1,261.03; clinics, $380.66.

Guarantees, $4,100; advertising, $49.20; taxes, $427.90; tickets, $601.77; insurance, $1,058.50; supplies, $80.43; miscellaneous, $73.60; letters, $197.36; audit, $100; yearbook $10; concessions, $190 and Nonpareil Club, $283.

Receipts included: East Junior High - Westgate game, $329.75; concession stand, $300.73; Nonpareil Club, $283; guarantees, $1,250; tickets at gate, $11,063.40; season tickets, $3,211.25; insurance, $1,010.70 and Westgate concession stand, $46.25.

The board agreed to approach City Council for the purpose of seeking "tax relief." ELHS paid $427 in city amusement tax on the receipts for the 1961 football season, but the school is a nonprofit organization.

Harry McConville, newly - elected member of the Board of Education, proposed that service clubs in the city be contacted to help sell season football tickets for the 1962 season.

Hargraves appointed McConville, Merrill Hall, athletic director, and Bob Hedmond, head football coach, to a committee to study the possibilities of pre-season ticket sales.

The board approved the 1962 football schedule and Hargraves announced the school will attempt to shift the Niles game, opening contest for the 1962 season, to Saturday Sept. 8 instead of Friday Sept. 7. ELHS was to contact Niles High School today on the possibility of switching the game.

The ELHS football schedule was reviewed up through 1965. Hargraves announced arrangements have been completed to schedule Weirton beginning in 1963.

A motion was adopted to sign Steubenville Central and New Philadelphia for four-year contracts up until 1965 instead of taking a chance of scheduling other opponents to fill the third and fourth dates on the schedule.

Members agreed to hold an Athletci Board meeting at least once a month, except in the summer months, and the next meeting was set for Feb. 12.

EL To Eliminate Free Pass Policy

After hearing a report which listed a deficit of $7,996.65 from the 1961 football season, the East Liverpool High School Athletic Board unanimously passed a motion to eliminate "ALL" complimentary tickets to ELHS athletic events beginning with the 1962 football season.

The motion was made by Harry McConville who gave strong arguments for ending the policy of issuing approximately 250 complimentary tickets. Jim Harris, Potter basketball coach, seconded the motion by McConville.

The new rule established by the board will mean that everyone, including members of the faculty, Board of Education, parents of the players, visiting scouts etc. will not be issued complimentary tickets in the future. In other words, nobody will be admitted to an ELHS athletic contest free.

McConville said: "I am making this motion for two reasons, one, to better the finances at East Liverpool High School, and two, for the general public relations of the city."

"The complimentary tickets have been a sore spot with townspeople in the past. I feel we should cut everyone. It would create a better feeling among these people who back East Liverpool High School athletics. It may hurt 10 per cent of the people, but 90 per cent will be happier," McConville said.

Principal George Hargraves, president of the board, stated "it will be all or nothing in this case."

Those present at the board meeting Tuesday night, who voted unanimously in favor of the new measure, included Hargraves, McConville, Merrill Hall, athletic director, Harris, Bob Hedmond, football coach, Jim Lowe, Board of Education member, and Nate Lorah, faculty manager. Supt. Ralph Betts was not present.

A long list of complimentary tickets developed years ago out of what Hargraves called "precedent," including all city officials, members of the board of education and their families, faculty members, parents of players, junior high players and cheerleaders, workers at football games and football scouts from opposing schools, plus others.

Lisbon Nips East Junior

Lisbon nipped East Junior at the foul line for a 36-33 win Tuesday on the East End court.

Out-goaled from the field 13-9, Lisbon dropped in 16 of 20 foul shots to annex its fifth win in seven starts. East Junior dropped its fourth game in nine outings.

Trailing 16-14 at halftime, East Junior went in front, 22-20, at the end of the third period, but lost out in the final quarter.

Cumberland Bows, 68-30, To Madonna

New Cumberland High hit a season's low in point production in losing at Weirton Madonna Tuesday night, 68-30.

The Blue Raiders (4-12) managed only 10 field goals for the night and Weirton Madonna registered 28 to post a decisive victory.

Coach John Kuzio's Blue Raiders stayed in contention for the first period only, later allowing Madonna to pile up an overwhelming lead. The Blue Dons were in front at every quarter mark.

Gary Nardo's eight points led New Cumberland. Three players were in double figures for the winners, with Dave Young leading the way with 15, followed by Phil Trella with 14 and Varitek with 13.

South Side's Rally Dies In Loss To Fort Cherry

South Side High's Rams saw their final quarter rally repelled by fast-moving Fort Cherry, and the unbeaten Section 15 leaders gained a 69-57 triumph Tuesday night at South Side.

Behind from the opening moments, the Rams rallied early in the final period to narrow Fort Cherry's lead to 48-40, but that was the nearest they got.

Fort Cherry, 8-0 in league action, maintained a rapid attack to pull away and record the victory despite a standout offensive effort by Dale Ashcroft.

The South Side ace, hitting almost every shot he attempted, bagged 24 points in hitting a new season's high in scoring. Ashcroft erased his previous high mark of 23 set a few games earlier, and boosted his season point total to 246.

However, the Rams continued to drop in league standings, now 2-6. The squad is 5-12 for the season.

Paul Brown led Fort Cherry with 20 points, while all other starters hit in double figures. Chuck Schmidt scored 13 for the losers.

The Rams hit the road for their next encounter and will be gunning for their first away victory in a long period. They visit Avella Friday night.

In the preliminary, the Fort Cherry reserves gained a 34-31 victory over the South Side reserves.

HAL HUMPHREY

Viewers Can Keep Good Shows On TV

Producer Sy Gomberg and actor James Whitmore are tossing a party at their studio next week to celebrate resumption of filming of "The Law and Mr. Jones."

Hal Humphrey

"We want to do something for you people of the press who came to our defense when the show was canceled last season," says Gomberg. "Even Ollie Treyz, the president of ABC, admits now that the network made a mistake. I think that's pretty big of him, too." ABC arbitrarily dropped "The Law and Mr. Jones" despite the sponsor's desire to keep the series.

Gomberg got on the phone and called TV columnists to say he thought he had been robbed.

A great many TV fans felt he had, too, and the result was a large mail protest.

Gomberg and Whitmore never claimed they had the greatest series ever on TV, but they did think it was better than 90 per cent of what was seen last season, and they were right, and, more important — the public agreed.

"The Law and Mr. Jones" goes back on ABC April 19, with the same sponsor, the same Mr. Jones (James Whitmore) and the same fighting producer — Gomberg.

INSTEAD of waiting for their favorite TV show to be axed, viewers occasionally should write to the networks to let them know how they feel.

Right now, for example, is a good time to write NBC about both the Bob Newhart and David Brinkley's Journal shows. Both are taking a drubbing at the rating polls from "Naked City," and sponsors are notoriously sensitive about getting beat out by a competitor's program.

"I HAD TO ASK for relief, because I'm exhausted. I don't sleep at night," Kibbee explains. "I'd hate to see anything happen to the Newhart show, however, because he's the only one on TV doing any genuine satire now.

"If the show should go, then the wise guys again will jump to the conclusion that satire is not for TV."

Kibbee's exhaustion is largely because of the staggering responsibility of coming up with enough ideas for Newhart to hang his droll comedy on each week.

He used to do it when he worked for Fred Allen on radio every week, and he and the late Allen were considered iron men then.

"But I'm older now, and that iron is rusting," says Kibbee.

THE AVAILABILITY of comics for TV is not as good as it used to be. Harry Ackerman, executive producer at Screen Gems, still is trying to find someone to team with Buster Keaton in a projected series called "Medicine Man."

Ernie Kovacs was costarred with Keaton in the pilot film, which they had just finished before Ernie was killed. Ackerman has contacted Sid Caesar and Red Buttons, but Sid doesn't think he could be happy in a weekly film series and Red thinks his movie career is about to blossom.

Ackerman would like to have either Milton Berle or Jackie Gleason for the role, but ABC has first lien on the series (it put up the money), and Berle is committed to NBC and Gleason to CBS.

Meanwhile, Keaton is in West Germany making a deal for his old silent films to be shown there, either in theaters or on TV.

IN A RECENT COLUMN criticizing Groucho Marx and Jack Benny for some foul-ball acting on TV dramatic shows, I included Eddie Cantor in a list of comics who I said had not distinguished themselves as actors.

Eddie took umbrage, and rightfully. I had forgotten his role on "Playhouse 90" some years back in "Sizeman and Son." Eddie played the role of a cloak-and-suiter and did it to a fine turn.

Those old "Playhouse 90s," incidentally, look better all the time. Most of the drama on TV today is awfully anemic. There's more suspense in the draining of a sinus on a nose drop commercial.

Crashes Hurt City Woman, Young Driver

A woman and a youthful driver were injured slightly in two of the five traffic mishaps in East Liverpool Tuesday and last night, police reported. One driver was cited on two charges as an aftermath of one of the collisions.

Gary M. McKinney, 17, of Wellsville R. D. 1 suffered a bump on the head when his 1950 model car struck a parked auto at 5:42 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. 20 feet east of Wedgewood St., police said.

McKinney's car struck a parked 1954 model owned by Homer E. Flowers, 1620 Ohio Ave., officers said. McKinney said the left front tire of his car blew out, causing his vehicle to skid on icy pavement and hit Flowers' auto.

Mrs. Frances N. Franklin, 52, of E. 3rd St. and Broadway was treated for a back injury after a car driven by her husband, Kelsey E. Franklin, 52, was involved in a collision at 3:30 p.m. at Peach Alley and Drury Ln., police said.

Franklin, headed north in Peach Alley, was involved in a crash with a car driven west in Drury Ln. by Donald B. Chapman, 337 Ogden St., police said. Franklin took his wife to a physician's office for treatment.

Allen E. Lockhart, 31, of 133 W. Church Ln. was cited on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and operating an auto without a driver's license after his 1957 auto struck a parked car Tuesday at 9:45 a.m. on E. 4th St. 25 feet east of Crook Alley, police said.

Officers said Lockhart failed to stop after his car struck a parked 1959 two-door sdean owned by Helen L. Robinson, 107 Blakeley St. He was taken into custody at his home at 3:05 p. m. by Patrolmen William A. Devon and Paul Blevins.

In a hearing today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Lockhart said he fell asleep momentarily, causing his auto to hit the parked car. He said he has a West Virginia operator's permit, although he has lived in Ohio about two years. Lockhart pleaded guilty to both counts.

The judge continued both cases until Feb. 21 for sentencing. He suggested Lockhart make arrangements to pay for damages to the Robinson auto, totaling about $300.

The judge also instructed Lockhart to take action today to obtain an Ohio operator's permit.

A collision at 6th and Market Sts. yesterday damaged a 1956 model car driven by Cy Wolverton, 19, of Pittsburgh and a 1959 station wagon operated by Mrs. Thelma Bryan of R. D. 2, police said. Mrs. Bryan said she was halted for a traffic light when Wolverton's car skidded and struck her vehicle from the rear.

Scoop out whole cooked beets and fill with cream cheese mixed with minced anchovy fillets and onion. Serve with salad greens.

Georgetown Resident, 96 Honored For Anniversary

Still active and in good health, he received many cards and good wishes from his friends and neighbors. A former riverman and pipeline worker, he retired seven years ago as caretaker of the Georgetown cemetery.

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laughlin. Two of his children, Homer Laughlin of King City, Calif., and Mrs. Charles Campbell, are deceased. There are six grandchildren, 20 great grandchildren and 19 great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Andrew McHaffie will be hostess for the February meeting of the G-H 500 Club.

Mrs. Thomas Campbell and Mrs. Harry Prothero of Beaver were guests Sunday of Mrs. Campbell's sister, Mrs. Thomas Calhoon.

Visiting Mrs. Walter Reed Sunday were Jack Reed and family of Wellsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed of Chester and Mr. and Mrs. Smith Shinton of East Liverpool.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Laughlin Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Laughlin Jr. and family of Poland, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. James Laughlin of East Liverpool.

Salineville Historical Group Assigns Committee Duties

SALINEVILLE — About 45 attended a meeting of the Salineville Historical Society Tuesday night at the high school at which committees were named.

Higher Power Output Set At Shippingport

The Atomic Energy Commission said in a report to Congress Tuesday the generating capacity of the atomic power plant at Shippingport will be more than doubled. It now supplies 60,000 net kilowatts of electricity daily.

The report states that the design and fabrication of a second core is now underway at the Beaver County plant, which began full operation in December of 1957.

The new core will have a power capability of 150,000 gross electrical kilowatts.

The report says that operation of the Shippingport plant has been highly satisfactory.

Since initial operation, the reactor has operated for 15,279 equivalent full power hours and more than a billion kilowatt hours of electricity have been generated.

Enough electricity has been generated at Shippingport to supply the residential needs of more than 80,000 families during the four years the station has been operating.

Midland Rolls Over Hopewell, 57-38, In 2nd Half Opener

Forester Tallies 18 In 18th Win

By ANDY NUZZO

While the Hopewell Vikings were busy trying to find their shooting range, the Midland Leopards torpedoed a hole in their ship and sank them with little trouble, 57-38, Tuesday night at Midland.

The game was the opener of the second round of Section 8 play. Midland remains at the top of the loop with eight straight wins, while Hopewell dropped their sixth game in eight section starts. The win also was the 18th in a row this season for Hank Kuzma's Leopards.

Sam Forester was the big gun for the Leopards, meshing seven fielders and four of six free throws for 18 points. Fourteen of these points came in the second half.

Al Aloi and Earl Vaughn aided the Leopard cause with 12 points apiece. Aloi registered all his points in the first half. Vaughn hit four in the first half and eight in the second.

RICH Lake scored only seven points, but he played another fine defensive game.

Tim Force led the Vikings with 10 points on four fielders and two free throws. Milanovich was right behind him with eight.

Midland out-rebounded the Vikings, 53-47. Milanovich was the game's leading rebounder, pulling in 14 strays.

Forester led the Leopards with 12 rebounds, followed by Bill Sallis and Aloi, who grabbed 11 and 10 respectively.

AFTER leading at the end of the first period, the Leopards built up an 18-point lead at the outset of the second stanza, 19-1. But Hopewell finally found the range and Midland led, 27-14, at the half and 43-26 at the third quarter mark.

Ed Olkowski's Leopard JV squad had to hang on for a 39-37 victory over the Hopewell JV's. Calvin Strickler of Hopewell led all scorers with 20 points. Ray Hoppa and Tom Flasco were high for the Leopards with 10 points apiece.

Friday night the Leopards invade the lair of the Beaver Bobcats, who are always troublesome at home.

Chester Avenges Loss To Beavers

Smith Stars In 66-45 Win

A hustling Chester five gained sweet revenge for an earlier loss in handing Beaver Local a 66-45 setback Tuesday night on the Hancock County court.

It didn't resemble the same Chester squad which dropped a 53-49 contest earlier in the season at Beaver Local.

Smith tallied 20 points while the veteran Pinney fired in 15 and was a standout in the rebounding department.

A strong second quarter paved the way for the Panthers victory. Trailing 13-9 at the end of the first period, Chester fell farther behind, to 15-9, but came on to outscore the Beavers 24-2 through the remainder of the second quarter and took a 33-17 halftime edge.

From that point on, Beaver Local never got back into the contest. Pinney, Smith and Kelse Johnson paced the second quarter rally.

Gary Berhar, a new face in the Beaver Local lineup lately, led the way with 14 points while Gary Shaw added 11 points.

Sharman Takes Over As Coach Of Pipers

CLEVELAND (AP) — Bill Sharman, who made a big jump from Boston player to Los Angeles coach, is now in Cleveland as coach of the Pipers of the American Basketball League.

The 31-year-old Sharman, a backcourt ace of the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association for 10 years, was hired by the Pipers late Tuesday after John McLendon walked out in a feud with owner George Steinbrenner.

Sharman had been coach of the Los Angeles Jets until that team folded operations a few weeks ago.

Salem Upset, Win Streak Ends At Youngstown

An unpredictable Youngstown South cage squad pulled a major upset in Ohio circles Tuesday night by sending the seventh-ranked Salem Quakers spinning to a 72-60 defeat at Youngstown.

The Quakers, who meet the East Liverpool Potters Friday night for what could be the showdown battle in the Big 8 Conference, had their 11-game winning streak snapped. Coach John Cabas' team now stands 12-2 for the season.

Salem was behind all the way, trailing 19-11 at the end of the first quarter, 33-25 at halftime and 54-49 going into the fourth period.

Ernie McElroy put the biggest dent into the Quakers with 25 points. Bill Beery's 14 points was high for Salem.

Duke, Cincy Have Easy Times In College Play

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

Duke, ranked sixth in the current Associated Press poll, bolstered its season's record to 13-2 with an impressive 89-73 victory over South Carolina at Durham, N.C., Tuesday night. The Blue Devils took over undisputed possession of first place in the Atlantic Coast Conference with a 6-1 mark.

Only one other member of the top 10, Cincinnati, saw action Tuesday night. The Bearcats, No. 2 nationally, subdued Drake 73-52 in a Missouri Valley game. The triumph, at home, boosted Cincinnati's record to 15-2 and 5-2 in league play.

Jeff Mullins, a 6-4 soph with a deft touch, supplied the scoring impetus for Duke with a 31-point outburst against South Carolina. Jay Buckley, a 6-10 sophomore pivot, turned in his best game with 26 points while the 6-5 Heyman, the ACC scoring leader, collected 20 points—including several key baskets.

Heyman, who entered the game as the fifth leading scorer in the country, is averaging 27.9 points per game. Mullins raised his season's average to 21.1, fourth best in the ACC.

Big Paul Hogue found the range for 29 points in spearheading Cincinnati's imposing conquest of Drake. Two Drake defenders had their hands full guarding the 6-9 center, and both eventually fouled out.

The Bearcats controlled the backboards and assumed a 36-22 halftime bulge. Cincy cleared the bench after the intermission and still posted a convincing success.

Cincinnati's 5-2 league slate tied the Ohioans with Wichita for second place in the MVC. Bradley leads with a 6-1 mark.

Tapers Snap Rens' 4-Game Win Streak

By The Associated Press

The New York Tapers probably would like to play the Pittsburgh Rens all the time in the American Basketball League.

The Tapers have won three of nine games in the second half race and all three have been against the Rens.

Kinsey's Goal Nips Central For Westgate

Ron Kinsey became Westgate's man of the hour when he flipped in a long field goal from the corner as the buzzer sounded to give his team a 33-31 victory over Steubenville Central on the West End court.

Kinsey's field goal broke a 31-31 tie and gave Westgate its second straight victory and sixth in 11 games.

PORCH LIGHT PARADE TONIGHT

Please Say "YES" To The MOTHERS MARCH OF DIMES

When You Open Your Door To Your Neighbor Who Calls On You On Behalf of the New March Of Dimes, Give A Thought To All Those For Whom She Speaks!

Today, the March of Dimes is fighting the dread "crippling problems" of our nation: polio, arthritis, and birth defects. In polio, it is estimated that 150,000 people already stricken can still benefit by help. The rheumatic diseases, including arthritis, are afflicting at least 11 million persons. Birth defects are the largest unsolved child-health problem, and some 250,000 infants are born malformed each year! You can give all of these people hope of living normally again! Give . . . and give generously . . . from your heart!

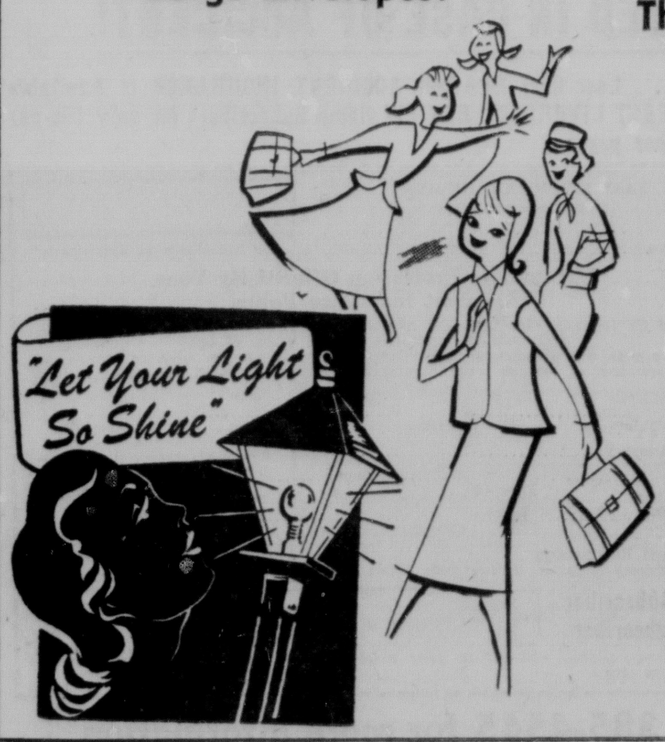

ATTENTION MOTHERS!

The First National Bank Lobby will be headquarters for the Porch Light Parade Workers.

Viewers Can Keep Good Shows On TV

Producer Sy Gomberg and actor James Whitmore are tossing a party at their studio next week to celebrate resumption of filming of "The Law and Mr. Jones."

Hal Humphrey

"We want to do something for you people of the press who came to our defense when the show was canceled last season," says Gomberg. "Even Ollie Treyz, the president of ABC, admits now that the network made a mistake. I think that's pretty big of him, too." ABC arbitrarily dropped "The Law and Mr. Jones" despite the sponsor's desire to keep the series.

Gomberg got on the phone and called TV columnists to say he thought he had been robbed.

A great many TV fans felt he had, too, and the result was a large mail protest.

Gomberg and Whitmore never claimed they had the greatest series ever on TV, but they did think it was better than 90 per cent of what was seen last season, and they were right, and, more important — the public agreed.

"The Law and Mr. Jones" goes back on ABC April 19, with the same sponsor, the same Mr. Jones (James Whitmore) and the same fighting producer — Gomberg.

INSTEAD of waiting for their favorite TV show to be axed, viewers occasionally should write to the networks to let them know how they feel.

Right now, for example, is a good time to write NBC about both the Bob Newhart and David Brinkley's Journal shows. Both are taking a drubbing at the rating polls from "Naked City," and sponsors are notoriously sensitive about getting beat out by a competitor's program.

"I HAD TO ASK for relief, because I'm exhausted. I don't sleep at night," Kibbee explains. "I'd hate to see anything happen to the Newhart show, however, because he's the only one on TV doing any genuine satire now.

"If the show should go, then the wise guys again will jump to the conclusion that satire is not for TV."

Kibbee's exhaustion is largely because of the staggering responsibility of coming up with enough ideas for Newhart to hang his droll comedy on each week.

He used to do it when he worked for Fred Allen on radio every week, and he and the late Allen were considered iron men then.

"But I'm older now, and that iron is rusting," says Kibbee.

THE AVAILABILITY of comics for TV is not as good as it used to be. Harry Ackerman, executive producer at Screen Gems, still is trying to find someone to team with Buster Keaton in a projected series called "Medicine Man."

Ernie Kovacs was costarred with Keaton in the pilot film, which they had just finished before Ernie was killed. Ackerman has contacted Sid Caesar and Red Buttons, but Sid doesn't think he could be happy in a weekly film series and Red thinks his movie career is about to blossom.

Ackerman would like to have either Milton Berle or Jackie Gleason for the role, but ABC has first lien on the series (it put up the money), and Berle is committed to NBC and Gleason to CBS.

Meanwhile, Keaton is in West Germany making a deal for his old silent films to be shown there, either in theaters or on TV.

IN A RECENT COLUMN criticizing Groucho Marx and Jack Benny for some foul-ball acting on TV dramatic shows, I included Eddie Cantor in a list of comics who I said had not distinguished themselves as actors.

Eddie took umbrage, and rightfully. I had forgotten his role on "Playhouse 90" some years back in "Sizeman and Son." Eddie played the role of a cloak-and-suiter and did it to a fine turn.

Those old "Playhouse 90s," incidentally, look better all the time. Most of the drama on TV today is awfully anemic. There's more suspense in the draining of a sinus on a nose drop commercial.

Crashes Hurt City Woman, Young Driver

A woman and a youthful driver were injured slightly in two of the five traffic mishaps in East Liverpool Tuesday and last night, police reported. One driver was cited on two charges as an aftermath of one of the collisions.

Gary M. McKinney, 17, of Wellsville R. D. 1 suffered a bump on the head when his 1950 model car struck a parked auto at 5:42 p. m. on Pennsylvania Ave. 20 feet east of Wedgewood St., police said.

McKinney's car struck a parked 1954 model owned by Homer E. Flowers, 1620 Ohio Ave., officers said. McKinney said the left front tire of his car blew out, causing his vehicle to skid on icy pavement and hit Flowers' auto.

Mrs. Frances N. Franklin, 52, of E. 3rd St. and Broadway was treated for a back injury after a car driven by her husband, Kelsey E. Franklin, 52, was involved in a collision at 3:30 p.m. at Peach Alley and Drury Ln., police said.

Franklin, headed north in Peach Alley, was involved in a crash with a car driven west in Drury Ln. by Donald B. Chapman, 337 Ogden St., police said. Franklin took his wife to a physician's office for treatment.

Allen E. Lockhart, 31, of 133 W. Church Ln. was cited on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and operating an auto without a driver's license after his 1957 auto struck a parked car Tuesday at 9:45 a.m. on E. 4th St. 25 feet east of Crook Alley, police said.

Officers said Lockhart failed to stop after his car struck a parked 1959 two-door sdean owned by Helen L. Robinson, 107 Blakeley St. He was taken into custody at his home at 3:05 p. m. by Patrolmen William A. Devon and Paul Blevins.

In a hearing today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff, Lockhart said he fell asleep momentarily, causing his auto to hit the parked car. He said he has a West Virginia operator's permit, although he has lived in Ohio about two years. Lockhart pleaded guilty to both counts.

The judge continued both cases until Feb. 21 for sentencing. He suggested Lockhart make arrangements to pay for damages to the Robinson auto, totaling about $300.

The judge also instructed Lockhart to take action today to obtain an Ohio operator's permit.

A collision at 6th and Market Sts. yesterday damaged a 1956 model car driven by Cy Wolverton, 19, of Pittsburgh and a 1959 station wagon operated by Mrs. Thelma Bryan of R. D. 2, police said. Mrs. Bryan said she was halted for a traffic light when Wolverton's car skidded and struck her vehicle from the rear.

Georgetown Resident, 96 Honored For Anniversary

Still active and in good health, he received many cards and good wishes from his friends and neighbors. A former riverman and pipeline worker, he retired seven years ago as caretaker of the Georgetown cemetery.

He is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Laughlin. Two of his children, Homer Laughlin of King City, Calif., and Mrs. Charles Campbell, are deceased. There are six grandchildren, 20 great grandchildren and 19 great-great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Andrew McHaffie will be hostess for the February meeting of the G-H 500 Club.

Mrs. Thomas Campbell and Mrs. Harry Prothero of Beaver were guests Sunday of Mrs. Campbell's sister, Mrs. Thomas Calhoon.

Visiting Mrs. Walter Reed Sunday were Jack Reed and family of Wellsburg, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Reed of Chester and Mr. and Mrs. Smith Shinton of East Liverpool.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. John Laughlin Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. John Laughlin Jr. and family of Poland, Ohio, and Mr. and Mrs. James Laughlin of East Liverpool.

Higher Power Output Set At Shippingport

The Atomic Energy Commission said in a report to Congress Tuesday the generating capacity of the atomic power plant at Shippingport will be more than doubled. It now supplies 60,000 net kilowatts of electricity daily.

The report states that the design and fabrication of a second core is now underway at the Beaver County plant, which began full operation in December of 1957.

The new core will have a power capability of 150,000 gross electrical kilowatts.

Since initial operation, the reactor has operated for 15,279 equivalent full power hours and more than a billion kilowatt hours of electricity have been generated.

Enough electricity has been generated at Shippingport to supply the residential needs of more than 80,000 families during the four years the station has been operating.

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are in our middle 40s. We've always wanted children but were never blessed. A few years ago we made the rounds of adoption agencies but were told that we were "too old."

My niece is 17 and pregnant. There is no husband in sight. We have offered to pay her living expenses in another city plus the medical bills in exchange for her baby. She is willing and so are her parents.

Our clergyman is a rock-headed conservative who is strongly opposed to the idea. He said, "Write to Ann Landers. She'll give it to you straight between the eyes." So???—WAITING.

Dear Waiting: I'm not in favor of adoption by relatives unless both parents are deceased. A pregnant girl "with no husband in sight" is likely to be panicky and would agree to anything.

She could change her mind when the baby is a few months (or years) old and cause you plenty of trouble. It is always a risky situation when the mother knows the whereabouts of her child. You could be forever at the mercy of a neurotic woman. Don't do it.

Dark Outlook

Dear Ann: Over the Christmas holidays I had an out-of-town guest. She is a cute girl, 17 years old, and I had no trouble getting her dates. In fact, every fellow who saw her wanted to take her out.

During Easter vacation I'm going to have another 17-year-old guest, my father's daughter by his first marriage. I'll call her Linda. What a spook! She's taller than most fellows and she weighs more, too. If she had a pleasant personality it would help but she's real dullsville.

My mother says I can't go out during Easter vacation unless Linda has a date, too. If I fixed her up with any of the fellows in our crowd it would be the end of our friendship. What can I do?—EASTER AGONY.

Dear Agony: Here's a compromise: Give a party — open-house affair. Invite all likely (or unlikely) prospects. After the fellows meet Linda it's up to them to ask her for a date if they are interested.

If no one creashes through I see no reason why you should sit at home with her every evening. Of course you shouldn't go out every night and leave her. If you split it down the middle your mother should be satisfied.

From Dull To Sharp

Dear Ann: I'd like to reply to "Idiot Wife" since that letter could have been written by me 15 years ago.

I, too, married an attractive, intelligent man and everyone wondered how I got so lucky. I always felt inferior to him and he did absolutely nothing to bolster my ego.

One day I realized I was living a 12th century life in a 20th century world. My husband and I were 800 years and at least a million miles apart. So I did something about it.

I went on a diet and decided to loosen up and spend some money on clothes and in the beauty parlor. Then I got myself a darned good job. I took some night school courses and sharpened my mind. I began to read good books, attend lectures and get interested in the world around me.

Today I have a fine position in the business world and my husband treats me with respect. "Idiot Wife" is a fool to sit around and vegetate. What I have done, she can do, too.—IDIOT'S DELIGHT.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

Teen-Age Dieters Need Family Teamwork

Overweight teen - agers need someone to take an interest in their weight problem..someone to encourage them in their dieting efforts. In fact, dieting calls for teamwork by the family. One unhappy youngster writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"Please help me, I'm desperate. I'm 15 and weigh 152 pounds. I am 5 feet 7 tall and measure 34-26-40. I eat like I don't know what! But when I do stop overeating, then all I eat is apples, oranges and peppermints. Are these fattening? I could live off them if it were necessary. Please, please help me. My hips and legs are the worst.

"I'm ashamed to diet openly. My parents and friends, plus my relatives would only laugh at me. Please give me as much advice as possible."

FIRST OFF, congratulations for your concern and for taking the initiative to do something about it. At 15, a weight of 152 pounds is not a laughing matter.

Declare your serious intentions to your family, not in a light or kidding way. Remember, the way you talk with your family about the problem conditions their response. Show them you know you have a problem and that you need their help.

Recognize however, that the real issue is not whether your family is going to take your dieting efforts seriously, but whether you are. If you make a determined, honest effort to stop stuffing, the family will soon sense you resolve, and cooperate.

About the diet: You cannot live on apples, oranges and peppermints, whether they are fattening or non-fattening. Get hep to the fact that eating not dieting—right eating — is the backbone of reducing. Why not learn about nutrition, and apply this to everyday eating?

At which meal do you overeat? Try the plan of eating about half as much at that meal as you do now. This will work slimming wonders. Give real forethought to the idea that you will get up from the table before you overeat. Make this a mind-set.

Heavy legs and hefty hips may be a family characteristic. When you gain, the fat tends to go to those places, but you can take it off those places...with exercise, and proper eating.

PLAN TO spend 20 minutes daily on leg swinging and rolling exercises. Hit a rhythm, you'll enjoy exercising. Also, get out and walk. You can shape up and feel alive with exercise.

Have the courage of your own convictions. You cannot live your life by what people laugh at. Take charge of your life and you can do with it what you will! Happy slimming honey.

Send a stamped, self - addressed long envelope for "Teen-Age Challenge." and "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

REV. DALE BISSELL

Youth Revivals Begin Tonight At New Cumberland

Youth revival services will begin tonight at 7:30 in the New Cumberland Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. Dale R. Bissell of Monaca preaching.

The series will continue through Sunday night. The Rev. George Stewart is pastor.

An ordained elder in the Church of the Nazarene, Rev. Bissell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bissell of Wellsville and a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Howell of East Liverpool.

Presently pastor of the Colona Nazarene church in Monaca, he has served as president of the Beaver County Ministerial Association of his denomination, and is now president of the Beaver Valley Holiness Association.

Rev. Bissell was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1951 and completed ministerial studies in 1957. He was ordained in 1960.

Rev. Bissell was a member of the West Virginia District of the Church of the Nazarene from 1954 to 1957, serving various pulpits in Weirton, Congo near Newell and Chester.

Music for the services will include selections by a trio of the pastor, his wife and James Haney.

Woman In Child Custody Case Is Reported Better

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Georgia Hathaway, a deaf and blind woman whose fight to keep her child attracted widespread attention six years ago, is recovering from a heart attack in Akron General Hospital.

The hospital relaxed its rules on children's visiting rights to allow Mrs. Hathaway's son, Clarence, who will be 7 on Feb. 17, to visit her. Clarence is the eyes and ears of his mother, who is 43, and father, Harold Hathaway, 60, who also is deaf and blind. The couple in 1955 won a court fight to prevent a welfare agency from placing Clarence in a foster home.

Mrs. Hathaway need no longer stay in an oxygen tent and is able to sit in a chair three times a day and feed herself.

When there's a coffee or tea stain on a non-washable material, sponge the spot with cool water and then with dry-cleaning fluid.

County Sets Ohio Record For Enrollment In 4-H

LISBON — Columbiana County hadt he highest number of 4-H members enrolled in any county in the state for 1961, according to the yearly report of the agriculture, home economics and youth work of the County Extension Office. Floyd Lower, veteran extension agent in agriculture, said the county had been in second place for a number of years but last year reached 1,760 members who carried 2,725 projects.

Approximately 1,550 projects were exhibited at the fair. One hundred and eighty - three adults served as club advisors for the 90 clubs, Lower said.

The county clubs have adjusted to a yeararound program rather than a summer activity and two-thirds of the clubs met on such a basis during the past year. Over 1,000 local club meetings were held.

Besides the regular clubs, 114 older 4-H Club members enrolled in the county junior leaders club and assisted the advisors in their local clubs and well as participating in countywide activities. Average attendance at the monthly meetings of the leaders club was 60.

The boys and girls also enrolled in other county clubs, which included the 4-H Band, steer feeding, dairy, tractor and junior leader projects. Thirty different kinds of projects in livestock, crops, handicraft and home economics were undertaken.

One hundred and eighth 4-H members attended junior and senior 4-H Camps, 200 advisors attended the advisors recognition banquet, 300 4-H members participated in the evening grandstand show, "4-H Revue" at the County Fair, and 600 local club officers attended the officers training sessions.

Some 750 members participated in district and county Selection Days; 500 members, advisors and parents attended the 4-H Rally and 1,650 members exhibited at the County Fair, Lower said.

3,100 Expected To Attend GOP Dinner Thursday

CLEVELAND (AP)—What does it take to feed 3,100 guests—the number expected for the Republicans' $100-a-plate dinner at which Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., speaks Thursday night?

Then add: 800 pounds of butter . . . 300 pounds of cottage cheese . . . 400 loaves of bread . . . 325 8-inch cakes . . . 25,000 plates, dishes, cups and saucers . . . 3,100 each of knives, teaspoons and goblets . . .9,000 dinner, desert and salad forks. And to do the serving, bring along 173 waitresses.

Serving will start at 7:34 p.m., and all 274 tables are expected to be cleared by 8:50 when the program starts.

1,000 Colombians Greet Billy Graham

CALI, Colombia (AP) — More than 1,000 Colombians greeted U.S. evangelist Billy Graham on his arrival in Cali Tuesday night, and a 200-car motorcade escorted him to a reception at a local hotel.

Authorities in Barranquilla, Colombia, denied Graham the use of the baseball stadium for his crusade and he spoke in the Presbyterian mission. But officials in Cali assured him the use of the local Olympic Stadium.

Firm Reports Records In Sales And Earnings

CINCINNATI (AP) — Andrew Jergens Co., which first offered its stock publicly last year, has reported new highs in sales and earnings for the year ended last Nov. 30.

The firm reported Tuesday earning $2,295,841 or $1.51 a share on common stock, on sales of $34,856,134 during the fiscal year. This compared with the previous year when profit was $1,823,921, or $1.19 a share, on sales of $32,688,305.

Faces Fraud Charge

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Lawrence E. Ruhl of Middletown, former credit manager of Harry's Corner, a floor covering store, was due in City Court today to face a charge of embezzling $10,000. Ruhl, 35, had been arrested Monday at the company's Cincinnati store.

Salineville Area Couple Weds

The bride, the former Carol Krumlauf, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Krumlauf of Salem. She attended Salem High School.

Her husband, a 1959 graduate of Carrollton High School, is employed by the Torrence Coal Co.

Students' Paper Hits Trustee Ban On Red Speaker

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—The Wilmington College campus newspaper says the executive committee of the school's trustees banned a student plan to bring an American Communist to the campus to speak.

A story in the Wilmington Monitor by Dale Shears said the paper's editor, Michael Luckman, had proposed inviting Benjamin Davis, former secretary of the American Communist Party, to a convocation.

The story said Dr. James Read, president of the school, suggested first that somone from an Iron Curtain country be invited instead, along with a spokesman for the non-Communist world.

The president later told the convocation committee, according to the story, that the executive committee had come out against the idea and suggested it be dropped.

Walter Tangeman of Cincinnati, chairman of the executive committee, was not available for comment immediately.

To Extend Coverage

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hospital Care Corp., Blue Cross organization for Southwestern Ohio, plans to extend coverage to dependents age 19-25 if they are totally dependant or attending college. The company says the plan will be available only to parents employed with a firm having a group plan.

Applications Due By Friday For Arts And Hobby Classes

Applications for classes in the Wellsville City College of Arts and Hobbies are due by Friday, the Wellsville Women's Civic Club announced today.

The classes will begin Tuesday for eight consecutive Tuesday nights from 7 to 9 at Daw Junior High School.

The applications are to be mailed to Mrs. Louise Lawton, 1515 Clark Ave.

Ten courses are being planned. but some may be dropped if enough do not show interest, the club said.

A class in square dancing for junior high school students has been definitely set. It will begin Feb. 12 and be held for eight consecutive Monday nights at MacDonald School. Lester Bickle will be in charge.

Any high school student may take any of the courses being offered for half price.

Further information on the courses will be announced later. If enough interest is shown in a subject not being offered, a class will be formed.

Being offered are hooked rugs, crocheting, painting, mosaics and copper enameling, papier mache, holiday cake and cookie decorations plus table decorating, quilting, bridge and sewing, tailoring and millinery.

The club said the decorating course will consist of four classes in cake decorating by Peter Corak, two on formal table decorating by Mrs. Aletha Baum and two on informal table decorating by Mrs. Martha Wilson.

The club is sponsoring the school so area residents may learn new hobbies and crafts at little expense.

Hancock PTA Group Given Report By Superintendent

Supt. Robert H. Hall and Dr. Joseph Favara of Rome, Italy, addressed the Hancock County PTA Council at its meeting Monday night in Marland Heights School in Weirton. Sixty attended.

In a progress report, Supt. Hall emphasized an effort is under way to "teach each individual child" and to advance each student to complete fulfilment of his intellectual level.

Supt. Hall said film strips, educational television and teaching machines are helping to make learning "a more exciting process." There are special programs for helping each student to develop on his own and learn responsibility, he said.

Supt. Hall also cited the merits of centralized libraries and educational TV in the county system. Teaching experiments are under way and the programs will be developed for use in the new high schools to be erected in the future.

Bids are expected to be asked in March for construction of new high schools in Weirton and Pughtown.

Dr. Favara, studying schools in the Northern Panhandle as an exchange teacher, compared schools with those in his native country.

He pointed out that mathematics is stressed more in Italy in the lower grades. Dr. Favara said he received a "pleasant surprise" when he observed first graders being taught Spanish at the Newell Jefferson School. Mrs. Helen Doane is instructor.

Mrs. Anthony DiBart, president, conducted business. Mrs. Charles French, hospitality chairman, announced for the annual County PTA banquet has been set May 26. It will be held in the Chester Masonic Temple. Mrs. Charles Wagner gave the membership report, and Mrs. Audrey Litman, the pre-school report.

Phil Tarantine was program chairman. Named as a nominating committee were Mrs. John Stankiewicz, Mrs. Paul Barnett and Thayer Allison. Inez Orler of Weirton elementary school led devotions.

Next meeting is March 29 in Fort Jefferson School near Weirton.

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Carl Rich, who wants to run for Congress, scheduled a conference in Columbus today with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle on resigning his domestic relations bench in Cincinnati.

Ex-Boxing Champion Cited On Mail Count

Jamison, 31, of Cincinnati, waived a hearing Tuesday after arrest by postal agents and was released on $1,000 bond.

Fire Closes School

Twin-County Potato Institute Set Feb. 14

LISBON — The annual Columbiana-Mahoning County Potato Insitute will be held Feb. 14 at Heck's Restaurant in Columbiana, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

Speakers will include E. C. Wittmeyer and Robert Partyka of Ohio State University, V. E. Keirns of the Ohio Potato Growers Association and several growers from nearby counties, Lower said. It will begin at 10 a. m.

Glenn's Home Town Has News Media Set

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP) — Accommodations for news media here in Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.'s hometown will be kept in readiness for the new date of his orbital space ride.

Muskingum College, near center of the "hometown angle" news operation, says the facilities it made available to the press, radio and television prior to the flight postponements will stay on tap.

NLRB Sets Feb. 7 For Cab Driver Vote

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has ordered a new vote Feb. 7 by 400 employes of Cincinnati Taxicabs, Ind., to decide if they want to rejoin the Teamsters Union or stay independent.

Files For Congress

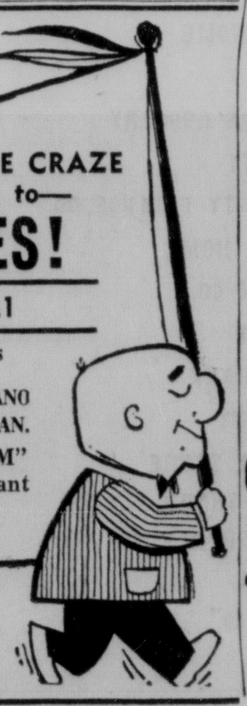

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati filed petitions Tuesday as a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman-at-large in the May primary. Taft is majority floor leader in the Ohio House.

Please Say "YES" To The MOTHERS MARCH OF DIMES

When You Open Your Door To Your Neighbor Who Calls On You On Behalf of the New March Of Dimes, Give A Thought To All Those For Whom She Speaks!

Today, the March of Dimes is fighting the dread "crippling problems" of our nation: polio, arthritis, and birth defects. In polio, it is estimated that 150,000 people already stricken can still benefit by help. The rheumatic diseases, including arthritis, are afflicting at least 11 million persons. Birth defects are the largest unsolved child-health problem, and some 250,000 infants are born malformed each year! You can give all of these people hope of living normally again! Give . . . and give generously . . . from your heart!

ATTENTION MOTHERS!

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: My husband and I are in our middle 40s. We've always wanted children but were never blessed. A few years ago we made the rounds of adoption agencies but were told that we were "too old."

My niece is 17 and pregnant. There is no husband in sight. We have offered to pay her living expenses in another city plus the medical bills in exchange for her baby. She is willing and so are her parents.

Our clergyman is a rock-headed conservative who is strongly opposed to the idea. He said, "Write to Ann Landers. She'll give it to you straight between the eyes." So???—WAITING.

Dear Waiting: I'm not in favor of adoption by relatives unless both parents are deceased. A pregnant girl "with no husband in sight" is likely to be panicky and would agree to anything.

She could change her mind when the baby is a few months (or years) old and cause you plenty of trouble. It is always a risky situation when the mother knows the whereabouts of her child. You could be forever at the mercy of a neurotic woman. Don't do it.

Dark Outlook

Dear Ann: Over the Christmas holidays I had an out-of-town guest. She is a cute girl, 17 years old, and I had no trouble getting her dates. In fact, every fellow who saw her wanted to take her out.

During Easter vacation I'm going to have another 17-year-old guest, my father's daughter by his first marriage. I'll call her Linda. What a spook! She's taller than most fellows and she weighs more, too. If she had a pleasant personality it would help but she's real dullsville.

My mother says I can't go out during Easter vacation unless Linda has a date, too. If I fixed her up with any of the fellows in our crowd it would be the end of our friendship. What can I do?—EASTER AGONY.

Dear Agony: Here's a compromise: Give a party — open-house affair. Invite all likely (or unlikely) prospects. After the fellows meet Linda it's up to them to ask her for a date if they are interested.

If no one creashes through I see no reason why you should sit at home with her every evening. Of course you shouldn't go out every night and leave her. If you split it down the middle your mother should be satisfied.

From Dull To Sharp

Dear Ann: I'd like to reply to "Idiot Wife" since that letter could have been written by me 15 years ago.

I, too, married an attractive, intelligent man and everyone wondered how I got so lucky. I always felt inferior to him and he did absolutely nothing to bolster my ego.

One day I realized I was living a 12th century life in a 20th century world. My husband and I were 800 years and at least a million miles apart. So I did something about it.

I went on a diet and decided to loosen up and spend some money on clothes and in the beauty parlor. Then I got myself a darned good job. I took some night school courses and sharpened my mind. I began to read good books, attend lectures and get interested in the world around me.

Today I have a fine position in the business world and my husband treats me with respect. "Idiot Wife" is a fool to sit around and vegetate. What I have done, she can do, too.—IDIOT'S DELIGHT.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Teen-Age Dieters Need Family Teamwork

Overweight teen - agers need someone to take an interest in their weight problem..someone to encourage them in their dieting efforts. In fact, dieting calls for teamwork by the family. One unhappy youngster writes:

Ida Jean Kain

"Please help me, I'm desperate. I'm 15 and weigh 152 pounds. I am 5 feet 7 tall and measure 34-26-40. I eat like I don't know what! But when I do stop overeating, then all I eat is apples, oranges and peppermints. Are these fattening? I could live off them if it were necessary. Please, please help me. My hips and legs are the worst.

"I'm ashamed to diet openly. My parents and friends, plus my relatives would only laugh at me. Please give me as much advice as possible."

FIRST OFF, congratulations for your concern and for taking the initiative to do something about it. At 15, a weight of 152 pounds is not a laughing matter.

Declare your serious intentions to your family, not in a light or kidding way. Remember, the way you talk with your family about the problem conditions their response. Show them you know you have a problem and that you need their help.

Recognize however, that the real issue is not whether your family is going to take your dieting efforts seriously, but whether you are. If you make a determined, honest effort to stop stuffing, the family will soon sense you resolve, and cooperate.

About the diet: You cannot live on apples, oranges and peppermints, whether they are fattening or non-fattening. Get hep to the fact that eating not dieting—right eating — is the backbone of reducing. Why not learn about nutrition, and apply this to everyday eating?

At which meal do you overeat? Try the plan of eating about half as much at that meal as you do now. This will work slimming wonders. Give real forethought to the idea that you will get up from the table before you overeat. Make this a mind-set.

Heavy legs and hefty hips may be a family characteristic. When you gain, the fat tends to go to those places, but you can take it off those places...with exercise, and proper eating.

PLAN TO spend 20 minutes daily on leg swinging and rolling exercises. Hit a rhythm, you'll enjoy exercising. Also, get out and walk. You can shape up and feel alive with exercise.

Have the courage of your own convictions. You cannot live your life by what people laugh at. Take charge of your life and you can do with it what you will! Happy slimming honey.

Send a stamped, self - addressed long envelope for "Teen-Age Challenge." and "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain, in care of The Review. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

REV. DALE BISSELL

Youth Revivals Begin Tonight At New Cumberland

Youth revival services will begin tonight at 7:30 in the New Cumberland Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. Dale R. Bissell of Monaca preaching.

The series will continue through Sunday night. The Rev. George Stewart is pastor.

An ordained elder in the Church of the Nazarene, Rev. Bissell is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bissell of Wellsville and a son-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Howell of East Liverpool.

Presently pastor of the Colona Nazarene church in Monaca, he has served as president of the Beaver County Ministerial Association of his denomination, and is now president of the Beaver Valley Holiness Association.

Rev. Bissell was graduated from East Liverpool High School in 1951 and completed ministerial studies in 1957. He was ordained in 1960.

Rev. Bissell was a member of the West Virginia District of the Church of the Nazarene from 1954 to 1957, serving various pulpits in Weirton, Congo near Newell and Chester.

Music for the services will include selections by a trio of the pastor, his wife and James Haney.

Woman In Child Custody Case Is Reported Better

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Georgia Hathaway, a deaf and blind woman whose fight to keep her child attracted widespread attention six years ago, is recovering from a heart attack in Akron General Hospital.

The hospital relaxed its rules on children's visiting rights to allow Mrs. Hathaway's son, Clarence, who will be 7 on Feb. 17, to visit her. Clarence is the eyes and ears of his mother, who is 43, and father, Harold Hathaway, 60, who also is deaf and blind. The couple in 1955 won a court fight to prevent a welfare agency from placing Clarence in a foster home.

Mrs. Hathaway need no longer stay in an oxygen tent and is able to sit in a chair three times a day and feed herself.

When there's a coffee or tea stain on a non-washable material, sponge the spot with cool water and then with dry-cleaning fluid.

County Sets Ohio Record For Enrollment In 4-H

LISBON — Columbiana County hadt he highest number of 4-H members enrolled in any county in the state for 1961, according to the yearly report of the agriculture, home economics and youth work of the County Extension Office. Floyd Lower, veteran extension agent in agriculture, said the county had been in second place for a number of years but last year reached 1,760 members who carried 2,725 projects.

Approximately 1,550 projects were exhibited at the fair. One hundred and eighty - three adults served as club advisors for the 90 clubs, Lower said.

The county clubs have adjusted to a yeararound program rather than a summer activity and two-thirds of the clubs met on such a basis during the past year. Over 1,000 local club meetings were held.

A record of 90 per cent of the 2,750 projects were completed by the boys and girls and this was way above the state average.

Besides the regular clubs, 114 older 4-H Club members enrolled in the county junior leaders club and assisted the advisors in their local clubs and well as participating in countywide activities. Average attendance at the monthly meetings of the leaders club was 60.

The boys and girls also enrolled in other county clubs, which included the 4-H Band, steer feeding, dairy, tractor and junior leader projects. Thirty different kinds of projects in livestock, crops, handicraft and home economics were undertaken.

Among the activities in the county last year were the following:

One hundred and eighth 4-H members attended junior and senior 4-H Camps, 200 advisors attended the advisors recognition banquet, 300 4-H members participated in the evening grandstand show, "4-H Revue" at the County Fair, and 600 local club officers attended the officers training sessions.

Some 750 members participated in district and county Selection Days; 500 members, advisors and parents attended the 4-H Rally and 1,650 members exhibited at the County Fair, Lower said.

3,100 Expected To Attend GOP Dinner Thursday

CLEVELAND (AP)—What does it take to feed 3,100 guests—the number expected for the Republicans' $100-a-plate dinner at which Sen. Barry M. Goldwater, R-Ariz., speaks Thursday night?

Then add: 800 pounds of butter . . . 300 pounds of cottage cheese . . . 400 loaves of bread . . . 325 8-inch cakes . . . 25,000 plates, dishes, cups and saucers . . . 3,100 each of knives, teaspoons and goblets . . .9,000 dinner, desert and salad forks. And to do the serving, bring along 173 waitresses.

Serving will start at 7:34 p.m., and all 274 tables are expected to be cleared by 8:50 when the program starts.

1,000 Colombians Greet Billy Graham

CALI, Colombia (AP) — More than 1,000 Colombians greeted U.S. evangelist Billy Graham on his arrival in Cali Tuesday night, and a 200-car motorcade escorted him to a reception at a local hotel.

Authorities in Barranquilla, Colombia, denied Graham the use of the baseball stadium for his crusade and he spoke in the Presbyterian mission. But officials in Cali assured him the use of the local Olympic Stadium.

Firm Reports Records In Sales And Earnings

CINCINNATI (AP) — Andrew Jergens Co., which first offered its stock publicly last year, has reported new highs in sales and earnings for the year ended last Nov. 30.

The firm reported Tuesday earning $2,295,841 or $1.51 a share on common stock, on sales of $34,856,134 during the fiscal year. This compared with the previous year when profit was $1,823,921, or $1.19 a share, on sales of $32,688,305.

Faces Fraud Charge

MIDDLETOWN, Ohio (AP) — Lawrence E. Ruhl of Middletown, former credit manager of Harry's Corner, a floor covering store, was due in City Court today to face a charge of embezzling $10,000. Ruhl, 35, had been arrested Monday at the company's Cincinnati store.

Salineville Area Couple Weds

The bride, the former Carol Krumlauf, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Krumlauf of Salem. She attended Salem High School.

Her husband, a 1959 graduate of Carrollton High School, is employed by the Torrence Coal Co.

Students' Paper Hits Trustee Ban On Red Speaker

WILMINGTON, Ohio (AP)—The Wilmington College campus newspaper says the executive committee of the school's trustees banned a student plan to bring an American Communist to the campus to speak.

A story in the Wilmington Monitor by Dale Shears said the paper's editor, Michael Luckman, had proposed inviting Benjamin Davis, former secretary of the American Communist Party, to a convocation.

The story said Dr. James Read, president of the school, suggested first that somone from an Iron Curtain country be invited instead, along with a spokesman for the non-Communist world.

The president later told the convocation committee, according to the story, that the executive committee had come out against the idea and suggested it be dropped.

Walter Tangeman of Cincinnati, chairman of the executive committee, was not available for comment immediately.

To Extend Coverage

CINCINNATI (AP) — Hospital Care Corp., Blue Cross organization for Southwestern Ohio, plans to extend coverage to dependents age 19-25 if they are totally dependant or attending college. The company says the plan will be available only to parents employed with a firm having a group plan.

Applications Due By Friday For Arts And Hobby Classes

Applications for classes in the Wellsville City College of Arts and Hobbies are due by Friday, the Wellsville Women's Civic Club announced today.

The classes will begin Tuesday for eight consecutive Tuesday nights from 7 to 9 at Daw Junior High School.

The applications are to be mailed to Mrs. Louise Lawton, 1515 Clark Ave.

Ten courses are being planned, but some may be dropped if enough do not show interest, the club said.

A class in square dancing for junior high school students has been definitely set. It will begin Feb. 12 and be held for eight consecutive Monday nights at MacDonald School. Lester Bickle will be in charge.

Any high school student may take any of the courses being offered for half price.

Further information on the courses will be announced later. If enough interest is shown in a subject not being offered, a class will be formed.

Being offered are hooked rugs, crocheting, painting, mosaics and copper enameling, papier mache, holiday cake and cookie decorations plus table decorating, quilting, bridge and sewing, tailoring and millinery.

The club said the decorating course will consist of four classes in cake decorating by Peter Corak, two on formal table decorating by Mrs. Aletha Baum and two on informal table decorating by Mrs. Martha Wilson.

The club is sponsoring the school so area residents may learn new hobbies and crafts at little expense.

Special Hearing Set In Child Custody Case

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (AP)—Dist. Judge David Zenoff put a special hearing on the Byington child custody case on today's docket.

A regularly scheduled hearing had been listed for Feb. 22 in the case of estranged parents from Ohio battling over custody of their three young daughters.

Robert Byington Jr. was last reported in Granville, Ohio, with one of the youngsters. His wife, Patricia, was said to be in North Las Vegas with the other two.

Hancock PTA Group Given Report By Superintendent

Supt. Robert H. Hall and Dr. Joseph Favara of Rome, Italy, addressed the Hancock County PTA Council at its meeting Monday night in Marland Heights School in Weirton. Sixty attended.

In a progress report, Supt. Hall emphasized an effort is under way to "teach each individual child" and to advance each student to complete fulfilment of his intellectual level.

Supt. Hall said film strips, educational television and teaching machines are helping to make learning "a more exciting process." There are special programs for helping each student to develop on his own and learn responsibility, he said.

Supt. Hall also cited the merits of centralized libraries and educational TV in the county system. Teaching experiments are under way and the programs will be developed for use in the new high schools to be erected in the future.

Bids are expected to be asked in March for construction of new high schools in Weirton and Pughtown.

Dr. Favara, studying schools in the Northern Panhandle as an exchange teacher, compared schools with those in his native country.

He pointed out that mathematics is stressed more in Italy in the lower grades. Dr. Favara said he received a "pleasant surprise" when he observed first graders being taught Spanish at the Newell Jefferson School. Mrs. Helen Doane is instructor.

Mrs. Anthony DiBart, president, conducted business. Mrs. Charles French, hospitality chairman, announced for the annual County PTA banquet has been set May 26. It will be held in the Chester Masonic Temple. Mrs. Charles Wagner gave the membership report, and Mrs. Audrey Litman, the pre-school report.

Phil Tarantine was program chairman. Named as a nominating committee were Mrs. John Stankiewicz, Mrs. Paul Barnett and Thayer Allison. Inez Orler of Weirton elementary school led devotions.

Next meeting is March 29 in Fort Jefferson School near Weirton.

Judge Meets DiSalle About Resigning Post

CINCINNATI (AP)—Judge Carl Rich, who wants to run for Congress, scheduled a conference in Columbus today with Gov. Michael V. DiSalle on resigning his domestic relations bench in Cincinnati.

Ex-Boxing Champion Cited On Mail Count

Jamison, 31, of Cincinnati, waived a hearing Tuesday after arrest by postal agents and was released on $1,000 bond.

Fire Closes School

Twin-County Potato Institute Set Feb. 14

LISBON — The annual Columbiana-Mahoning County Potato Insitute will be held Feb. 14 at Heck's Restaurant in Columbiana, according to Floyd Lower, county extension agent in agriculture.

Speakers will include E. C. Wittmeyer and Robert Partyka of Ohio State University, V. E. Keirns of the Ohio Potato Growers Association and several growers from nearby counties, Lower said. It will begin at 10 a. m.

Glenn's Home Town Has News Media Set

NEW CONCORD, Ohio (AP) — Accommodations for news media here in Lt. Col. John H. Glenn Jr.'s hometown will be kept in readiness for the new date of his orbital space ride.

Muskingum College, near center of the "hometown angle" news operation, says the facilities it made available to the press, radio and television prior to the flight postponements will stay on tap.

NLRB Sets Feb. 7 For Cab Driver Vote

CINCINNATI (AP) — The National Labor Relations Board has ordered a new vote Feb. 7 by 400 employes of Cincinnati Taxicabs, Ind., to decide if they want to rejoin the Teamsters Union or stay independent.

Files For Congress

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Robert Taft Jr. of Cincinnati filed petitions Tuesday as a candidate for the Republican nomination for congressman-at-large in the May primary. Taft is majority floor leader in the Ohio House.

LEGAL NOTICES

INVITATION TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be received by the Director of Highways, State of Ohio, until 2:00 P. M., February 14, 1962, at the office of the Division of Right of Way, Columbus, Ohio, for the purchase and removal of the building described in this invitation. The building is located in the right of way required for the improvement or relocation of U. S. Route 30, Section 31.46, Columbiana County, Ohio.

Bids are to be submitted only on "Bid Proposal" forms (R/W Form 79, revised 10-61, Green), prescribed by the Director of Highways. Copies of the "Bid Proposal" form and pertinent "Notice to Bidders" containing information regarding each bidder's responsibility may be obtained at the below listed addresses:

Division Highway Office
Highway Garage
New Philadelphia, Ohio, or
The Division of Right of Way
139 East Gay Street, Room 301,
Columbus 15, Ohio.

The "Bid Proposal" and the "Notice to Bidders" shall be incorporated in and made a part of the final contract between the State and the successful bidder.

Item 10, Parcel 90LA — 1 story cement block and frame house with garage attached—State Route 30, about 2 miles west of East Liverpool, Ohio, on left side of the road.

E. S. PRESTON
Director of Highways

E. L. Review: Jan. 24, 31, 1962.

NOTICE

In the Probate Court
State of Ohio, Columbiana County, ss.

In Re: Estate of Virginia Moore Rush, Deceased
To Whom It May Concern:

Notice is hereby given that on the 18th day of January, 1962, Lawrence A. Rush, Executor of the last will and testament of Virginia Moore Rush deceased, late of the District of Grant, County of Hancock, State of West Virginia, filed in the Court an authenticated copy of the letters testamentary granted him by the County Court, Hancock County, State of West Virginia, and that all creditors having claims against said estate should present them to this Court within six months after the filing of said letters, or be forever barred from asserting any liens against the real estate of the decedent situated in the State of Ohio.

LOUIS TOBIN
Probate Judge

E. L. Review: Jan. 24, 31; Feb. 7, 1962.

LEGAL NOTICE

The unknown heirs, devisees, legatees, administrators, executors and assigns of Raymond Baker, deceased, will take notice that The First National Bank of East Liverpool, at East Liverpool, Ohio, Administrator of the estate of Raymond Baker, deceased, on the 24th day of November, 1961, filed its petition in the Probate Court of Columbiana County, State of Ohio, where same is designated as Case No. 57335 A, Docket 63, Page 152, for a determination of heirship in said estate. The prayer in said petition is that the Court determine who are the heirs of said decedent entitled by law to inherit said estate according to the statues in such cases made and provided and for other relief.

The persons above named will further take notice that they have been made parties defendant to said petition and that they are required to answer the same on or before the 20th day of February, 1962, at 10:00 o'clock A. M.

Francis H. Lang, Attorney for petitioner.

LEGAL NOTICE

By virtue of execution issued out of Municipal Court of East Liverpool, Ohio, in the case of Loan & Finance Corporation vs. Ernest & Opal Jones, upon a judgment therein rendered and being Case No. 23437, in said Court, I will offer at public sale at Central Service, 142 West 7th Street, East Liverpool, Ohio at 2:00 P. M. E. S. T. on February 14, 1962, the following described chattel, to-wit: One (1) 1958 DeSoto Serial No. LS28441, (Used) Terms of sale Cash.

Wilbert P. Taylor, Bailiff
E. L. Review: Jan. 31, Feb. 7, 1962.

Junior Editors Quiz on VOLCANOES

QUESTION: When was the last volcanic eruption in the United States?

ANSWER: The last volcanic eruption in the United States occurred in Katmai National Park Alaska in August 1960. This national park is located in a region of volcanoes, appropriately named the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes. It is considered a part of the Circum-Pacific system, often referred to as "The Circle of Fire."

In 1960, Mount Martin and Mount Triden erupted, spreading volcanic ash over an area of 50 square miles. The smoke billowed up from 30,000 to 40,000 feet and for a short time blotted out the sun completely in Kodiak, 100 miles away.

The park was the scene of another eruption. This was in 1912, when Alaska was not yet a state. During this violent eruption, about six cubic miles of rock were hurled upward from Mount Katmai and nearly all plant life on the Peninsula was destroyed.

The word "volcano" comes from "Volcanus", the name of the Roman God of Fire. Volcanoes have caused many of the world's greatest disasters, including the death of over 36,000 people at Krakatoa, between Java and Samatra, in 1883. Fortunately, all the volcanoes except one in continental United States are now considered extinct—that is, they probably will never flow again. The exception is Mount Lassen in northeastern California, an intermittent volcano—which will erupt at fairly regular cycles.

FOR YOU TO DO: Look up, in the library, the way a volcano forms and the reason why it erupts, sending out the flowing red hot lava.

★ ★ ★

Joan Griffin of Flitchburg, Mass., wins $10 for this question. Mail your question on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of The Review. If duplicate questions are received, Ⓐ Newsfeatures will select the winner.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Youth Control Begins In The Crib

Many of you parents of teenagers don't have much control over these children, even in the few ways you feel you should. When you read and hear experts urging you to stiffen up and say No more often and mean it, you may feel a bit guilty for not taking their advice. Yet when you try to take this advice, it does not work. You are greatly puzzled because some of the counselors who are urging you to require obedience of your teenagers now, advised more permissiveness when these youths were mere toddlers. They warned you not to restrain them lest you hamper their expression and impair their personality.

Dr. Garry Meyers

NATURALLY YOU ask yourself, "What can I do now?"

You have far more resources for control than you think. Carefully take stock of these resources. Accept some of your limitations of control of these children, and of the requirements you know you can't enforce. Consider the rich possibilities of winning their co-operation.

These include working on yourself to be a more poised and gracious person. You need to gain more skill at building on the strengths and good qualities and ways in these children. Thus you will prove to them your understanding of them as persons. You yourself will be nicer to live with, too.

If you have much younger children, ways of managing and guiding them now should be considered between parents. If you have a youngster under five or six, be sure he learns the unambiguous meaning of No, while he enjoys the freedoms he is ready to enjoy.

OUT OF YOUR experiences, suggest to your friends who have small children to discipline, that they start training them now. This will insure better obedience in their teens.

Wise parents begin at the crib to control their adolescent children well. And they don't relax too fast in home discipline as these youngsters gradually grow from infancy through childhood.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed", may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

West Virginia Liquor Prices To Be Boosted

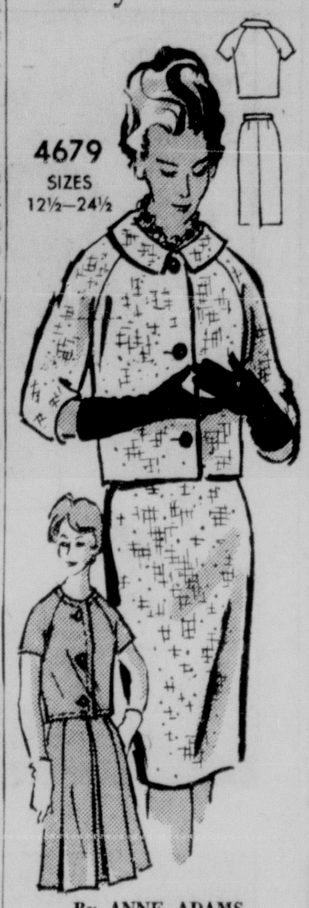

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The price on most items sold at State Liquor Control Commission stores will be increased five cents on the bottle, effective Thursday.

Commissioner Clarence Elmore said there would be a few exceptions in the case of high-price wines.

Elmore said the increase, the first under his administration, was made necessary by declining revenues. He said that based on last year's sales the state will gross $644,317 additional revenue from the five cent increase.

Elmore added there also had been an increase to the commission in the price of California wines, amounting to 35 cents on the case.

Boy Scout Troop 74 Camps Over Weekend

Boy Scout Troop 74 held a camping trip Saturday and Sunday at Arnold's Cabin at Camp McKinley near Lisbon.

Twenty - two scouts attended, along with Phillip Garey, scoutmaster; Charles Bowers, assistant, and Keith Cunningham, institutional representative. The boys prepared their meals.

Cub Scout Pack 78 from Westgate School visited the troop Saturday afternoon and joined in a hike.

Use those trimmings leftover when you've made a pie or two, to concoct some small tart shells. Fill the shells with fruit preserves.

Scouts Give PTA Event

Skits were presented by Girl Scout Intermediate Troop, Boy Scout Troop 43 and Den 5 of the Cub Scout Pack.

Badges were awarded Billy Davis, Bobby Olmstead, David Lawton, Bucky Alford, Billy Tittle and Tommy Baughman. An Eagle Scout award will be presented Feb. 8 to Gary Hillyer.

Mrs. Jean Gibbs sang two selections, accompanied by Mrs. Norma Conkle.

Mrs. James Massey reported on the City PTA Federation, and Mrs. Ruth Armstrong reported a typewriter has been obtained for Grades 1 and 2.

Mrs. Rachel Delaney, membership chairman, reported. Mrs. Gail Merriman, president of the Mothers Club, said the club has formed a chorus with Mrs. Gibbs as director. The club will meet Feb. 14.

Plans for the annual carnival April 6 were announced by the Executive Board. Don Schussler, president, was in charge. Gary Hillyer led devotions.

Junior Editors Quiz on VOLCANOES

QUESTION: When was the last volcanic eruption in the United States?

ANSWER: The last volcanic eruption in the United States occurred in Katmai National Park Alaska in August 1960. This national park is located in a region of volcanoes, appropriately named the Valley of Ten Thousand Smokes. It is considered a part of the Circum-Pacific system, often referred to as "The Circle of Fire."

In 1960, Mount Martin and Mount Triden erupted, spreading volcanic ash over an area of 50 square miles. The smoke billowed up from 30,000 to 40,000 feet and for a short time blotted out the sun completely in Kodiak, 100 miles away.

The park was the scene of another eruption. This was in 1912, when Alaska was not yet a state. During this violent eruption, about six cubic miles of rock were hurled upward from Mount Katmai and nearly all plant life on the Peninsula was destroyed.

The word "volcano" comes from "Volcanus", the name of the Roman God of Fire. Volcanoes have caused many of the world's greatest disasters, including the death of over 36,000 people at Krakatoa, between Java and Samatra, in 1883. Fortunately, all the volcanoes except one in continental United States are now considered extinct—that is, they probably will never flow again. The exception is Mount Lassen in northeastern California, an intermittent volcano—which will erupt at fairly regular cycles.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Youth Control Begins In The Crib

Many of you parents of teenagers don't have much control over these children, even in the few ways you feel you should. When you read and hear experts urging you to stiffen up and say No more often and mean it, you may feel a bit guilty for not taking their advice. Yet when you try to take this advice, it does not work. You are greatly puzzled because some of the counselors who are urging you to require obedience of your teenagers now, advised more permissiveness when these youths were mere toddlers. They warned you not to restrain them lest you hamper their expression and impair their personality.

Dr. Garry Meyers

NATURALLY YOU ask yourself, "What can I do now?"

You have far more resources for control than you think. Carefully take stock of these resources. Accept some of your limitations of control of these children, and of the requirements you know you can't enforce. Consider the rich possibilities of winning their co-operation.

These include working on yourself to be a more poised and gracious person. You need to gain more skill at building on the strengths and good qualities and ways in these children. Thus you will prove to them your understanding of them as persons. You yourself will be nicer to live with, too.

If you have much younger children, ways of managing and guiding them now should be considered between parents. If you have a youngster under five or six, be sure he learns the unambiguous meaning of No, while he enjoys the freedoms he is ready to enjoy.

OUT OF YOUR experiences, suggest to your friends who have small children to discipline, that they start training them now. This will insure better obedience in their teens.

Wise parents begin at the crib to control their adolescent children well. And they don't relax too fast in home discipline as these youngsters gradually grow from infancy through childhood.

My bulletins, "How to Teach Child Meaning of No" and "How Juvenile Delinquency Can Be Curbed", may be had by sending a self - addressed stamped envelope to me in care of The Review.

West Virginia Liquor Prices To Be Boosted

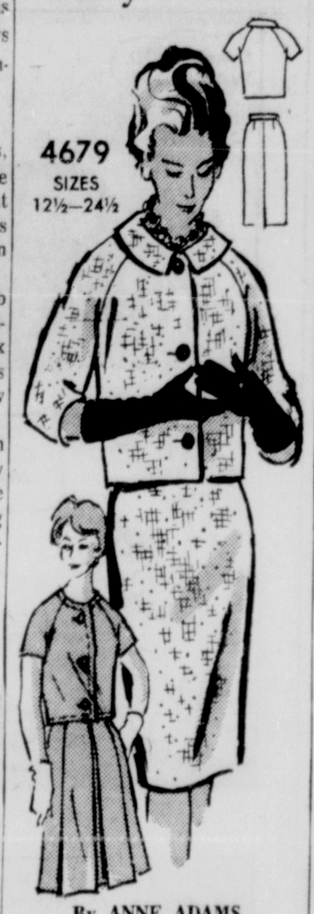

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — The price on most items sold at State Liquor Control Commission stores will be increased five cents on the bottle, effective Thursday.

Commissioner Clarence Elmore said there would be a few exceptions in the case of high-price wines.

Elmore said the increase, the first under his administration, was made necessary by declining revenues. He said that based on last year's sales the state will gross $644,317 additional revenue from the five cent increase.

Elmore added there also had been an increase to the commission in the price of California wines, amounting to 35 cents on the case.
